Station Wagon A Ruse?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Angela Davis' 1959 station wagon may have been placed in front of a Black Panther home here in an elaborate ruse to throw authorities off her trail, a police official said today.

The discovery of the dusty Rambler Tuesday night culminated in an intensive but unsuccessful search by 50 officers and FBI agents in the immediate area for the black militant.

The car, identified in a nationwide all-points bulletin when Miss Davis was first sought in connection with a San Rafael, Calif. courtroom shootout that left four dead, was found in front of the home of Franklin D. Alexander, 29. Alexander, a Black Panther, is president of the Communist Che-Lumumba Club of which Miss Davis is a member.

SPECULATION

The discovery of the car touched off speculation that Miss Davis might have returned to Los Angeles. She was reported in her home town of Birmingham, Ala., last weekend.

The car was initially considered a prime link to Miss Davis because Alabama authorities cited unconfirmed reports that she was seen driving a "blue Rambler station wagon." But officers in Alabama were unable to substantiate the tip from an informant.

The finding of the car and reports from witnesses the same day they had seen Miss Davis at Los Angeles International Airport intensified police investigations here into her whereabouts.

DIFFERENT CLOTHING

However, the police official said investigators discounted the reported sightings of the woman because all of the witnesses said the woman in question was wearing different clothing.

"The so-called sightings appear contrived, probably to take the heat off the search of the southern U.S. from where she may pull out of the country," the official said.

Alexander appeared at a news conference and scoffed at the police bulletin on Miss Davis' car, saying she "left it here...because the damn thing doesn't run.

Alexander also said he would talk with authorities who want to question him, but in the presence of his attorney.

Assistant State Attorney General Albert W. Harris Jr. said earlier he was looking for Alexander because he once possessed a gun purchased by Miss Davis that was used in the courtoom shootout.

Bruce Stays Away From Paris Talks; A Wait-See Game

Brief Statement Avoids Use Of Word 'Boycott' Of Discussions

PARIS (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce today stayed away from the 80th session of the deadlocked talks on the Vietnam War. A brief statement avoided the word boycott but said the United States was awaiting a change in the Communist attitude.

North Vietnam's chief negotiator, Xuan Thuy, has boycotted the talks for the past 10 months.

Philip C. Habib, Bruce's deputy, delivered the shortest U.S. statement to date in the negotiations, saying that the talks "should be conducted in a genuinely conciliatory atmosphere and without demands for obviously unacceptable preconditions."

Habib announced that Bruce would not attend shortly before the session started.

"Ambassador Bruce will be working in his office all day," Habib told newsmen. A U.S. spokesman said the American delegation was "not going to interpret" Bruce's absence but Habib made it clear Bruce was not staying away because of illness.

Asked if Bruce would attend the session next Thursday, Habib said: "No decision has yet been made as to whether he will attend next week's meeting."

Habib declined to say whether Bruce's action was connected with the continuing boycott by the chief negotiators for North Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

"I really don't want to comment about it," Habib replied when asked if there was a connection.

Xuan Thuy left the talks last November when Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge resigned and President Nixon did not immediately name a successor.

Bruce was appointed Lodge's successor earlier this summer and has made two appearances as the chief U.S. negotiator. At the end of last week's session, the North Vietnamese delegation announced that Xuan Thuy was returning to Paris, but no date was mentioned.

Habib's official statement, submitted at the session today, covered only half of a typewritten page and was the shortest since the talks began 19 months ago.

It called for genuine negotiations by the Communists and added:

"We are fully prepared to proceed on this basis. We continue to look to your side for a similar attitude toward these meetings."

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong reiterated previous statements at the meeting today. They demanded total, rapid and unconditional withdrawal of all American troops from Vietnam and the removal of the existing South Vietnamese government.

The meeting today lasted two hours and 58 minutes—shortest to date. The shortest previous session was the one last week

Israel Asks Jarring To Begin Peace Talks

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel indicated today its apparent satisfaction with the U. S. reply to its charges of Egyptian cease-fire violations by signaling it is ready to start peace talks with the Arab states.

Diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said Israel formally asked U. N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring to begin talks at the foreign minister level and at a site other than New York.

The Israeli ambassador to the U. N., Joseph Tekoah, submitted the requests from Foreign Minister Abba Eban to Jarring at a meeting in New York Wednesday night.

Israeli sources said the government was pleased by what it considered Washington's "partial corroboration" of its charges that Egypt had violated the cease-fire by moving missiles closer to the Suez Canal.

The cease-fire, now in its 13th day, held along the Suez Canal.

But an Israeli spokesman said two Israeli soldiers were killed and four wounded in a battle with Arab guerrillas in the Mt. Hermon area of the upper Galilee Wednesday night. He said the guerrillas attacked an Israeli position under cover of a mortar barrage laid down from the slopes of the mountain. The spokesman also reported two separate mortar attacks on Israeli border settlements from Jordan during the night.

The Tel Aviv spokesman said Israeli warplanes attacked Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan for 90 minutes in retaliation for the rocket and mortar attacks. It was the fourth air raid inside Jordan since the cease-fire.

The start of the negotiations toward a political settlement in the Middle East had been held up by the controversy over alleged cease-fire violations by Egypt.

The sources said Israel would appoint its representative to the talks as soon as Jarring replies to its views.

Egypt and Jordan, the other parties to the negotiations, favor beginning the talks in New York.

The diplomatic sources said Israel suggested the talks begin in a Mediterranean or European capital where both sides would have shorter lines of communication to their governments. They said Israel suggested that a more quiet atmosphere would be available if the talks were not in New York.

Tekoah told Jarring that Israel felt the talks should be held at foreign minister level to show serious intent and lend greater weight to the deliberations, the sources said.

They said Jarring had asked Eban Aug. 12 for his views on where and at what level the talks should be held, but Israel waited to get U. S. comment on the alleged cease-fire violations.

Israel was pleased with what it considered Washington's "partial corrobration" of the charges and is now ready to proceed, diplomatic sources in Tel Aviv said today.

Four Cited For Alleged Deer Hunting

The district director of the U.S. Immigration Service, a retired San Rafael physician and two others have been cited for allegedly hunting white deer on Point Reyes National Seashore lands.

Scheduled to appear in West Marin Justice Court Sept. 2 are Cecil W. Fullilove, 51, of 1 Las Cuesta Drive, Greenbrae, director of the San Francisco immigration office; Dr. Millard R. Ottinger, 77, of 1 Edward Court, San Rafael; Douglas G. Adams, 26, of 120 Wimbledon Way, San Rafael, Point Reyes Station realty broker, and James R. Aman, 31, of Point Reyes Station, a truck driver.

Dr. Ottinger recently sold 1,970 acres in seashore land holdings to the federal government for $1.6 million.

According to Stella Phillipscheck, clerk of the justice court, the four were cited Sunday by park ranger Olson E. Inman after three of the group were seen carrying rifles on Inverness Ridge and moving toward a group of white Fallow deer, a European species introduced to the seashore by a local rancher in the 1940s.

Dr. Ottinger remained in a jeep while Fullilove and the two others stalked the deer from two sides, according to the report. Onlookers, spotting the hunters, shouted, scaring the deer.

The four were cited under a state fish and game statute that prohibits carrying weapons on lands closed to hunting.

North Viets Capture Key Cambodian Village

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—A force of 1,000 North Vietnamese captured the village of Preak Tameak nine miles north of Phnom Penh today in the heaviest assault of the war on the capital's outer defenses. Field reports said Cambodian troops were battling the Communists "face to face."

An official Cambodian spokesman said casualties were heavy on both sides but gave no figures.

Preak Tameak is on the east bank of the Mekong River. The outskirts of Phnom Penh lie on the other side of the 400-yard-wide river within range of Communist mortars and rockets.

No U. S. ground forces were involved in the Preak Tameak campaign but Saigon communiques today reported that six Americans were killed in the crash of a helicopter in South Vietnam as well as continued combat between U. S. and North Vietnamese forces near Artillery Base Barnett near the Laotian border.

Spokesmen reported 25 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong slain in a fight just west of Barnett in South Vietnam's northwest corner.

Phnom Penh communiques said the North Vietnamese troops stormed into Preak Tameak before dawn today and were in control of the village by afternoon.

This gave the Communists control of the Mekong River in that area and traffic there stopped.

The 52nd Battalion of the Cambodian Army took up a blocking position to foil any further Communist advance but the Cambodians were backed up against the river by North Vietnamese units pushing in from three sides.

Cambodian Air Force pilots began attacking Communist positions in the Preak Tameak area this morning but all fire stopped about noon.

The Cambodians were being supplied by South Vietnamese gunboats moving up the flooded Mekong.

Although the fighting was only nine miles from Phnom Penh, here it was as if nothing were happening. Heavy monsoon rain and wind shut out the sound of battle from the capital and there was no change in the relaxed way of life here.

The fighting broke a 10 day lull in Cambodian ground action, a spokesman said.

Riles, Rafferty Set Public Debate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dr. Max Rafferty and Dr. Wilson Riles have agreed to publicly debate the issue in their race for the post of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, a Democratic group announced today.

The two, who will face each other on the November ballot, have signed a formal agreement to appear at Hillsdale High school in San Mateo on Sept. 8, according ti Dr. Urban Whitaker, the president of the Peninsula Democratic Forum, who said he will be moderator.

Each candidate will give a 20-minute opening statement and have ten minutes for rebuttal. The public is invited to the meeting, and the candidates will answer questions after the debate.

Nixon Off To Mexico For 28-Hour Resort Conference

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon left today for a 28-hour visit to the Mexican resort of Puerto Vallarta and talks with President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz on such problems as a wandering border and illegal drug traffic.

The trip afforded the President and Mrs. Nixon an opportunity to visit the country where they honeymooned 30 years ago. They will stay in a pastel villa overlooking the Pacific and picturesque Vallarta Bay which normally is occupied by a furniture dealer from Santa Barbara, Calif.

Several cabinet officers accompanied the President, including Attorney General John N. Mitchell, who coordinates the American part of the joint efforts to stem the flow of heroin and marijuana from Mexico.

The trip was the 19th visit of an American president to Mexico since William Howard Taft journeyed to Ciudad Juarez in 1909 for a meeting with Porfirio Diaz.

The White House said the talks would be a continuation of those begun when Nixon and Diaz Ordaz met Sept. 8 at the Amistad Dam on the border. Two working sessions between the American and Mexican delegations were expected to focus on the territorial differences caused by the shifting Rio Grande, and on Operation Cooperation, the joint effort to halt drug smuggling.

Trade and immigration and a new agreement on dividing the waters of the Colorado River also were expected to figure in the talks.

The shifting Rio Grande has been a continuing source of territorial disputes between the United States and Mexico and the two leaders were expected to seek a method for more permanently demarcating the border.

Mexico formerly was credited with being the source for approximately 80 per cent of all marijuana smoked in the United States and the route for about 20 per cent of the 2.5 to 3

TURMOIL FOLLOWS RALLY — A San Francisco Police Department Tactical Squad officer uses a demonstrator's long hair to advantage as he holds the dissident by the hair with one hand and uses the other hand to direct his club. The protester was one of 10 arrested following yesterday's rally outside the Hall of Justice where the Los Siete trail is being held. The group broke into small units for sporadic rioting.

Skirmishes Follow Los Siete Rally

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Attorney Charles Garry, addressing a rally backing a client charged with killing a policeman, declared Tuesday that fugitive Angela Davis is "one of the most beautiful people I know."

Garry was speaking at a Civic Center demonstration called in behalf of "Los Siete," six youths with Spanish surnames who are charged with killing a San Francisco patrolman, and the "Soledad Brothers," three Negroes charged with killing a white prison guard.

Garry, a defense lawyer in the "Los Siete" trial which is now in court, was commenting on Miss Davis, a black militant Communist who is charged with murder in the death of a judge during an unsuccessful attempt by three Negro convicts from San Quentin prison to escape from a courtroom at nearby San Rafael.

Watched closely by police, the 500 demonstrators left the rally and marched across Market Street to the Hall of Justice where the "Los Siete" trial is being heard.

From there demonstrators moved to the financial district before finally being split into small groups by police at Market and Stockton streets.

Two store windows were broken and 10 persons were arrested. Although clubs were swung by police and there were brief skirmishes, there was no serious injury.

Translation and interpretation figured in the "Los Siete" trial proceedings at the Hall of Justice. Prosecution witness Alejandro Garcia Diaz said he heard a defendant shout, "Vamonos de aqui. Yo creo que lo mataste" after patrolman Joseps Brodnik was shot and killed May 1, 1969, on a Noe Valley street.

Diaz, a longshoreman who lives nearby, translated that to mean: "Let's get out of here. I think you killed him" and prosecution lawyers made it clear to jurors Diaz believed the defendant was referring to Mario Martinez, another of the defendants.

However, in cross examination, Garry attempted to show that the defendant meant that Brodnik had been killed accidentally by his partner, Paul McGoran, who had been beaten and knocked down.

Draft Board Fire Draws FBI Probe

REISTERSTOWN, Md. (UPI)—A fire broke out early today at the draft board offices here bringing FBI and Selective Service agents to the scene to investigate the possibility of arson.

Isitial reports indicated that damage was done to some draft records at the offices located in the Masonic Temple building in this community just north of Baltimore.

The blaze was discovered about 3 a.m. and quickly brought under control by Baltimore county firemen.

Authorities said they were looking for a car with Washington, D.C., license plates seen leaving the area. Police said the vehicle had either two or three young male occupants.

Teaching Firing Suits Rejected

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Superior Court judge rejected suits Wednesday by two San Francisco State College teachers who said they were fired because they supported a teachers' strike.

Judge Robert W. Merrill held that the pair had not exhausted the college's grievance procedures.

The two who filed the suit are Nathan Hare, former director of a black studies program, and William Stanton, a former economics professor.

Camper Bus Blast Kills Six Persons

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—An explosion and searing fire inside a family-type camping vehicle speeding along Interstate 10 Wednesday killed three teen-agers, a baby and two adults and critically injured four other persons.

The California Highway Patrol said fumes from a butane gas tank used to fuel a stove and refrigerator aboard the converted school bus may have ignited. The force of the explosion blew out all the windows of the vehicle.

A witness said the bus seemed to explode in a ball of flames. A highway patrol officer, one of the first on the scene, said it was a "blazing inferno that reduced the bus to a charred hulk."

The three teen-agers and the baby burned to death inside the bus where they apparently were trapped. A motorcycle strapped to the back of the vehicle blocked the emergency exit. The other two victims died in hospitals. The four survivors were reported in extremely cirtical condition with burns over 60 to 70 per cent of their bodies.

Myron Davis, 50, of El Paso, Tex. was identified as the driver of the bus. He was taken to Desert Hospital. His wife, Dorothy, 49, died at the hospital. Their children, Jusila, 14, and Edna, 13, were killed in the fire and Mike, 15 and Patricia, 14, were in extremely critical condition.

Mrs. Davis' cousin, Barbara Scott, 36, of Toledo, Ohio was also in critical condition. Her children, Jimmy, 15, and Jomo, 19-months, were killed. A man believed to be Mrs. Scott's father, Clifford Tandy, 61, of Toledo, died from burns.

Firemen Prevent Violent Reaction

FRESNO (UPI) — Firemen worked quickly Tuesday to avert a potential "violent reaction" between hydrochloric and sulphuric acid when a large storage tank ruptured at a plant here.

Wearing oxygen masks and wet handkerchief over their mouths, firemen built a dike with soda ash sacks around the leaking tank and kept the hydrochloric acid from mixing with the sulphuric acid.

During the 90 minute ordeal, firemen were driven from the scene three times when winds shifted and blew the corrosive acid in their direction.

Policeman Is Fatally Shot In Berkeley

BERKELEY (UPI) — A policeman was shot and killed by a bystander today while talking with a motorcycle driver who had made an illegal U-turn.

Police headquarters identified the victim as Ronald T. Tsukamoto, 28, who had been with the department since Oct. 1, 1969.

The cyclist was not identified but a police spokesman said he leaned into the policeman's patrol car and used the radio to call for help immediately after the shooting.

A police spokesman said the officer stopped the cyclist to explain that the U-turn was illegal but had said he did not intend to issue a citation.

While that conversation was in progress, a man walked up to the pair, pulled a pistol and fired. The victim, shot over the right eye, was taken to Herrick Hospital where he died.

The incident, shortly before 1 a.m., happened at University and Jefferson avenues.

Police described the gunman as a male Negro and said he fled in a 1959 automobile.

'Forgotten Man' Banquet Planned

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—The choice is a tough one: Pay $100 to dine with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and hear his speech, or sit in a parking lot and eat a hamburger for 50 cents while listening to a replay.

The 50-cents-a-plate "Forgotten Man Banquet" will be held by several Republican legislative candidates Sept. 23 as a follow-up to the $100 affair the previous night.

Tropical Storm

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI) — Tropical storm Dorothy bore down on the French Caribbean island of Martinique today with winds up to 70 miles per hour.

Dorothy, fourth tropical storm of the year, was expected to pass over Martinique about noon, slamming the island and nearby Dominica, Desirade and Guadaloupe with full force.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Status Undecided

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal judge has reserved decision on a West Point cadet's request to be discharged from the service as a conscientious objector.

At the same time, U.S. District Court Judge Marvin E. Frankel ordered the Army Wednesday not to take any action against Cary Donham, 20, until he reaches his decision.

Donham, a senior from New Baden, Ill., has contended he objects to war for religious reasons. He is the first cadet in West Point history to request conscientious objector status.

The Army ruled July 22 Donham lacks the "depth of sincerity" for the status. Donham sued.

Student Backlash?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General John N. Mitchell says massive student support could hurt political candidates this fall because the public would associate the young campaign workers with protesters and dissidents.

Mitchell said the public dissatisfaction with demonstrating and picketing will be reflected in this fall's elections.

"If all these kids come off the campuses and campaign for candidate X, it might urge people to vote for the other candidate," Mitchell said during a luncheon for reporters in his office Wednesday.

Mitchell said the backlash against student workers would come into play even if they did not use protest tactics. He said "just an identification" with students who had participated in such activities would be enough.

Nerve Gas Checks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy may not have to wait until October to determine the exact location of the scuttled nerve gas ship as previously thought, it was learned today.

Although a triangulation process for locating the ship failed, the Navy may have determined the ship's position within a mile by using satellites.

A source aboard the USS Hartley, a destroyer that accompanied the nerve gas shipment to its Atlantic burial 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla., said the location would be learned as soon as data received from a satellite is studied. He said the satellite tracking is accurate to one-tenth of a mile.

More Rioting

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Rock-throwing and fire-bombing incidents broke out for the second consecutive night Wednesday, and Broward County sheriff's deputies blocked off one street and called in the Florida Highway Patrol's riot control vehicle.

Police said two young black men were admitted to Broward General Hospital with gunshot wounds. Their condition was listed as "not serious." There was no immediate report on how they were wounded.

Crowds of young blacks were reported throwing rocks and firebombs at cars early in the evening, but the trouble appeared to taper off after midnight. Police dispersed the crowds and arrested at least five persons.

Dove Scores Upset Win In Primary Bid

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—The Rev. Joseph D. Duffey, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action and a vigorous opponent of President Nixon's Vietnam policy, won an upset victory Wednesday in the Democratic Senate primary.

Duffey, a minister in the Church of Christ, outpolled Stamford millionaire Alphonsus J. Donahue, the party's endorsed candidate and state Sen. Edward L. Marcus of New Haven, in the state's first Democratic primary.

The final vote in the state's 169 towns gave Duffey 79,355 votes; Donahue 67,259; and Marcus 36,955—reflecting a statewide turnout of between 33 and 34 per cent.

Duffey, 38, said the key to his victory was "a very direct appeal to the people." He was helped by a large voter turnout in Hartford and by the candidacy of Marcus, who Donahue said hurt him by siphoning off votes.

Both of the losers said they would support Duffey in the November general election when Duffey will face Republican Congressman Lowell P. Weicker Jr., and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, who did not seek the Democratic nomination but is running for re-election to his third term as an independent.

New Policy On Duration Of Residency

Cities can have residency requirements for public housing occupancy in their boundaries, but cannot legally specify any duration of residency, according to Phillip S. Ehrlich Jr., chairman of the Marin County Housing Authority.

Several cities in Marin have residency requirements, generally one-year, under the authority's leased housing program; a requirement that has been labeled discriminatory.

RECENT RULING

Ehrlich told authority directors under a recent court ruling in Rhode Island, it is illegal to attack any duration to the residency requirement.

Commissioners agreed to visit city councils and tell councilmen that the duration requirement by law must be eliminated.

"But it is lawful to have a residency requirement," Ehrlich emphasized.

As to what constituted residency, it was felt that living in a community with intention to remain would be sufficient. Just having mailing address in a city was ruled out.

James H. Kovacs, directing attorney of the Marin Legal Aid Society, conceded that the new ruling doesn't meet the goal of eliminating the residency requirement, but felt it was an improvement over existing residency requirements.

BETTER STANDARDS

Commissioners, concerned about keeping the authority's leased housing units up to the standards of adjacent neighborhoods, urged that landlords be encouraged to paint and fix up the units.

Ehrlich said the reputation of the authority, the continuation of leased housing "and the future of new housing" is determined by "the exterior condition of the units we lease."

A recent spot check tour revealed that most of the leased housing units are well maintained, but there were a few that were below the standards of the neighborhood, Ehrlich reported.

The leased housing program was under fire last April when residents of Santa Venetia complained that debris and garbage were left strewn in the backyard of a leased house.

Directors also agreed that Gerald Hook, part-time inspector of leased housing units, be switched to full-time to beef up the inspection program.

The Marin County Housing Authority also:

Who Owns The Land For Fire Station?

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency is looking into the question of who owns the site specified for a new fire station in Marin City.

When the site was selected it was assumed it was owned by the Marin City Community Services District, but a checking of maps showed the 1.7 acre parcel to be owned by the agency.

Frank Phillips Sr., chairman of the services district board, said there had been an error in the redevelopment agency "not turning the land over to the district."

James O. Quiett, agency chairman, said he believed the site, between the Rosa Building and Drake Avenue, had been deeded to the services district.

Thelma McKinney of 30 Pacheco Street said it was embarrassing to have the funds appropriated for a new fire station "and then not have the land to put it on."

Fire Captain Gary Lee Booker said $94,300 had been appropriated for the station and there was a possibility of losing the funds if they weren't used in six months. Using part of the funds to buy land wouldn't leave enough available for an adequate station, he asserted.

Wallace K. Shepherd, interim executive director, said the agency passed a resolution in 1961 to convey the property to the community services district at cost but under a 1965 law, the agency is required to sell it at appraised value.

"I think it's the responsibility of the redevelopment agency to turn it over to the community without fee," said Mrs. McKinney.

Quiett said the matter will be researched by the Department of Housing and Development office in San Francisco.

Shepherd commented: "We had been operating on the assumption that the community services district owned the land."

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency also:

CONSULTANT — Authorized hiring a consultant firm, not yet chosen, at a cost of up to $1,200 a month through October, to develop a revised program for redevelopment in Marin City, required by HUD by Oct. 31.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR — Heard a report from Shepherd that five of a field of 64 applicants had been selected by a screening committee for interviews for the post of executive director of the agency and Marin County Housing Authority. Director Collie Gaines emphasized the need to have a "director who can relate to the people" in the community.

OFFICERS — Reelected Quiett chairman and elected Richard S. Harding as vice chairman until Jan. 5, 1971.

MEETINGS — Agreed to meet the second Tuesday of each month with the next meeting scheduled at 8 p.m. Sept.. 8 at the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

PAY HIKES — Approved a 5 per cent cost-of-living pay raise for the administrative and clerical staff, retroactive to July 1, a pay hike also approved by the Marin County Housing Authority in July.

CONFERENCES — Authorized Quiett, a staff member and a resident to attend an urban renewal conference in New York City, Sept. 23-25, at a cost of $1,110, and authorized Shepherd to attend an Afro-American Educational Conference at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, at a cost of up to $200, tomorrow and Saturday.

Commissioners Harding and James Mines were absent.

Explosives Sunk Off Delaware Bay

LEONARDO, N. J. (UPI)— Five thousand tons of obsolete explosives were being sunk off the Delaware Bay today, far from a proposed earlier scuttling site that was only a mile from where dead mustard gas was dumped three years ago.

The Navy put 88 miles between the outmoded ammunition and the gas canisters following criticism from public officials, including Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N. J. The new site is about 120 miles southeast of Sandy Hook, roughly due east of Delaware Bay between New Jersey and Delaware.

The Navy admitted that there was still a possibility that the explosives could go off once under water but they added it was their 19th ammo dumping off the Jersey coast since 1964, and that ammunition comes from all over the country to the depot here.

The United States exports about $497 million worth of fruits and vegetables each year.

Cockroach Invasion Charged; Claim Filed

Does a cockroach travel from one home to another?

Marin County Housing Authority directors pondered that problem last night when they received a claim for $27.50 for fumigation of a Santa Venetia home.

Mrs. Sidney Alexander of 860 Estancia Way filed the claim contending that cockroaches from a neighboring leased housing unit got into her kitchen and she had to have it fumigated.

Director Vera L. Schultz said that Mrs. Alexander had been a housekeeper for years and never had cockroaches before, and she felt the authority should pay the claim. "Our reputation as a housing authority needs to be redeemed," she said.

Neil B. Little, manager of the leased housing program, said he had opinions of two exterminators that cockroaches probably wouldn't move from one house to another.

A motion to pay the $27.50 ended in a 2-2 deadlock with Mrs. Schultz and James G. McDonald voting yes and Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. and Arthur Miller voting no.

Director Norman B. Campbell was absent.

Corn Blight May Raise Food Prices

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Its technical name is "helminthosporium maydis."

Most farmers can't pronounce it, but they know it when they see it—wilted leaves that give a brown tinge to green fields of corn.

Supermarket managers can't pronounce it either. They'll explain to angry housewives at some later date that some higher food prices were caused by the "southern corn leaf blight."

This blight has attacked the nation's corn crop from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border. Early estimates are that as much as 10 per cent of the current $5 billion corn crop has been ruined.

"My whole crop has been affected," said Pete Deas, who planted 150 acres of corn at Jasper, Fla.

Chesley Rehberg, 47, of Bradfordville, Fla., who rents a 125-acre farm, predicted the blight would be disastrous to many small farmers.

"They're going to quit, the small farmers that are renting land. They're going to be for hire next year," he said.

Kennedy Fears Excess Spending In Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration has abandoned hope of keeping the current federal budget deficit down to the officially projected $1.3 billion, Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said today.

Treasury officials declined to speculate on how much federal spending would exceed revenue, but they emphasized that actions by Congress on appropriation bills on the administration's request for more than $3 billion in additional tax revenue would be crucial.

But Kennedy clearly acknowledged in a speech prepared for delivery in Salt Lake City that the deficit would exceed the $1.3 billion level originally estimated by the administration. The text of Kennedy's speech was made public by his Washington office.

The Washington Post, quoting high administration officials, said today President Nixon had been informed that the deficit for the fiscal year which ends next June 30 probably would hit $10 billion and the budget for the fiscal year after that might be in the red between $15 billion and $25 billion.

A different administration official told UPI earlier that a deficit of up to $10 billion this fiscal year would be acceptable in light of slumping economic conditions which have reduced federal revenue from corporate and individual income taxes.

The official also said a tax increase during a business slump would be foolish.

In a prepared speech for a joint meeting of Salt Lake City civic groups, Kennedy said the administration was determined to keep a tight rein on government spending.

He recalled the administration officially estimated last May 19 that the budget for this fiscal year would show a deficit and added:

"The evidence since that forecast was made in May indicates that the deficit will be larger than the $1.3 billion indicated at that time.

"But we cannot permit the budget again to become so unbalanced as to rekindle the inflationary pressures that only recently have died down."

The government ran a $25.1 billion deficit, largest since World War II, in the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1968. The deficit for the two previous fiscal years were $8.7 billion and $3.8 billion.

The fiscal year that ended June 30, 1969--almost equally divided between the Johnson and Nixon administrations—showed a surplus of $3.2 billion, the first black ink balance in nine years.

The fiscal year that ended last June 30 recorded a deficit of $2.9 billion.

Nixon has asked Congress for a $1.6 billion annual tax on the lead used in gasoline and for acceleration of gift and inheritance tax payments to yield a one-time windfall of $1.5 billion this fiscal year.

The House Ways and Means Committee has scheduled hearings on the bills beginning Sept. 9. The official deficit estimate assumes approval of the two revenue measures.

Court Shown How Rivas Loaded Gun

The click of a gun mechanism sounded loud in Marin Superior Court this morning, as Ronald Rivas demonstrated how he took his brother's gun out of a dresser drawer, loaded it, took off the safety and cocked it before confronting his father on the night of July 17, 1969.

Rivas, 21, is on trial on a charge of murdering his father, Fidel I. Rivas, in the family home at 59 Raposa Vista, Novato.

Rivas was under intense cross examination today by Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Michael Anthony.

Following young Rivas's testimony yesterday that he acted after seeing his father slap his mother, Anthony today led the youth through his thoughts at the time of the shooting.

"Did you ever consider that the gun (which belonged to a brother, Lonnie, and was left for safekeeping at the house) might be useful to you if your father might go wild in the house?" Anthony asked.

"I can't say I did," Rivas replied.

After Anthony asked Rivas to repeat his motions in loading the gun, Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating hadned him the unloaded weapon. With little hesitation, Rivas loaded it with an imaginary clip, snapped down the safety and pulled back the slide to load and cock the .22 caliber pistol.

He said he had never shot a gun before that night, but had watched his brother use it in deer hunts.

"Isn't it a fact that you were intending to use that gun?" Anthony bored in about the fatal night.

"I don't know — I knew I wanted to protect my mother," Rivas answered.

"I was afraid of what my father might do. He had a loaded pistol and that rifle," Rivas added.

Anthony is expected to finish cross-examining Rivas this morning or early this afternoon, and the defense is planning to present psychiatric testimony.

The case is being heard without a jury, by Judge Keating.

Camera Equipment, Stereo Tapes Stolen

Camera equipment and stereo tapes valued at a total of $180 were taken between 8 and 11 p.m. Tuesday from an automobile parked at the Elk's Club, 1312 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, police reported yesterday.

Police said the auto was owned by Peter W. Andersen of 78 Longwood Drive, San Anselmo.

Candy Sales Leader Held On Eight Counts

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Fritz Thus, whose roving young candy salesmen were reported in San Anselmo twice last month, has been arrested by Oakland police on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and three labor code violations.

Thus, head of Student Opportunity of Lafayette, turned himself in to Oakland police on Monday and was booked on suspicion of two counts of the misdemeanor and two counts each of employing a youth under 16 to peddle, failure to provide employees with statements of earnings and allowing minors to work more than eight hours a day.

He was freed on $2,000 bail to appear in Dept. 7 of the Oakland-Piedmont Judicial District Aug. 25 for plea.

Officer Robert Crawford of the juvenile division said two of Thus's juvenile salesmen were caught in February and Thus was told during a citation hearing to cease sales in Oakland or face criminal charges.

However, two more youths who carried Student Opportunity identification cards were caught Aug. 12 in the Claremont District so the district attorney issued citations for both violations, Crawford said.

He estimated Thus was clearing $8,000 to $12,000 a month from sales by ten crews employing about 50 juveniles, most under 16.

Thus told the Independent-Journal in July that he had only four crews of high school and college students.

One crew was run out of San Anselmo July 27 with a warning not to return after a similar group evaded police in the first week of July.

Thus's travelling teams were ranging from Santa Cruz to Bel-Marin Keys, according to Crawford.

Thus told the I-J he hired supervisors who dropped youngsters off to sell and picked them up afterwards.

He admitted the organization is profit-making, but refused to tell how the $1.35 per box was split.

The Nixons meandered down the Mexican-Pacific Coast to Mexico City on their honeymoon in 1940 and Nixon remarked earlier this year he would like to vacation there again.

Although this with has not been fulfilled, the Nixons will have an evening to do as they please in the seaport town that formerly was a sleepy fishing village and now is a bustling resort of some 10,000 persons, many of them Americans.

Puerto Vallarta was popularized when Hollywood decided to film "Night of the Iguana" there and its star, Richard Burton, and his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, bought a home and made it a regular vacation retreat.

The Nixons will fly to the Western White House at San Clemente, Calif., Friday afternoon for a 15-day working visit which will end Labor Day weekend.

"Mr. Bruce did not participate in today's meeting, and Mr. Habib contented himself with repeating the same things we have heard from the Americans before," the Hanoi man said. He said a session was scheduled for next week.

Only Garbage Man In Know

In a recent case, a neighbor tipped off the police that the Roches, the couple next door, were smoking "pot." At the Roches' home the police checked their garbage can, found some ashes and traces of vegetable matter. Soon afterward they saw the Roches come home. They knocked, got no answer, broke the door down, and arrested Mr. and Mrs. Roche. The police found more marijuana in their house.

The Roches were brought to trial for possessing the drug. Since the police had no warrant or legal "cause" for their search, their lawyer argued, the evidence could not be admitted in court.

The judge agreed. The Constitution's Fourth Amendment protects one's home, and now one's garbage can, from arbitrary search and seizures by the state. Or failing that, the courts may not hear evidence growing out of such an unlawful search.

Castoff clothing, letters, medicine bottles, or other telltale refuse are not open to examination — at least, not until it becomes part of the trash elsewhere.

Why were the Roches freed by this "constitutional technicality?"

Our Constitution's drafters well knew of such things as the Star Chamber, arbitrary arrests, an unreasonable searches, and wanted none of it in the new nation.

If there is "probable cause," police may make a search without a warrant. Here are examples of "probable cause:" If a policeman sees or hears illegal or unusual acts through a window that call for investigation; if he is in hot pursuit of a criminal; if he receives information from a reliable informant of illegal acts; or if he makes any search in connection with a lawful arrest. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

Tracy Sees Vote Drive Demo Aid

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, said Wednesday a massive volunteer voter registration drive could help Democrats more than Republicans but expressed confidence the plan would not hurt GOP candidates.

The drive is being conducted by the 26,000 combined members of the League of Women Voters and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The goal is to increase the number of registered voters in California by one million from the present eight million by the Sept. 10 registration deadline.

Ecological Panel Discussion Slated

"Man in Relation to Wilderness" will be the subject of an ecological discussion scheduled for tomorrow's public meeting of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Association at 8 p.m. at the clubhouse, 40 Ridge Road.

Participating in the discussion will be Dr. Sterling Bunnell, Mill Valley psychiatrist and naturalist, and Robert Rydjord, also of Mill Valley, a naturalist and wildlife photographer and cinematographer.

Dr. Chaker Will Lose His License

Former Novato physician Henry Chaker will lose his license to practice medicine Monday, the state attorney general's office said today.

Dr. Chaker had filed a petition for reconsideration by the California Board of Medical Examiners, who revoked his license, which was denied by the board in Los Angeles earlier this week.

Chaker, who practiced in Novato in the mid-1960s, was charged with filing false claims with insurance companies, making falme medical care statements and submitting false billings to the California Physicians Service.

A grand theft charge against Dr. Chaker stemming from his allegedly overcharging county welfare patients was dismissed in Marin Superior Court in 1968 after a jury deadlocked on whether he was guilty.

Chaker's attorney said at the trial that the doctor, a native of Lebanon, was a victim of persecution by the Marin County establishment and that other doctors had taunted him as an Arab.

Safeway Adopts Discount Policy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Safeway stores here announced today a discount-pricing policy starting Aug. 26.

Vice President Louis A. Bianco, manager of Northern California coastal areas, said the policy is being expanded to the entire division, from Crescent City to King City.

"We have just finished the job of reducing prices of thousands of items," Bianco said. "We are eliminating weekend specials, lowering our everyday prices and discountinuing trading stamps in the stores currently distributing stamps."

Chairmen Named

Richard Sloan of Lagunitas and Grace A. Hughes of Mill Valley have been elected chairmen of the Committee for the Peace Initiative, a group working for passage of the resolution on the county ballot in November calling for complete withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Southeast Asia by June 30, 1971.

Caller Seeks Age Of Children

A man claiming to be from the Marin County School District Index Department," has been calling homes in Marin asking for the names, ages and school grades of children for an alleged survey.

Frances Nikas, a Ross housewife, said she received a call from the man at 9:30 a.m. today, but he refused to give his name while badgering her for the information.

Lyle Wright, county schools' coordinator, said he knew of no survey to predict future school enrollment and added there is no index department.

He could give no explanation for the telephone call.

NEW SECURITY PLAN

Judge Realistic In Hostage Views

By MARY LEYDECKER

Although new security measures at the Marin Hall of Justice have made a repeat of the Aug. 7 shootout "pretty remote," a superior court judge said today that if he is ever taken as a hostage, "I would not expect to live through it."

Speaking as a member of a panel on KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," Judge Samuel W. Gardiner said that there "is no sense in giving a reward to persons who take hostages." He added that he is "personally prepared" to take the risk of knowing that as a hostage he would face death.

Other members of the panel discussing "better security in our courtrooms," Warden Louis S. Nelson of San Quentin and a former Marin district attorney, Albert E. Bagshaw, agreed with him.

Warden Nelson said that all San Quentin employees are instructed that if they are taken as hostages they are considered dead, and he feels this policy should be universal.

He added, however, that the first shots fired in the Aug. 7 tragedy in which Judge Harold J. Haley and three others died came from within the van in which convicts held hostages.

His men, he said, were not the first to shoot although they then fired on the van according to their usual instructions.

Judge Gardiner refused to be specific about new security measures at the Hall of Justice, explaining that if they were laid out in detail, they would lose many of the elements of security.

However, he said that a "dozen or 15" new security plans are in effect.

As to the matter of holding trials of San Quentin inmates at the prison, the judge said that he has recently changed his mind on the subject and is "willing to give it a try."

He suggested a trial case in which an appeal would be encouraged so that judges could find out whether appellate courts would rule a fair trial possible in the prison confines.

Warden Nelson said that a trial inside the prison gates but not within the compound would guarantee jurors and others more security because standard prison searches for weapons could be made.

Judge Gardiner strongly added, however, that he felt that the problem of trials of inmates was only a small part of the picture.

"What about Angela Davis, if she is brought to trial?" he asked. "She's not a San Quentin inmate."

Bagshaw agreed with him, mentioning also the Tate murder trial in Los Angeles and the Los Siete case in San Francisco as potentially hazardous.

The judge suggested that each case be dealt with individually, "to ascertain who is a security hazard."

As to the arming of courtroom bailiffs, the judge and Warden Nelson agreed that this probably does not add security to the courtroom.

"It probably makes jurors feel more comfortable, however," Warden Nelson said, "to see a man with a weapon."

Judge Gardiner said that he is leaving the decision up to the sheriff's department whether or not to arm bailiffs. In answer to a question from a listener, Gardiner said he thought it is "up to individual judges" whether they want to arm themselves.

As to reasons for the Aug. 7 tragedy, Bagshaw saw violence and a breakdown in law enforcement caused by appellate court decisions as the principal cause.

What he termed "an excessive regard for criminals' rights" is responsible for "lending encouragement to the criminal element," the former district attorney said.

Judge Gardiner said that "if there is an atmosphere of violence in the community, then we're going to be in trouble all around." He insisted, however, that a forum must be provided in which judicial and legislative matters can be discussed in a rational manner.

Warden Nelson said that he feared that the American people will "choose a police state rather than complete anarchy."

Judge Gardiner concluded the program by saying that prospective jurors called to his courtroom this week showed no fears of serving on a jury.

The panel discussion, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be re-broadcast at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Club Eyes Building A Minipark

The Almonte Improvement Club may build a minipark near its clubhouse at Almonte Boulevard and Wisteria Way if the county approves abandonment of a nearby street.

Secretary Marsha Silberstein reported that club directors were told last night that the county is in the process of abandoning a portion of Lavender Lane and Wisteria Way to adjacent property owner Joseph J. Brezina of 164 Lavender.

Brezina has agreed to grant a full use easement to the club for the property, about 2,000 square feet. The club in return proposes to build a small park and play area for children, Mrs. Silberstein said.

In other business, the board approved sketches for a new bus stop at Almonte Boulevard and Miller Avenue. The stop will replace one destroyed in a traffic accident last week.

Judge To Hold Court At Prison On Monday

Marin Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson will hold court in San Quentin Prison Monday afternoon, on several routine, nonjury matters involving prison inmates.

Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales' office said today the court session is not expected to include arraignment of inmate Ruchell Magee, 31, who is accused of murder in the Aug. 7 shoot-out that cost the lives of Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley and two convicts and an accomplice.

Magee is still in the prison hospital, recovering from serious bullet wounds.

The plan to move routine court matters to the prison is a result of the deadly kidnapping and shoot-out that shocked the Marin County Hall of Justice and raised fears that continued appearances of San Quentin felons in the county Civic Center would add peril to the courts and the public.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Jerry R. Herman said today the legality of actual jury trials in the prison still is being explored.

Unruh Brunch

Assemblyman Jess Unruh, Democratic nominee for governor, will attend a brunch from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Aug. 30 at the Sausalito home of William Stephen Allen, 168 Harrison Avenue. Reservations are being handled by the Marin Democratic Unified Committee, 188 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley.

$146,600 Grant For Headstart

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council has been granted $146,600 by the Office of Child Development for its Headstart program, Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, reported today.

Ninety-five children are to be enrolled in the program, which is to run for 12 months on a part-day basis.

POST OFFICE PROVES TO BE PARTY POOPER

Christmas and private parties have one thing in common: it is apparently necessary to mail very early for them.

Otto H. Schreier of 33 Amicita Avenue, Mill Valley, planned a small party July 17 for friends and business acquaintances and dropped the invitations in the slot at the main branch of the San Rafael Post Office July 12.

One of the invited never made the party and yesterday Schreier learned why. The San Francisco acquaintance called yesterday to say the correctly addressed invitation had just arrived.

Another quest is still awaiting his, Schreier said.

Almost 20 per cent of the animal feed grown in the United States is exported.

Two Sentenced On Misdemeanors

Two Marin residents have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court on misdemeanor offenses involving making false statements of earnings to qualify for unemployment checks.

Laura C Bergquist, 24, of Corte Madera, was placed on one year's probation and ordered to make $52 restitution to the department of human resources for money received in May and June of 1969.

John A. Loane, 37, of Fairfax, was fined $100 and placed on probation for 30 days, as well as ordered to make restitution of $349, on a similar offense.

Youth Rights Worker Resigns Marin Post

Horace White, a youth worker for the Marin County Human Rights Commission, is resigning from the post he has held for three years.

The 22-year-old White, who lives at 59 Cole Drive in Marin City, said he will leave August 31 because he has been drafted.

Sausalito Ferry Expected To Resume Service Tuesday

Ferryboat service between Sausalito and San Francisco should resume on Tuesday, Golden Gate Bridge District officials reported today.

Rebuilding the vessel's starboard diesel should be completed on Saturday, and about two days will be needed to install and check out the engine, according to Donald White, district transit manager.

The engine broke down Monday afternoon on the first day of regular commute runs, only two days after the service started. The engine threw a connecting rod, the flying part narrowly missing an engineer in the engine room.

The engine is being rebuilt in a new block at the Caterpillar Company's Hayward distributor. Only one year old, the engine still was covered by warranty, and the manufacturer is paying the cost of the repair, White said.

The district, however, is paying for the loss of revenue and continuing daily overhead costs. White said he had no estimate of these figures. "I've been too busy getting this engine fixed to even sit down," he said.

Diesel engines normally run four to five years before major overhaul, he said. "It was a fluke," White said.

An American dollar is worth about 118 piasters in South Vietnam.

Alto Refuse Service Is Called Unfair

Mill Valley Refuse Service Inc. is discriminating against Alto residents, directors of the Alto-Sutton Manor District Association were told last night.

Publicity chairman Sara S. Ruffner said that directors were told that Alto residents, who live outside Mill Valley city limits, pay 10 cents a month more for the same service afforded city residents. In addition, she said, city residents have had two free supplemental pickups of garden trimmings and other assorted rubbish this year, while Alto residents have had none.

The board directed that a letter be sent to the Alto Sanitary District, which contracts with the collection form for garbage disposal, asking an explanation for the discrimination, Mrs. Ruffner said.

The board also heard a report that the State Division of Highways has promised to crack down on hitchhikers obstructing traffic at East Blithedale Avenue and Tower Drive.

The association had asked for establishment of a no-stopping zone at the intersection after several residents complained of near collisions with cars stopping for hitchhikers. The highway division said it would ask the California Highway Patrol to patrol the area more frequently.

The association set its next meeting for Sept. 23 at 8 p.m. at the Ruth M. Jenkins residence, 41 Meadow Road.

Inexpensive Solution To Key Air Polluter

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — An inexpensive solution to one of the most dangerous air pollution problems has been developed by a University of California chemical engineer

Prof. Leroy A. Bromley of the Berkeley campus has shown that common sea water can be used to remove 99 per cent of toxic sulfur oxides from smokestack gases.

Sulfur oxides are released primarily through the burning of fuel oil and coal, and generally are blamed for the increase in deaths in the so-called "killer fogs" that have hit urban areas in recent years.

Sulfur oxides also are extremely damaging to plants and propert. Under certain weather conditions, sulphuric acid can be formed from sulfur dioxide.

There is a hitch in Bromley's work, however. The federal and state governments have cut back sharply on smog research funds — forcing a halt to further work by Bromley to test his discovery.

Electric power plants are responsible for more than half of the air polluting sulfur oxides, according to Bromley. He estimated his system would cost about 16 cents for each barrel of fuel burned. The cost could be reduced further, he reported, if the power plant were combined with a sea water conversion facility.

Bromley's system used a five-foot column packed with devices for increasing the amount of contract between the seawater and the smokestack gases, thus converting sulfur dioxide to harmless sulfate.

His 99 per cent removal compared with about 30 per cent removal by the more conventional injection of limestone to absorb sulfur oxides.

The limestone process, however, then produces solid wastes that create another pollution problem, Bromley said. His system apparently would not harm marine life, he reported.

The only change in the sea water was an increase of about 10 per cent in sulfate and a small increase in hydrogen ion. Both are already in sea water, he noted. He added that studies would be needed to verify whether these slight increases could harm marine life.

The current alternative to burning coal and fuel oil is to use natural gas as a source of energy, but gas is expensive and reserves are limited, Bromley noted.

Nuclear power offers a potential long-range solution to the problem of sulfur dioxide, but a special panel of the National Research Council Committee on Air Quality Management has said that unless "the necessary technology becomes available, the country may have to choose between clean air and electricity."

Rights Post Applicants Are Sought

Marin is looking for applicants for the $1,000-per-month job as director of the human rights department.

Maren Rinne, county personnel director, announced that anyone interested should apply to the county personnel office in Room 342 of the Civic Center by Sept. 10.

Each applicant must submit a written statement not to exceed 1,000 words outlining his concept of human rights and its aims, program priorities and how they are established, the results expected from such a program and his concept on administering such a program.

Formal education and/or experience is desirable but not mandatory.

The most qualified applicants will appear before an oral review board for examination. Successful candidates will be put on an eligibility list. From that list, County Administrator Alan Bruce will consult with the human rights commission and recommend up to three candidates to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for final selection.

The previous director, Austin J. Thompson, resigned last June.

Bruce said he hopes a new director can be appointed on or about Oct. 1.

Ross Common Upkeep Session Set Tonight

Ross School District Board and the Ross Town Council are slated for a joint session to discuss the upkeep expenses at Ross Common at Ross School Library at 8 p.m. today.

The district has paid 60 per cent of the expenditures and the city 40 per cent, and a realignment of that percentage is scheduled to be discussed.

The school district board will convene at 7:30 p.m. to handle routine business.

The council will hold a brief meeting at 8 p.m. at Town Hall to set the city tax rate for 1970-71, expected to remain unchanged at $1.72 per $100 assessed valuation, and adopt the 1970-71 budget. Then the council will join the school board at the school.

Investigator Thinks Insults Caused Shots

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—Insults shouted at frustrated lawmen led to fatal shootings of students at both Kent State University and Jackson State (Miss.) College, a member of the President's commission on campus unrest said Wednesday.

Revius Ortique Jr., a Negro and former president of the National Bar Association, made the statement during public hearings held by the commission into the Kent State disorders in which four students were fatally shot May 4.

Ortique said the common element which apparently resulted in authorities firing weapons was insults at close range by students at frustrated and tired law enforcement agents who had reached a breaking point.

"I am of the opinion that at Jackson State, some of the state police got within 30 feet of some black cats that were saying things (the police) had been told for years black cats weren't supposed to say," Ortique said.

"And their reaction was to shoot them," he said. "Here (Kent State) it looks like somebody in the National Guard reacted to a similar-type situation. I am beginning to feel it's the same thing all over again."

"Both were overreactions," he said. "The state troopers were not previously confronted, or rather affronted, by blacks at such close range. And it appears to me that the National Guard at Kent State was just tired of the abuse they were getting."

Ortique's theory was supported, in part, by testimony from Ohio Adjutant General Sylvester Del Corso.

"We can't control the mind of the individual," Del Corso said, explaining the chain of command applied only up to a certain point regarding the use of weapons in riot situations.

"It's conceivable they (the troops) might have been assaulted while in troop formation and fired back and I'm certain that is what happened here," the adjutant general said.

Del Corso's remarks followed his earlier testimony that according to National Guard regulations, troops may fire only under two conditions without a command—to return sniper fire and in self-defense while in formation.

Robert S. Pickett, a former student leader at Kent State and now a law student at the University of Michigan, drew the most favorable reaction of the day from the student-dominated audience of about 400 persons.

Pickett, a founder of the Black United Students at KSU in 1967, received two prolonged ovations, once when he warned social changes must occur or America, as it exists, will die.

"This country is headed for death," said Picket in response to a question from one of the commissioners. "This country is on its deathbed, man, and there ain't no doctors around. The doctors are getting killed at Kent State and Jackson State."

Closed Session Set

Trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District will meet in closed session today at 8 p.m. in Bolinas School to discuss prospective litigation and price negotiation for the acquisition of land, according to Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino.

Bonn-Soviet Pact Wins Endorsement

MOSCOW (UPI)—A conference of seven East European leaders ended this afternoon after five hours of discussion and unanimous endorsement of the recently concluded Soviet West-German treaty, communist sources said.

The meeting of the Warsaw Pact powers was opened by Leonid I. Brezhnev, General Secretary of the Soviet Communist Party, in the Kremlin at 10 a.m. It met continuously with one break for lunch and adjourned at 5 p.m.

The Romanian delegation, led by President Nicolae Ceausescu, was the first to leave Moscow and was followed by several other delegations.

A brief communique is expected tonight.

The conference constituted a plenary session of the party and government leaders of the Soviet Union and its six allies: East Germany, Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania.

Special Attorney Hired—No Case

Larkspur City Council last night hired a special attorney to advise whether the city should sue to establish public assess to the banks of Corte Madera Creek — and then decided against giving him any suit to file.

The attorney, Albert Bianchi, was hired as the result of closed sessions Aug. 5 and last night. City Atty. Robert Elliot had advised the council he could not represent the city in any such action because his private service to creekside property owners would create a conflict of-interest problem.

In the hour-long closed session last night, the council reviewed the public access question, which resembles beach access controversies in Santa Cruz and Mendocino counties.

Two factors have raised the question in Larkspur: an application by John and Estelle Moran for city architectural supervision and variances so they can develop their creekside property, and the request of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tartaul and other pro-conservation spokesmen that the city remember its long-time commitment on the master and land use plans for preservation of open space along the creek banks.

The Morans had consented to delays in their hearing by the planning commission, City Mgr. Kent Bathurst explained, until the city could hire legal advice and set policy on the issue.

Although not formally hired until last night's council session, Bianchi on Aug. 4 gave the planners a five-page letter telling them the paths open to the city on the issue.

Last night, Mrs. Tartaul listed many of the creekside property owners, and asked if Bianchi had represented any of them. Bianchi and Mayor Benton A. Sifford Jr. said no conflict existed.

Sifford instructed Bathurst to prepare a letter for approval by all councilmen, stating in essence that "in the case of dispute the city will accept recorded title (to the land) as valid until the court decides otherwise." Sifford urged that in land use "amenities be preserved" Councilman William G. Fleckles said, "We should encourage private developers to consider public use" of the banks.

Bianchi's letter explained that the Kentfield and Larkspur general plans and the county's plan for Corte Madera Creek recreational use "are recognized as serving only as guides" but "do not have the effect and force of law."

He wrote that the city could authorize iling a lawsuit to determine whether title to a particular area "has passed to the public by means of implied dedication as the result of continued use or otherwise." The council decided not to take such action.

Banchi also wrote, "Likewise, it appears that a member of the public may file such a suit for the same purpose."

Larkspur Tax Rate Announced

Larkspur city councilmen last night set the 1970-71 property tax rate at $1.895 per $100 assessed valuation for landowners within the sanitary service area — 1 cent lower than this year's rate.

The action was taken despite the absence of Councilmen Neil Brixon and Earl J. O'Grady, because the rate must be set by Sept. 1. Councilman William G. Fleckles pointed out the Larkspur budgeting sessions had gone so smoothly that the city was one of the first in Marin County to complete the annual chore. He felt there would be no opposition by the absent councilmen.

The tax rate will be $1.25 for property owners outside the sanitary service area.

The levy will bring the city a total of $506,496 in revenue, assuming all delinquent payments for this year are received, City Mgr. Kent Bathurst explained.

Broken down, the rate remains 90 cents for general fund purposes, 6 cents for parks and recreation — off a cent from this year's, remains 7 cents for storm drainage, drops a cent to 8.5 cents for employees' retirement fund, and rises a cent to 13.5 cents for the library fund. The sanitary service area rate will be 64.5 cents.

East Coast Union Asks Chavez To Organize There

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) — Cesar Chavez, who organized California's migrant grape pickers after a long battle, has been asked to do the same for Puerto Rican laborers who work along the East coast of the United States, a labor union leader said Wednesday.

Peter Hug of Chicago, international representative of the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butchers Union, said he expected an answer from Chavez within the week.

Hugo said his union asked Chavez to lead its campaign to organize an estimated 25,000 Puerto Ricans who travel as migrants to the United States each year to harvest crops grown primarily on truck farms in New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware and other states along the eastern seaboard.

Tomales High Parent, Student Meetings Set

Preschool meetings to inform students of Tomales High School and their parents about school programs, policies and regulations and to deliver students' individual schedules have been set for Monday and Tuesday.

The meeting for freshmen and sophomores and their parents will be held Monday and for juniors and seniors and their parents Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Tomales High School.

Study Could Spread Fame Of Sourdough

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department has decided to spend $49,190 to see if researchers can find a way to bake San Francisco sourdough French bread anywhere in the country.

The povular bread has been baked in the Bay Area for more than a century, and some San Franciscans claim it can't be baked anywhere else because the climate makes it what it is. Others, largely tourists, say it's where the bread is eaten, not what it is, that makes the difference.

Whatever the reason, countless attempts to bake it elsewhere have failed because the starter bacteria, for some unknown cause, will not behave the same as it does in San Francisco.

Agriculture spokesmen said today they have awarded a 2 1-2 year, $49,190 contract to Oregon State University to study bacterial species isolated by department scientists from sourdough bread fermentation.

The new studies, officials said, might make it possible eventually to produce starter cultures which can be packaged and distributed like frozen concentrated dairy starters or bakers' yeast.

"This would simplify processing and also make it possible to produce sourdough French bread on a much wider geographic scale," officials said.

Mercury In Ducks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interior Department says it has found mercury in 26 wild ducks taken as samples in North Dakota and Michigan. Residues of the poisonous element ranged from 0.033 to 2.26 parts per million in breast muscles of the birds.

Larkspur Looks Into Meeting Protection

Larkspur police may be assigned to guard future council meetings.

"I'm not saying this in an alarmist tone," City Councilman William G. Fleckles stressed last night, "but I want to explore some very quiet protection" for the public and city officials at civic meetings.

"Maybe it only involves an officer sitting in back of the council room," Fleckles said. He won council approval that City Mgr. Kent Bathurst ask Police Chief Howard Clark to plan some protection for city meetings.

Fleckles cited the Aug. 7 bloodbath at the Marin County Civic Center which took the life of Superior Court Judge Harold F Haley, and his own experience as a city planning commissioner, when police had to be called to remove a woman after she loosed an emotional outburst at a hearing.

"I'm thinking of Big Brother and all that," Fleckles said, but "there are people walking the streets — they aren't necessarily felons, but they're sick minded."

Mayor Benton A. Sifford Jr. agreed, citing his own recent conversation with a county supervisor and a "former FBI agent" about the perils to the citizens and officials at public meetings nowadays.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

TAMALPAIS — Answered the Tamalpais retirement center's appeal from planning commission refusal to provide architectural supervision for a fence to halt trespassers, by declaring that the center needs only a building permit, and should later submit plans for landscaping the fence.

GASOLINE STATION — When CPD Corp. spokesmen failed to appear for a hearing on planning commission denial of a permit for a station between the Safeway store and the Bon Air bridge, voted 3-0 to deny the appeal.

COUNCIL PAY — Postponed until all councilmen are present, discussion of voting a salary for councilmen, who now receive no pay. Councilmen Earl J. O'Grady and Neil Brixon were absent.

PARKING — Unanimously approved a five-minute parking zone for buses and passenger loading in the Bon Aire shopping center parking lot.

Arms Ruling Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, by an 87 to 2 vote, has turned down a proposal that would have forced governors to get permission from the President before allowing National Guard troops to use loaded weapons during civilian disturbances.

Hearing In Pot Case Is Delayed

Stephen Darryl Coleman, 20, of Corte Madera, will face preliminary hearing Oct. 6 on charges of possession of marijuana and a charge of having brought hashish into jail on July 30.

He was serached in jail after a court appearance resulting from his arrest on pot possession, narcotic paraphernalia and resisting arrest charges by Ross police earlier the same day.

Interceptor Cosmos Tests Revealed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A leading American expert says the Soviet Union in 1968 tested a weapon designed to destroy satellites in orbit.

There have been no known tests since then, he said.

Dr. Charles S. Sheldon III, chief of the Science Policy Research Division of the Library of Congress, said the tipoff to tests of what he called "inspector and destructor satellites" were the flights of Cosmos 248, 249 and 252 in the fall of 1968.

He said Cosmo 248 went into a low earth orbit and later was maneuvered to a higher orbit.

Cosmos 249 was then sent into an eccentric orbit, made a near pass at Cosmos 248 and exploded "in a vast cloud of debris." Cosmos 252 made the same maneuver and exploded.

Sheldon said he doubted the Soviets intended now to try to knock down any American satellites. He said it was possible the flights were merely an experiment that later was dropped.

Sheldon said at a luncheon of the National Space Club that his long study of U.S. and Soviet space programs indicated the United States leads the Soviet Union in development of military uses of spacecraft.

Supervisors Learn A Hard Lesson On Holding Spending

The Board of Supervisors learned a hard, sad lesson last week about the increasing difficulty of achievng economies in county government.

Last June, amid much publicity fanfare, a group of organization representatives and individuals headed by Robert A. Roumiguierre appeared before the Marin County supervisors to demand economy in county government. It was a kind of non-violent confrontation between taxpaying interests on the one hand and tax spenders in the person of the supervisors.

The supervisors "got the message."

THEY "HUNG TOUGH." They fought valiantly to hold the line against pay raises for county employees and gave in only to the tune of 5 to 6 per cent raises for those employees represented by unions and other bargaining agents. Those receiving raises totalled 862 county workers.

So-called managerial employees not represented by bargaining agents got no raises at all. There are 138 of these.

IF ALL THE pay raises went to the lowest salaried employees and those in the upper brackets did without, the situation would have been defensible.

But it turned out that salaries in jobs for which pay was negotiated by unions or other bargaining agents range up to $1,600 per month. (That comes to $19,200 per year in case your mental arithmetic capacities are limited as an editorial writer's).

At the same time, so-called managerial employees are paid as little as $550 per month, which figures but at $6,000 per year.

So the supervisors awakened to find they had authorized pay raises for people with salaries up to $19,200 per year, while "holding the line" on salaries as low as $6,600 a year.

There were some unseen barbs involved, too.

WHEN THE LEGISLATURE authorized collective bargaining for local government employees, it did not exempt mangerial employees. If the management employees discriminated against in the county salary schedule wished to, they could join a union and presumably protect themselves against a recurrence of what happened on the first round this year.

Apparently, the supervisors got the message last week. As a special order of business they voted an across-the-board raise of 5 per cent for the 138 so-called managerial employees.

Robert Roumiguierre must have "got the word," too. He voiced his approval of the raise.

Not A Fad

We hear it said by seemingly intelligent people: all this fuss about ecology is just a fad.

To us this is ridiculous. With pure water becoming a rarity. With wild places where one can escape the litter of civilization rapidly disappearing. With ever-increasing decibells of noise invading the suburbs. With oil spills and fish kills almost daily news. With San Francisco Bay rotting and poisoned at our doorstep. With whole species of animals immediately threatened with extinction. With smog a growing problem even in green, lightly industrialized Marin. With more and more beautiful land being covered with super-highways, parking lots and ticky-tacky. With the quality of life steadily declining. Ecology is no fad.

Instead, the awakened interest in our environment is the natural result of a whole series of calamitous circumstances slowly building up to a point where even the complacent are aware that we are in big trouble. And present indications are that these circumstances are going to become still worse before they get better — if ever.

Bids On Perris Dam Signal End To Giant Dream Of Water

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — All eyes — well, some eyes — are fixed on the earth-shaking events taking place under this Capitol dome in what has become a pretty dull session.

But down the street in the Resources Building a quiet announcement was made that will mean more to California in the long run than anything else that's happened around here recently.

That was the advertising for bids on Perris Dam in Riverside County.

PERRIS DAM will impound water at the south end of the 444-mile California Aqueduct, which is part of the California Water Project, stretching 700 miles from Northern to Southern California.

That's the end of the line for a project that was talked of in the early '30s and led in the late '50s to some legislative battles that were real lulus.

Getting water and a share of highway funds may have been the only things that ever unified the Assembly's Southern California majority. Perhaps these battles had a quality that later ones have lacked because they were over something tangible.

ELEVEN YEARS have passed since the 1959 Legislature hitched up its pants, approved the water plan and put the necessary bond issue on the ballot. The voters did the rest.

Only 28 of the 120 members of the 1959 session are still in the Legislature, 15 in the Senate and 13 in the Assembly. Six of the Senators were Assemblymen then.

Northern counties with too little bonding capacity to build dams took flood damage every winter, dried up every summer, and watched millions of acre feet of excess water waste to the sea.

Southern California, with lots of bonding capacity and no water, could build all the dams it wanted, if it had anything to dam.

A slim majority of the largely Northern Senate finally decided that both ends of the state needed each other.

It wasn't easy, and in spite of the fact that the people ratified the program with their vote on the bond issue, some sections which opposed the whole thing in 1959 oppose it still.

CONTRA COSTA County, beneficiary of every dam ever built north of the Tehachapis, was against it then and still is. Sacramento, earlier relieved by the Shasta Dam of a dry river in summer and hip-deep water in winter, appreciated flood control but wasn't too keen on giving anything to Southern Cailfornia.

A lot of the pressure is off the far north counties now that some of their flood control is in effect. Getting Perris under contract must be a relief to tht South.

All this history is mostly forgotten. Five million have joined our population since then, and other millions were children when it all happened.

A newcomer from New York might understand the California scale of things if his city had gone to Indianapolis for water. Or Indianapolis to Tulsa, Chicago to Winnipeg, or Des Moines to Pittsburgh.

There is a theory of history which holds that old city civilizations fell because the people forget why their public works had been built. Having inherited and benefited from them without comprehending, they let them fall into disrepair beyond salvation and built no new ones.

THE PROCESS was sometimes hastened by enemies who understood, like Joshua whose troops circled the walls of Jericho until they found and cut the conduits, then waited seven days for the water to run out.

It's something to think about.

Prison A Burden For Marin Courts

For 20 years now, I have been observing the goings-on in Marin County. And there has barely been a month in that time when there was not at least one case "pending" in our County courts due to criminal acts originating within the confines of San Quentin prison.

San Quentin is the state's prison, so why should Marin (or any other certain county) be penalized due to the accidental fact that the grounds lie within its borders?

Being a state institution the adjudication and the penalties for infraction of its rules and more serious crimes of assault and murder within its walls are plainly laid out by existing lanws and if prison authorities in charge of this state institution are unable to cope with trouble within their own compound, it would seem a confession of their disability.

For cases beyond their ability to handle, there should be a special State Court at Sacramento to which all such cases would be referred instead of their being funneled into the courts of the county which happens to have the state's prison within its borders. This would relieve Marin County of an obviously unfair and continuing large burden and expense.

Ranch Unsuitable For Airport Site

This is regard to your recent editorial encouraging the development of Smith Ranch Airic Airlines, who wish to opercarriers, such as Golden Pacific Airlines, who wish to operate in Marin County.

While I am appriciative of your editorial activities in regard to aviation in Marin County, I am concerned that your enthusiam for the use of the Smith Ranch Airport for air carrier purposes is not consistent with the practical facts.

Any air carrier operating out of an urban area must be able to operate under Instrument Flight Rule conditions (IFR) to assure keeping schedules and a reasonable percentage of trip completions during inclement weather. This single criterion makes it economically mandatory that the airport providing service to this type of carrier either have, or be capable of having, an acceptable instrument approach procedure. Smith Ranch Airport does not meet this criterion. While there has been substantial talk about utilizing to some extent the instrument approach facilities to Hamilton Air Force Base for this purpose, it is a fact that no operation meeting reasonable airline standards would do so. Therefore, for this one reason, Smith Ranch Airport is unsatisfactory for the service for which you endorse it.

Store Owners Win Gratitude

I'm sure I speak for almost everyone who lives in the vicinity of the Lincoln Market in San Rafael when I say it is our opinion that the stores' owners, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Politz have earned, and deserve to receive, a very large bouquet in the I-j for the extraordinary contribution they have made to our neighborhood.

Many of your readers, I'm sure, will remember that the above mentioned store was once a crumbling, yet profitable, business simply because it was there. It might well have remained a lucrative blight in the neighborhood had it been purchased (approximately one year ago) by someone other than the Politzs. Instead, it is now, after a great deal of money and hard work, as attractive as any I have seen in Marin County.

For most merchants, this in itself would have been sufficient to demonstrate a sincere interest in the area they hoped to serve. In the Politzs' case, it was merely the first of many thoughtful gestures.

For instance, in the past six weeks they have taken some 50 boys, who frequent their store, to a Giants baseball game . . . and provided each with an enormous lunch . . . all entirely free.

On the infamous Friday at Civic Center, the Politzs also had plans to leave town in a rented yellow vehicle (a school bus). Their destination was the Ice Follies in San Francisco. This time their guests were 25 neighborhood girls . . . Again, everything from the most expensive box seats, even for the bus driver, to treats during the show . . .

The most important reason that they are so special is because every day they are truly good neighbors, good friends, and good people. Hopefully, through you. We can publicly say thank you, Fred and Lee.

Ross Story Praised, Ross Roads Assailed

From your most interesting article in Aug. 8 Independent-Journal on the history of Ross it seems that in the early days of this century the residents petitioned the Board of Supervisors to "have a town of their own so they can construct their own roads and make them the best in the land!"

Regrettably Ross technology has not kept pace with that of their neighbors, or anybody else's for that matter. As one proceeds from Kentfield through the Ross business district, past your Post Office to Lagunitas Road ... bump, crash, bang. That's your shock absorbers, suspension system and wheel alignment undergoing some accelerated destruction, friends.

One can only reflect that our worthy predeccessors must be spinning in their graves at the thought that Ross now possesses the worst road in the land.

Nixon's ABM Victory May Prove In Long Run Costlier Than Defeat

WASHINGTON. — The Nixon victory in putting over the new phase of the Safeguard Anti-Ballistic Missile may prove in the long run more costly than a defeat. A victory for more billions for arms is in dramatic contrasts with the president's veto of money bills for education and housing.

If wriinging out the federal budget could have any effect on the spiral of rising prices it would be another matter. But there is little reason to believe that the size of the federal deficit for the current fiscal year is in any sense a controlling factor in the fight on inflation. Too many other elements are involved and above all one critical decision of a thrust so far-reaching as can hardly be exaggerated.

THE PRESIDENT let it be known that he will ask for no new taxes in the foreseeable future. Taxes are a sure way to dry up excessive spending and thereby contribute to bringing down prices. In another context, however, the tax decision is of even greater import. Without a substantial increase in federal revenue no real attack on the ills that plague the nation — pollution of air and water, the fantastic rise in crimes of violence, the lag in education — is possible.

The reporter travelling in the Midwest and the West for two weeks returns convinced that only through massive federal help and stern leadership by the President, calling for sacrifice in meeting the bill for long-neglected needs, is their hope for salvation. Rhetoric serves only to paper over the cracks that gape even wider. Each time it wears thin the rhetoric must be renewed in more inflammatory language.

Crime and the invocation to law and order offer a striking example of the contrast between good intentions with whatever flourish of rhetoric and the grim realities. Chief Justice Warren Burger speaking to the American Bar Association in St. Louis made for the second time an earnest plea for new correctional institutions. With few exceptions today's dangerously overcrowded prisons are a school for every form of vice and crime. Harassed wardens have all they can do merely to hold down the insurrections that repeatedly break out when the pressure becomes intolerable.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE was appealing to states and municipalities to provide the funds for new prisons and reform schools. In locality after locality, however, bond issues to provide such institutions have been voted down with the hodgepodge of state and local taxes prevailing almost everywhere and with rising levies on property to pay school costs, the taxpayer is in no mood to add new burdens at the city and state level. And that is particularly true when he sees in the federal tax structure glaring inequities that enable many in the top brackets to pay far less than their share or escape federal taxation entirely.

Mayor John V. Lindsay told the ABA that the Nixon Administration has asked for less money for safe streets, juvenile delinquency and narcotic treatment than Congress had authorized. He appealed to the lawyers to fight for money to expand the courts and enlarge and train police forces everywhere. Only by recognizing the vast difference between anti-crime rhetoric and the tedious, systematic work essential to crime control will it be possible to check the anarchy of crime and violence.

CALIFORNIA NOT LONG ago rejected a $246 million bond issue for three new medical schools and the complex of hospitals and clinics that go with them. With retirement for age the numbers of doctors in the state is steadily declining, as the population rapidly increases and medical costs shoot skyward. Medical care for those who have been barely able to pay their own way and for the poor is steadily deteriorating.

The lesson in every field is plain. As critics have pointed out, what the Nixon Administration proposes for the fight on pollution is pitifully inadequate.

The most recent Gallup Poll showing the Nixon approval rating up six points was taken within the administration as a happy herald of the prospect for this November and far beyond. The biggest rise since the president took office, it created a kind of Euphoria in the inner circle.

Arms Deal Could Lead To Commonwealth Split

By PHIL NEWSOM, UPI Foreign News Analyst

Simonstown is a small port and former British naval base on South Africa's Atlantic side, 12 miles north of the Cape of Good Hope.

Historically, it has the oldest English church (1814) built in South Africa. It used to be frequented by American whalers.

Future historians may look upon it as the cause of the breakup of the 29-nation Commonwealth which grew out of the British empire.

Its importance lies in a decision apparently already reached by Britain's new Conservative government led by Prime Minister Edward Heath to sell arms to the Republic of South Africa for maritime defense in defiance of a United Nations embargo.

HEATH AND HIS foreign minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home argue that the decision is necessary because the closing of the Suez Canal has placed Simonstown on the lifeline between Asia and the West, and that British aid is necessary against possible Communist encroachment.

The British claim is that any arms sold to the South Africans will be banned for use in support of apartheid (separation of the races) or against liberation movements.

Black African members of the Commonwealth take exception on both counts.

They believe the decision has been reached and they accuse the British of attempting to reestablish the supremacy they enjoyed before the breakup of empire.

In their own defense, Heath and Sir Alec point to the known Soviet interest in the Indian Ocean and the Persion Gulf.

AN EXAMPLE is the Island of Mauritius, a former British possession in the Indian Ocean which has been independent since 1968. The Mauritius government recently announced a three-year agreement with the Soviet Union to provide harbor facilities for Soviet fishing vessels and aircraft landing rights in return for technical assistance.

Black African Commonwealth members don't buy this argument either and at least three of them, Tanzania, Uganda and Zambia, have indicated they will withdraw from the Commonwealth if an arms deal is made.

Altogether, at least a dozen could pull out.

Whether or not the British argument for bolstering South African naval power is valid in a nuclear age, there are those who see commercialism rather than pure idealism in back of British thinking.

IN THE LAST 10 years South Africa has been building its armed forces on a massive scale. Something like $300 million has been spent on aircraft. France, one of the chief beneficiaries, has sold the South Africans three submarines, aircraft and other war supplies. From around $60 million 10 years ago, the South African military budget now is about $380 million.

The cynics believe Britain would like to get in on at least a part of the action.

Some Taxes Can Be Raised, Some Cannot–Change May Be Needed

What has several ceilings, but no roof? The answer to the simplistic riddle is a municipal tax rate.

The upper limit on the overall municipal rate is the tolerance of the voters because at least three tax categories are open ended. However, other categories have limits and sometimes they pinch.

THE SAN ANSELMO City Council recently squirmed under such a squeeze in the general fund. Repairing 5.3 miles of street and still maintaining city services proved impossible within a general fund rate of $1.52 per $100 assessed valution.

Over that limit by 18 cents, the council axed $23,000 that was to go towards a new fire engine and $35,300 that was planned for street work.

If the city is to have the vitally needed engine and the road work, citizens will have to vote 9-cent two-year special taxes for each at the Nov. 3 general election.

THE GENERAL TAX provides the core of city services. Police and fire protection, the operation of city hall, and the maintenance of the town are financed from the general fund.

In San Anselmo, the cost of these services is inflating beyond the funds available for them, but other projects clearly less necessary than a replacement for a 31-year-old fire engine cannot be deleted instead because they fit in different categories.

For example, according to City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel, there is no limit on the tax rate for parks and recreation. Thus, the city can buy as many tennis courts as it wants, but it can't buy as many fire engines as it needs.

CITY ATTY. John G. Buresh said at the council's Aug. 11 meeting that the limit on the general fund was set by the state many years ago on the theory that property owners should not be taxed more than a certain amount.

However, other taxes have been tacked on to the total rate and now there is no legal limit. In addition to the legally limitless parks and recreation tax rate, the city could tax all it wanted for employee retirement and pension and for parks and boulevards, according to Kaeppel.

While the general fund rate is at the legal limit of $1.52 per $100 assessed valuation, others are well below their legal limit.

THE LIMITLESS parks and recreation and retirement add up to 55 cents on the tax rate; the library rate of 18 cents is 12 cents under the maximum.

The dime each homeowner kicks in for each $100 assessed valuation could legally be 20 cents and the city could levy other taxes it doesn't use now.

The law allows 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation for civil defense, 20 cents for museums and 30 cents for memorial buildings.

LEVYING THE memorial building tax on about $30.2 million secured assessed valuation would raise $90,600 —more than enough to build a memorial outhouse in Memorial Park with a statue of the mayor adorning the roof.

However, the council can't raise the money to pave all the streets in disrepair.

The general fund rate limit of $1.52 has put San Anselmo property owners in the position of voting special taxes on themselves for essentials lik fire protection and adequate roads while recreation rates are left to the discretion of the council.

IF THE OBJECT of limiting the general fund rate is to limit the property owners tax burden, then it would seem that either the total —instead of the components — should be regulated as is the case of school districts or the rates should be regularly reviewed and given cost of living increases by the state.

That $1.52 won't cover the streets it could have covered five years ago because of inflation.

ART BUCHWALD

The Art Of Driving In Sicily Is One Of Shouting And Playing Chicken

(We hope the Italian American Anti-Defamation League doesn't take offense at our use of the word 'Mafia,' but in Sicily it did exist when this column was written.)

PALERMO — As a distinguished student of European driving habits and their effect on the human heart, I wish to make a statement. Of all the people I have studied so far, there are none to compare with the Sicilian driver. One only has to be on the winding roads of this beautiful country a few hours to understand why so many Sicilians left the island and came to America.

To comprehend the problems facing a driver in Sicily, one must first take note of what can be found on the Sicilian highway during the course of a day's drive. There are, and not necessarily in this order, four-cylinder Fiats, eight-cylinder Ferraris, 12-cylinder Alfa Romeos, hay trucks, gasoline trucks, motorcycles, motor scooters, bicycles, horse-drawn wagons, donkey carts, hand-drawn carts, dogs, goats, sheep, chickens, children, fishermen, members of the clergy, carabinieri and highway bandits.

IT HAS BEEN SAID that the dreaded members of the Mafia are Boy Scouts compared to the people who have drivers' licenses in Sicily.

For one thing, the traditional omerta, or conspiracy of silence that Sicilians are known for, does not apply to anything that happens on the road. When one Sicilian passes another, he will shout at him that he is a fool, an idiot and his mother was a goat, and if really angered, that his father was a policeman.

The man passed will retort with words of equal passion, and will, if the wind is right, spit at the other car. Since Sicilians must use their hands when making expressive statements, neither driver has his hands on the wheel when yelling at the other.

IF THERE ARE OTHER passengers in the cars, they, too, will join in the argument. Even after the man who is doing the passing has made the maneuver, he will look back, waving both hands at the driver he has passed, who in turn will retort by either waving his hands or pressing the horn for as long as the battery will allow.

The only place one Sicilian will pass another Sicilian is on a curve. Occasionally a car or truck will be coming the other way, and then the driver faces what is known in Sicily as "the moment of truth."

If he swerves to avoid the oncoming car, he will be considered a coward and his whole family will be in disgrace. He must force the other car to swerve. To see two brave men meeting face to face on a Sicilian highway is a sight one will never forget.

THE ONE THING that can slow up a Sicilian driver is a donkey cart. All the donkey carts in Sicily are beautifully painted with pictures of knights in armor and scenes of great battles. Drivers of donkey carts get most of their sleep on the roads of Sicily and the donkeys seem to also.

A donkey cart can be found on any side of a Sicilian road, going in any direction. Although the carts themselves only take up one lane, the hay the carts carry is purposely laid horizontally across them, taking up two or sometimes three lanes, thus making it impossible for anyone to see what is happening up ahead.

Donkey drivers are used to the sound of automobile horns, and can rarely be waked up by one. The best thing you can do when you're caught behind a donkey cart is to relax and enjoy the painted pictures.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED fact that when a Sicilian car is approaching a village, the driver speeds up and presses his hand on the horn as hard as he can. But instead of frightening the villagers, it has exactly the opposite effect. Children rush out of their houses at the sound of a horn and start playing in the streets, dogs out minding sheep rush into town to find out what is going on and chickens start crossing the road to get to the other side.

THE DRIVER who has his honor at stake refuses to slow down, and the village population refuses to get out of his way. I can't tell you how it is possible for a car to get through a village without hitting anything since I've always had my eyes closed when I've gone through one.

Portraits of George Washington and Ben Franklin were the first to be used on U.S. stamps.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Retain ITT Shares For Further Growth

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought International Tel. & Tel. at about 42. Is this a good growth issue? Also, will the suit being filed against IT&T over the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. purchase drastically affect the stock? — M.R.

A. Operating income of this leading manufacturer and supplier of electronic and telecommunications equipment and services rose a hefty 28 per cent in the second quarter from the corresponding period in 1969, on the 13 per cent gain in revenue. Net income advanced to $89.8 million equal to 83 cents a share, up from 66 cents last year. In respect to the first half, net increased 34 per cent to $1.42 per share from $1.07 — an impressive growth performance especially in these inflationary times. All of these results reflect pooling-of-interest transactions, including operations of Hartford Fire Insurance Co. While the anti-trust suit by the Department of Justice against the merger is still a factor to be reckoned with, this should not be regarded as an unusual development in view of the size and nature of the proposed corporate marriage. Continued growth is expected with earnings of about $3.00 per share looked for in 1970. Based on this estimate, the stock is selling at only 12 times. Continued retention of ITT for growth is advised.

Q. I am very much interested in Walter Kidde and King Resources for growth in two to three years. — R.A.

A. Both issues were, in the past, "high flyers," a category which is not exactly popular with investors at this time. In addition, King has been under pressure from creditors to repay short-term loans. The company has announced a refinancing plan which would allow conversion of $35.4 million short-term debt to long-term debt. Kidde has improved its cash position through the sale of one division of 30 per cent of another. Sale of two additional divisions has been proposed. You should upgrade your investment sights and concentrate on issues with well-established growth records and more reasonable debt-to-equity ratios.

In Marin County, cars will be sold at L.J. Dervin Ford Co., Novato; Lyons-Ryan Ford, San Rafael; and J and B Ford Sales, Corte Madera next month.

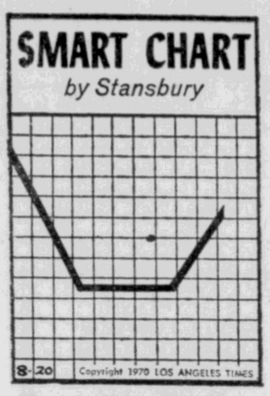
SMART CHART by Stansbury



"Two important changes in top management were made during the year."

To Increase Line

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pfizer, Inc., says it will increase its lime producing capacity at Gibsonburg, Ohio, by 130,000 tons yearly by installing a new rotary kiln.

Market Ends Higher After Late Rally

NEW YORK (UPI)—A rally in the last hour enabled the stock market to finish higher Thursday for the third day in a row. Turnover was moderate.

Shortly before the close, the Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips was up 5.95 at 729.94. Of the 1,529 issues crossing the tape, 656 advanced and 545 declined.

A turnover of around 9,750,000 shares was about in line with Wednesday's.

Initially, demand for stocks was restrained by profit taking. But analysts noted that once this dried up, buyers became more aggressive, although one analyst said "it was not a determined kind of buying, just a nibbling."

Closing prices included: Am T&T 45 up 1-4; Chrysler 19 1-2 up 7-8; Dupont 123 1-2 up 3; Ford 47 1-8 up 1-8; Gen Motors 68 1-2 up 1; IBM 244 3-4 up 5.

Much of the market's recent strength had been traced to encouraging economic news and more of the same type of news appeared Thursday.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said it is increasingly clear that the economy has already passed through the most difficult period of transition.

Kennedy said that while he was optimistic about the economy in the months ahead, "we can't afford to relax prematurely our basic economic policies."

In a speech prepared for delivery to the combined civic clubs of Salt Lake City, Utah, Kennedy said the administration hopes to control federal spending but has not adopted a policy "that we must avoid any deficit in the budget at all costs."

Kennedy said there is evidence the deficit will be larger than the $1.3 billion indicated in May. But he concluded that "we cannot permit the budget again to become so unbalanced as to rekindle the inflationary pressures that only recently have died down."

Prices were mixed in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover were the most enthusiastic fishermen of our Presidents.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Brigadoon' Is A Bouncy Evening

By KAY KSANDA

Forest Meadows echoed with the full sound of bagpipes Tuesday night as the musical "Brigadoon," a bonus production o the Marin Shakespeare Festival, got off to a slow start, but finally gathered momentum.

Shakespeae is a hard act to follow but, for those who prefer a gay musical with pipes to philosophy in blank verse, "Brigadoon" can be rich with charm and lightly metaphysical.

The play is a musical fantasy of life in the 18th Century Scottish Highlands, and how it appears out of the mist, and appeals to a 20th Century New Yorker. Will he commute to New Rochelle, or drop out and drop back to Scotland 200 years ago? This shifting about takes a bit of magic, lots of singing and dancing among the heather, and the love of a pure and sincere soprano.

However, the mood of miracles, and dearness of the magical, doesn't work into the production.

The mysticism that makes this believable is just never projected.

One also gets the feeling that the cast doesn't quite understand the plot any further than the "he loves her" involvement of their own Brigadoon residents: Bonnie Jean MacLaren and Charlie Dalrymple, played by Sue Praft of Tamalpais High School and Terry Cahalan presently in the festival's "Shrew" and "Henry V." Dalrymple hits center stage with his good looks and high spirits and the show is off at last as he sings "Go Home with Bonnie Jean," accompanied by the chorus in good voice but jerky blocking. Bonnie Jean is flower pretty, the younger sister of Fiona, (Denise Arrell) the soprano who must be beautiful on the inside, since she's been sabotaged by the costumer and hair dresser on the outside.

The chorus dancers and singers mostly seem to be in that quasi-position between amateur and professional where their talent and ability gain strength through the progression of the show. By Intermission time, you realize that they have plenty of both, they've made it, let go and everyone is having a marvelous time.

Fiona is still in her spaghetti and meat ball dress, but is now singing "Heather on the Hill" to the New Yorkers, Tommy Albright, well sung but stiffly played by J. D. Nichols, baritone musical director of the show and faculty member of Redwood High. His best friend and hiking companion, Jeff Douglass (Max Klein of Mill Valley) and Meg Brock (Lynn Phillips) are working into a third possible romance and providing very good robust comedy.

This is really a Marin County production, with the musical directed by Dan Caldwell who has coordinated all the dancers, singers, actors, musicians, carpenters and costumers. Charles Perrier has created the choreography, besides playing the role of the ill-fated Harry Beaton, providing almost as much drama in his dancing as he did in his dying.

Another outstanding dancer is Laurie Berryman of the Marin Civic Ballet, cast as lead dancer in the chorus.

Altogether, it's a good show. There is a lot of spirit and rousing good fun in the production, talent and personality in the dancers and singers, and excellent casting in the principals.

Grateful thanks to the Prince Charles Bagpipe Band for its rousing performance, and to Larry Snyder who must have magic to be able to weave his small band of musicians into comfortable musical support. Performances are Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 8 P.M. through Sept. 2.

Senate Vote Unlikely To Abolish Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate opponents of the draft are pressing for a vote on their proposal to lay the groundwork for an all-volunteer Army. Prospects for enactment were gloomy.

Calling the draft a feudal system of human bondage, Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., urged the Senate to raise military pay and allowances high enough to make conscription unnecessary. Senate leaders were trying to arrange a quick vote before week's end.

The Goldwater-Hatfield proposal is in the form of another amendment to the $19.2 billion military procurement bill. So far the track record on attempted changes in the measure has been poor.

Wednesday the Senate reaffirmed its decision to proceed with expansion of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system. Opponents of the ABM failed by eight votes, 53 to 45, to confine the ABM to sites authorized last year in Montana and North Dakota. This gave the Nixon administration a solid victory and handed U.S. negotiators what they consider a key bargaining lever in the Soviet-American arms limitation talks.

In addition, Hatfield and Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., facing certain defeat for their amendment to require complete withdrawal from Vietnam by next June 30, submitted a revised proposal Wednesday. It changed the deadline to Dec. 31, 1971, a move they hoped would pick up a few more votes.

Despite support from both ends of the political spectrum, head counts indicate the volunteer army measure did not have the votes. Many members were troubled by the cost of the proposal, an estimated $3.5 billion a year, and there were some lingering fears of an isolated army of professionals.

The proposal would raise basic pay for new recruits by 50 per cent, establish a system of merit pay for professional soldiers, raise retirement benefits and provide death benefits for survivors — all steps are designed to encourage men to make a career out of the military.

RALPH SUTTON
Jazz pianist

Jazz Pianist To Perform At Inverness

Jazz pianist Ralph Sutton will give a 3 p.m. recital Saturday at St. Columba's Church in Inverness as a special guest of the Inverness Music Festival.

Sutton, discovered by Jack Teagarden in 1941, has become the leading exponent of the two-handed style of melody, an invention developed by the late Fats Waller.

Some critics think his greatest contribution to modern day jazz is his revival of interest in the left hand. Sutton is now with the "World's Greatest Jazzband" of Yank Lawson and Bob Haggert.

Smetana's Opera "The Bartered Bride" will be presented in a repeat performance at 2 p.m. Sunday in the amphitheatre adjoining St. Columba's Church.

Ticket information may be obtained by writing Box 2, Inverness, Calif. 94937.

Dance-Concert Is Announced

Marin Music Switchboard will present a dance-concert for the benefit of the Fairfax Youth Commission from 8 p.m. to midnight Aug. 28 at the Fairfax Pavilion.

Featured groups will be Southern Comfort, Flying circus and Brownwalt Millarmunch with lights by Dry Paint.

The youth commission, which didn't receive any allocation in the Fairfax city budget, is financially strapped, according to Chairman Judi Cummings.

The commission has $175 for the year, $75 contributed by Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet and $100 contributed by the Patchwork Players, she said.

Thursday Concert Series Round-Trip Plan Is Eyed

The San Francisco Symphony Association has announced a proposed inexpensive round-trip plan for Marin residents wishing to attend Thursday afternoon San Francisco Symphony concerts at the Opera House in San Francisco.

If a minimum of 20 persons participate, a chartered bus will be operated from Marin County for the entire series of 18 concerts. A maximum capacity per bus is 49 persons. Cost will be determined by the number subscribing.

There will be three pickup and return stops, one at Greenbrae, a second at Tiburon-Strawberry and a third in Sausalito. One of the two concert plans proposed includes an hour and a half stop in Union Square for luncheon and/or shopping before the concert.

Advantages of the plan include elimination of transportation and parking problems and reduction of traffic congestion.

Those wishing to participate may send their names and addresses to Doris Lowell, San Francisco Symphony Association Room 107, War Memorial Veterans Building, San Francisco, Ca. 94102. Further information may be obtained by calling the association at the above address.

Ford Company Recalls 85,000 Police Cars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Transportation Department says all the 85,000 police cars Ford Motor Co. built between 1965 and 1969 will be recalled for replacement of defective wheel control arms.

Ford cars sold to the general public during the same period are not included in the recall. The National Highways Safety Bureau said the wheel control arms on police cars tend to crack under rugged police work.

Assessments Increase In All Cities

Sausalito and Belvedere had the highest increase in assessed value this year, county Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell reported today.

The percentage increase in assessed value for all 11 Marin cities is:

Sausalito, 20.2 per cent increase over last year; Belvedere, 19.7 per cent; San Anselmo, 13.9 per cent; Ross, 12.8 per cent; Larkspur, 12.2 per cent; Novato, 11.7 per cent; Tiburon, 10.2 per cent; San Rafael, 8.9 per cent; Corte Madera, 5.2 per cent; Mill Valley, 3.5 per cent; and Fairfax, 2.9 per cent.

The county's total assessed value this year is $635,074,736, up 8.5 per cent from last year. The total represents a market value of about $2.7 billion in taxable property in the county.

The assessed value is computed at 23 per cent of market value. Beginning next year, state law requires all counties to assess at 25 per cent of market value.

The county, cities, school districts and other taxing agencies must adopt their official tax rates for this year on or before Sept. 1.

Hungary Fetes Anniversaries

BUDAPEST (UPI) — Church bells and the roar of army jets mingled over Budapest today as Hungary celebrated 1,000 years of Christianity and 21 years of Communism.

Several thousand citizens assembled in front of the city's huge cathedral for the mass in honor of St. Stephan, the 11th century king who founded Hungary and introduced Christianity 1,000 years ago.

The church was so full it had to be closed when Archbsishop Joszef Ijjas, chairman of the Hungarian episcopate, and 10 other Hungarian bishops celebrated the 9 a.m. mass.

Sausalito Hearing Set On City Plan

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night set a public hearing Sept. 3 on inclusion of central waterfront and Marinship plans into a revised city-wide general plan.

The revisions would provide guidelines for a new city hall, library and park in the recently purchased waterfront property and set building and utility standards for the Marinship area at the north end of Sausalito.

City Planning Director Eric H. Borgwardt said the prupose of the proposed revision of the 1967 general plan was "to bring that document up to date and make it a more meaningful plan that reflects such developments as the 432 units being constructed at the north end of town."

Planning Commissioner Violeta Autumn questioned whether any further residential development should be permitted along the Sausalito waterfront, particularly in the Marinship area. No action was taken.

"BCDC (Bay Conservation and Development Commission) has proposed public access to water," said Borgwardt, "and I think that should be our goal in Sausalito too."

Borgwardt went on to suggest that the answer to increased traffic through Sausalito may be to limit the number of commercial visitor-oriented businesses in the Marinship area. "Let us give serious thought to curtailing visitor sprawl," he said.

"I don't think I can entirely agree on leaving out restaurants," said commissioner Evert Heynneman.

"I approve of ancillary support facilities for other businesses that may locate there," replied Borgwardt, "but I think we should discourage primarily entertainment centers."

Sukarno's Widow May Star In Asian Film

HONG KONG (UPI)—Asian film producer Run Run Shaw said today the Shaw Brothers studio will ask Ratna Sari Dewi, Japanese-born wife of the late Indonesian President Sukarno, to play the title role of "The Fragrant Concubine" in a picture he intends to make here.

Shaw said the film will be about Hsiang Niang Niang, a concubine of a Turki-Uighur chief, said to have had a unique body fragrance men could not resist.

America's Leading Cheese Stores

CHILDREN'S ADVENTURE leader Mary Myers of Tiburon sings and plays her guitar for her group of six-year-old boys left. She takes a group of six children on an adventure to Marin and the East Bay four days of the week. "When I am seventh in my small group the children will let me know what is going on in their minds," she says. "But if the group were too big the emphasis would have to be on control and discipline." Baiting a tiny fishhook with cheese for David Rapoport, Mary lifeguards while her adventure club six-year-olds catch fish from the deck of her 22-foot sailboat berthed in Sausalito in center photo. Right, ankle deep in a creek Andrew McGuinness, top left, and Miles Smith help Mary build a dam while her samoyed dog Kef watches David Rapport collected rocks. "People get too far away from doing fun things. I can really get into making a sand castle," says Mary.

Tiburon Co-ed Creates Her Own Summer Jobs

Marin Women

By PAT BALMES

"I refuse to limit myself because I'm a girl. If you just go ahead and do these things well, people will accept you," says University of California co-ed Mary Myers, who is "odd-jobbing it" this summer by hauling weeds in her "functional" van, doing carpentry on a houseboat and scuba diving under yachts to clean their hulls.

The 21-year-old blonde from Tiburon also teaches swimming in private pools and on four weekdays leads a summer adventure club for children 6 to 10 years old.

"I'm surprised more girls don't organize adventures for children. It's practical and profitable," says the senior at Berkeley who is saving her earnings "first for school, and then for a sailing trip, maybe around the world."

EACH DAY Mary picks up six children in her homemade camper at 10 a.m. and brings them home at 4 p.m. "I think some of the mothers were surprised when they saw my van," says Mary about her "first car" which she insulated, paneled and built in bunks.

"A regular car would never have survived my scuba gear!"

"There are so many places to go and things to do, I'm surprised the children haven't been to these places already," says the avid backpacker, skier and scuba diver. On her agenda are fishing at Paradise Cove in Tiburon, Angel Island, little parks in Ross, Larkspur and San Rafael, Fairyland in Oakland, Montclair duck ponds and frontier town; Lake Temiscal near Piedmont with its rolling lawns and roped-off swimming area, a walk across Golden Gate Bridge, bike riding in Golden Gate Park and overnight camping at Samuel P. Taylor Park, "our all-time favorite", says Mary, who rigged a rope swing there.

To recruit her young club members, Mary sent fliers to mothers she knew from her water safety instructor days at Tiburon Peninsula Club.

"Probably my club is popular because this is an affluent area," surmises Mary. Because children leave on vacation and are replaced, Mary has actually lead 36 children on adventures this summer.

HER YOUNG adventurers on Monday are five-year-old girls; Tuesday, eight-year-old boys; Wednesday, seven-year-old girls; and Thursday, six-year-old boys. On Fridays Mary does odd-jobs.

Her Pied-Piper role taxes her purse for gas and maintenance of the car and snacks for the children, and it taxes her energy with phone calls for organizing. But a quick swim at the Tiburon Peninsula Club revives Mary for an evening of social life.

With her college friends, Mary has planned skiing, snow shoeing, back packing and scuba diving trips.

"I originally thought the van would be a great way to go skiing," says Mary, who reduces expenses by parking inconspicuously in a ski-lodge parking lot and sleeping there with "Kef" her two-year-old Samoyed dog. She can fit into her van scuba and sailing gear and her canoe sometimes goes on top. Six bikes went into the van for the bike riding in Golden Gate Park with the adventure club.

Speaking of her parents' reaction to the truck and diving trips, Mary says, "My parents have been awfully good." Mrs. Myers did say, however, "Now Mary, how many girls do you know who scuba dive?"

"I DID this children's summer program once before when I was 15 or 16, but with only three or four children. I had no driver's license, so my mother toted us around. Mary repeats gratefully, "My mother has been awfully good."

Mary's younger brother Greg, a sophomore at College of Marin interested in oceanography, has been water safety instructor at Tiburon Peninsula Club this summer. Mary refers many of her yacht cleaning jobs to him. Brother and sister plan a backpacking week before school starts and dream of crewing around the world on a yacht. Mary says its usual for a girl to be cook on such voyages, but she wants to be crew.

She owns a 22-foot Treasure class sailboat.

"The only way to sail is to be captain!" maintains the independent girl. Most sailing she did in the past was on friends' boats.

"You have to sit there and act like a date," Mary complains. "I have a canoe and can paddle from Tiburon across Richardson Bay to Sausalito when there is no wind."

Mary will complete her last two quarters at U.C. this winter. She relates a frightening brush with an enraged policeman who during campus rioting chased her down a side-street brandishing his club. Not involved in the riots, Mary was only trying to reach her car after classes.

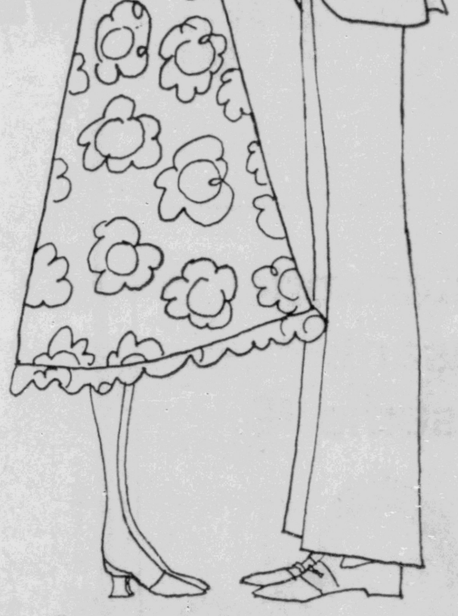
Last spring, Mary went on pass-fail status at the university to devote her time, with 24 other Tiburon students, to a door-to-door campaign to persuade Tiburon residents to take a stand against the war in Vietnam. As spokesman for University of California Students For Peace, Mary addressed the Tiburon City Counsil and she felt well rewarded when the vote went against the war.

"Everybody asks me, What are you going to do with your anthropology major?" says the senior. "Anthropology gives you the best prospective on things," she says, although she may not make a career of teaching it because of the surplus of teachers.

"But education is where I should be, so perhaps I'll go into working with children in recreational or physical education areas."

MARY STARTS the crank turning on the ice-cream maker before giving Adam Baker his turn. "Do you know what other ingredients are in ice cream besides cream?" she asks the little boys on an outing in Old Mill Park in Mill Valley.

SCUBA-DIVING college senior Mary Myers cleans the hulls of racing yachts as an extra summer job and dives for her own pleasure in Monterey. Other odd-jobs are hauling away weeds in her van and doing carpentry work on a Sausalito houseboat. Mary is saving "first for school and then for a sailing trip, maybe around the world."



This is romance.

This is the new-fashioned, old-fashioned girl look. Some call it the midi. We call it pretty. Not a mini grown long or a maxi hemmed short, but a graceful flow to the middle of the calf. Flattering. Old-worldly. Real-girl stuff. Hearts and flowers and violins in the background. For dancing. For strolling. For the prettiest, most romantic you. This is the midi. The stuff dreams are made of. Come see us soon. We have lots of dreams for you to choose from.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

If Girdles, Minis, Bras Aren't For Your Figure, Don't Wear Them

DEAR HELEN:

I read a couple of times that "all the high school girls" were going bra-less. All? Not in our town, but maybe we're just slow.

Well, I showed up the last day of summer school without mine (mainly because they were both in the wash), and the boy I've got my eye on had a fit. He said guys make bets about which girls don't wear bras, and the shedders are either bragging or advertising, neither of which fit me.

I hit him with the old truth in packaging comeback, but I'll have to admit I sorta agree with him. While I haven't exactly got a hopeless chest, it looks better with a little build-up . . . and so do my clothes.

But he was so stuffy and bossy that I can't let him win. Must I go bra-less just to show him there's nothing wrong in trying out a new style? After all, I don't hassle his muscle shirts, even if he isn't made like Tom Jones. — NOT QUITE ABREAST OF THE TIMES

DEAR NQAOTT:

It isn't often a girl gets a chance to let a guy win an argument she'd rather lose anyway, so call his stuffiness "the male protective instinct," and be happy he is interested enough to care what other boys bet.

Then study your figure and wear (or don't wear) what suits it best — and that includes girdles, minis, hats, jewelry, as well as bras. — H.

P.S. My friend, the buyer for a large department store chain, tells me bras are holding up well, but girdles are slipping — saleswise, that is.

"All the girls are going braless" ranks with "midis have made it" as the fall's biggest fashion exaggeration. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

A girl I know is hung up on one of my best friends, but he doesn't like her and I do.

He tried to explain to her, but she is too pig-headed to get the message. I try to let her know I'm ready and waiting, but ditto.

Is there some way to make her stop liking him so it might work out for me? — LEO

DEAR LEO:

Propinquity and patience often win. Be there when she needs you and don't rush things. But just in case it doesn't work out, stay friendly with other girls. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I was wondering why people get so excited when they're called for jury duty. I mean they groan and moan as if it's the worst thing that could happen.

I really regret being only 15 so I can't serve. It would be a great way to help. You'd feel you really had a say-so in the law.

Of course I might get tired if I were on a hung jury that took weeks to persuade, or worried if I were on a terribly controversial case, but it makes me mad when people try their darndest to wiggle out of even local jury duty.

Maybe I feel this way because I love the study of government and law. — PROSPECTIVE JUROR

DEAR PROSPECTIVE:

Keep feeling this way, and maybe you'll be persuading jurors from the other side of the box — after you finish law school. — Good luck. — H.

Dr. Spock Rewrites Chapter Of Book To Please Feminists

The outspoken baby doctor Benjamin Spock is rewriting a chapter of his latest book because the feminists didn't like it.

Dr. Spock said in an article in Redbook magazine that much of the feminist criticism resulted from "a widely circulated book review that stated — incorrectly, I claim —that I believe women's place is in the home."

Acknowledging that "many sensible, non-aggressive women" are listening to the feminists' demands for changes in sex roles and child-rearing patterns, Dr. Spock called it "a good sign that young people want to think realistically and idealistically about such matters."

Clarifying his position on careers for women, Dr. Spock, declared, "I've never said, as a generalization, that women should stay at home rather than go to work. I believe that women have a right equal to men's to get into any kind of work they can perform, and that, more important, they should receive equal pay and have an equal chance for promotion. I think it is good that the Women's Liberation Movement is going to recruit women for a militant fight for such rights, which are long overdue."

But Dr. Spock asserted, "Babies and young children have needs and rights too, and some adults have no idea what they are." Contending that the care a child receives in the first three years of life is most important, Dr. Spock said, "If a young couple love their child and care a lot about how he turns out, they can't talk casually about turning him over to a nursery or a commune or an individual for most of his waking hours during his first three years."

Not only is it essential that a "mother substitute" be very reliable, it is also advisable that she be able to stay on the job for the entire first three years, Dr. Spock said.

"If a child develops a real dependence on a substitute who takes over his care and if the substitute then leaves him, the deprivation will be as great as the average child would feel if his mother had died and will have long lasting effects. And if he is repeatedly left by a succession of caretakers, he may develop, as a defense against future desertion, a deep reluctance to love anyone else again."

Tevis Cup Race Finishers Include Five Marin Women

Of the five Marin women who attempted the grueling endurance horseback ride from Tahoe City to Auburn Saturday, all finished the 100 miles within the 24 hour time. Fifty per cent of the 186 starters were able to finish the race.

The Tevis Cup race was won by Nevadan Donna Fitzgerald of Reno.

Marin women riders were Vickie Anderson, 11th, Jeanne Whittington, 15th, Mary Tiscornia, 38th; Leslie Steere, 67th; and Nancy McCall, 70th.

Of nine Marin men entered, four finished the race: Bob Heffelfinger, 12th; Walt McLarren, 20th; Stan Swift, 50th; and Bud Arez, 81st.

The winner's time was 11 hours and 49 minutes. Four of the first 10 riders to finish were women.

Selection Of Fruits Greater Than Meats

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing service says food shoppers will find a greater selection of fruits and vegetables than meats at their nearby markets this weekend. The selection of meats however will include ground beef, beef roasts and steaks, and in poultry, broiler-fryers and turkeys.

VEGETABLES IN good supply include cabbage, celery, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, green peppers, potatoes and tomatoes.

Among the fruits will be bananas, cantaloupes, peaches and watermelons. Frozen concentrated orange juice is abundant, too.

The Interior Department reports best buys in fish are fillets, canned tuna, and fresh and frozen salmon.

Foods listed on USDAs' plentiful foods list for August include wheat products—the feature for August, which is sandwich month—summer vegetables, watermelons, fresh plums, peanuts and peanut products and, in some areas, canned grapefruit section.

THE FOOD SUPPLY outlook in the West:

Eggs are 1 to 4 cents a dozen higher in all West Coast markets.

Pork prices are mixed in all markets with loins 2 cents a pound higher and spareribs 4 cents lower in Portland. Boston butts are 2 cents higher in San Francisco and 3 to 4 cents lower in Los Angeles. Smoked and fully cooked hams are 2 cents lower in Los Angeles and as much as 9 cents lower in San Francisco. Bacon is 3 cents lower in Portland and 4 cents higher in Los Angeles.

BROILER-FRYERS are 2 to 2 cents a pound higher in California markets and light hens are 2 cents higher in Seattle. Fryer-roaster, young hen and tom turkeys are as much as 2 cents lower in Seattle.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include: Gravenstein apples, bananas, cantaloups, nectarines, oranges, peaches, plums, watermelons, cabbage, celery, lettuce, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Seafood buys to watch for in the west are fresh salmon, canned salmon, halibut, sole fillets, swordfish steaks, and red snapper.

Non-Fat Dry Milk

Nonfat dry milk will keep in good condition for several months on the cupboard shelf at temperatures of 75 degrees or lower. Close the container immediately after using because dry milk absorbs moisture and becomes lumpy if exposed to air for long. Lumps make reconstitution difficult.

Purse 'Dips' Normally Work In Twos

BOSTON (UPI) — A little common sense can save dollars and cents when it comes to purse "dips," says a veteran Boston Police investigator.

Mrs. Josephine Donelan of the Shopping Squad, who has been on the force for 27 years, says the "dips" normally work in pairs — "one opens the bag and the other dips the wallet."

One dip, she explained, will distract a woman by opening a door with one hand as he unfasten her pocketbook with the other, while the second dip reaches into the vurse for the woman's swallet.

Mrs. Donelan, who carries her wallet in a coat pocket, offers these tips:

— Choose a safe pocketbook, such as one with handles on each side or drawstrings, instead of ones with a single clasp.

— Try to avoid carrying large amounts of money.

— Be wary of standing in a crowd of shoppers. Dips frequently drape an item of merchandise over their arm to conceal the hand slipping into a pocketbook.

— Suspect women as well as men.

How Maple Syrup Was Discovered

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Just in case you've ever wondered how maple syrup was discovered, the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets tells an old tale about an Indian squaw and her husband.

The squaw, so the story goes, left her cooking pot under a tree where her brave was napping so that when he awoke he would take the hint and go to the spring and fetch water.

But the brave, angered because getting water was a chore for women, drove his tomahawk into the tree in a fit of temper and walked away. The tree happened to be a maple, so sap ran into the pot.

The next morning the squaw found the pot, thought it was filled with water, and boiled it over her fire. As evaporation took place, she found she had made a sweet syrup.

Anyway, that's how the story goes.

Odors Subside Due To Work On Plant

Engineer J. Warren Nute has told the Richardson Bay Sanitary District board that odor in Tiburon's Little Reed Heights is considerably reduced as a result of work on the treatment plant at Tiburon and Trestle Glen Boulevards.

The report was made Tuesday as directors reviewed the progress of measures to control odors from the plant, according to president Douglas de la Fontaine.

Directors decided to install a chlorinator at the plant to further reduce odors, de la Fontaine said. "We're still experimenting with the right amount of chemicals to feed into the new scrubber," he said. "The amount is important in cutting down on odors."

Directors also decided to have Nute survey sewer lines in the Town and Country Shopping Center area at Tiburon Boulevard and Blackfield Drive to seek the cause of line blockages. de la Fontaine said that the lines were installed across mudflats, which subsequently sunk about 18 inches.

"Sagging lines may have caused the blockage," he said. The engineer will report to the board at its next meeting, Sept. 15.

IN A GENERATION

Threlkeld Sees Loss Of Saigon

By GEORGE NEVIN

CBS correspondent Richard D. Threlkeld, newly returned from the Vietnam war zone, predicts that South Vietnam will be lost as an ally to the west in a generation.

"The U.S. will continue to support the government with millions of dollars and thousands of troops for 10 years," he said, "But eventually the country as a non-Communist nation must fall."

Threlkeld, who just moved to Mill Valley, knows his subject well. For almost two years, from September 1968 to May 1970, he covered the battles, both political and military, in that war-torn country.

"The elected leaders of South Vietnam don't represent the people, only themselves," he stated flatly. "Most of the officials are Catholics. Many, such as Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, once were northerners."

Buddhists comprise some 85 per cent of the nation's population, Threlkeld said, but the French-educated Catholic minority controls the government.

The only way that the country can avoid falling to the north is for a revolution to sweep it, he maistained. "Not a military revolution, but a social revolution that every emerging nation must go through. The people have to be taken out of the traditional way of thinking and start thinking of Vietnam," he said.

Only then will South Vietnam be one unified country, instead of a hodgepodge of factions — Buddhists, Catholics, southerners, northerners, central coastland peoples.

Threlkeld, 32, described life in Vietnam for journalists: "We would get word that something was happening — we wouldn't know what — around the demilitarized zone, so we'd bum a ride in a helicopter to a base there, and then start asking questions."

But the correspondents were not allowed to release any news until the company commander gave permission. "The embargo was to protect the troops. If the Viet Cong knew of their plans, they could take advantage of the information," he said.

Newsmen who leaked word of a battle or troop movements before the embargo was lifted faced loss of their credentials which would deny them access to the war zone.

Sometimes, Threlkeld said, he would go out with a platoon on a mission. "Since ours is a visual medium, a premium is placed on combat film footage," he said. "But those days are over. Americans aren't involved in any big battles any more."

Because of the nature of the military, Threlkeld said that public relations men spend much of their time trying to keep the truth from the pres.

The military is a big bureaucracy, and a lot of energy goes into defending itself," he said. "There's a certain built-in friction between the reporter and the military."

He said that a large corps of public relations officers existed "not to promulgate good news but to keep bad news from leaking out."

But, he added, they never stopped him from getting a stosry.

"The military is so big that you can walk around it. Once you get out into the field, it's easy to get the story."

Threlkeld noticed a marked change in the war during his stay there. "Back then half the country was controlled by the VC, and the ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) had been demolished. Now the ARVN is better able to take care of itself, and it has better rapport in the villages."

The Viet Cong don't control the large, heavily populated provinces anymore, he said. "The roads near Saigon and Da Nang still aren't safe at night, but no longer do the VC have effective control. They don't collect taxes any more."

Threlkeld thinks the U.S. made a mistake in going into Vietnam and trying to fight a mechanized war. "Fifteen years ago the South Vietnamese could have fought the Cong on their own terms. Now we've trained them to fight with tanks, half-tracks, helicopters and cannons," he said.

As for the Vietnamization program, Threlkeld thinks President Richard M. Nixon is doing the only thing he can. "Nixon knows his number one priority is to get us out of Vietnam quickly. He's a political realist. But we'll have troops and money tied up there for a long time."

Vietnamization is working, but "the Cambodian war is the most touchy spot in Indochina now. It's like Vietnam was like 15 years ago — a Keystone Cops army and a need for Americans to advise them."

The newsman's wife, Sharos, and two daughters, Susan, 9, and Julia, 5, lived with him during his stay in South Vietnam. The girls attended an American school a block from their villa. The school was called the Phoenix Study Group because it rose from the ashes of its destruction — it was shelled during the 1968 Tet offensive.

"Prices in Saigon are terribly high. That's what the war has done to the economy," Mrs. Threlkeld said. "Our villa cost $1,200 a month, although CBS paid for most of that. Our landlady was a very wealthy woman."

Although he's happy to be in Mill Valley, Threlkeld already is looking forward to next summer, when he plans to return to Vietnam for four months.

"It's one of the few stories that a newsman can become expert on," he said. "Here in the Bay Area I get so many different assignments that I can't concentrate on one but after two years in Vietnam, I feel that I know more about the political and military aspects of the war than the administration."

Man Tosses Parrot Into Hawk's Cage

A Daly City man has told Ross police he raided a private aviary and tossed a parrot into a hawk's cage to satisfy a desire for peace in Vietnam.

Patrolman Leavins Hinnenberg was called to the Danil Shillinger home at 433 Lagunitas Road about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday on a report a man was breaking into an aviary at the residence.

Hinnenberg found David George Russek, 22, next door. The patrolman said the man told him he entered the aviary and threw the parrot in with the hawk because he felt the parrot represented President Richard M. Nixon and the hawk represented Vietnam and he "wanted to get everything resolved."

The parrot was not hurt.

Russek told Hunnenberg he learned of the aviary while living at a "semi-hippie pad" nearby.

Russek — who appeared under the influence of narcotics, police said — was booked into Marin County jail on suspicion of possession of marijuana and auto theft, having allegedly stolen a car from a residence on Glenwood Avenue moments before entering the aviary.

He was held in lieu of $1,875 bail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Seven Are Injured In Marin Accidents

Four persons were treated at hospitals and three others said they would see their own doctors for injuries suffered in three traffic accidents in Marin County yesterday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

William Spangler, 28, of 608 C Street, San Rafael, was taken to Novato General Hospital with bruised ribs after the car in which he was riding was involved in a collision at Nave Drive and the Ignacio Boulevard exit of Highway 101 at 11:15 a.m.

Officers said the car driven by Allyn G. Clark, 37, same address, was struck by another driven by Raymond L. Ward, 41, of Sacramento, which failed to stop at a yield sign at the intersection.

Three passengers in the Ward car said they would see their own doctor for minor cuts. The patrol identified them as Linda Ward, Mark E. Ward, and Teresa A. Ward, all of Sacramento.

A 25-year-old Petaluma man was reported injured when his car, northbound on Highway 101 north of Novato at 7:25 a.m., left the road and plunged over a 15-foot embankment.

Treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts and bruises was Robert E. Vivenzi. The patrol said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Carol A. Walter and Peggy L. Parsley, both 17, of Windsor, Sonoma County, were treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and scrapes after their car struck the center divider and ran off the road on Highway 101.

Officers said Miss Walter, the driver, became startled and locked her brakes whenher wheels hit the lane divider buttons. The accident occurred north of the San Rafael overpass at 1:55 p.m.

Juvenile Court To Handle Pot Case

William A. Mecklin, 19, of Inverness and Washington, D.C., has been accepted by juvenile court for handling of his marijuana possession and pot-smoking device possession charges.

Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith received the report yesterday. Mecklin was arrested July 25 while parked on an Inverness road.

Stanford To Hold Campaign Talks

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Stanford University, in hopes of bringing campaign issues before students and the public in "grass root" terms, will conduct a series of seminars which will bring candidates and commentators to the campus prior to the November General Election.

Plans for the program, called "Stanford - Community Forum '70," were explained by students, faculty members and university officials Wednesday.

They said it was developed out of the belief that the proper role for the campus is not direct involvement in political affairs, but political education.

New Federal Requirements Tough On Waste Discharge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Tough new federal requirements for waste water discharges into navigable waters and their tributaries have been announced by the Army Corps of Engineers.

All applicants for corp permits to build outfall pipes now must list what is going to be contained in the discharges so that their environmental effects can be analyzed.

The corps, long under fire from conservationists for failing to account for such effects, previously considered only whether an outfall would interfere with navigation.

Col. Charles R. Roberts, San Francisco district engineer, said the new requirements were issued under the Refuse Act of 1899. They will be enforced by the corps, the Federal Water Quality Administration and the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board, he said.

The revised requirements were to comply with the federal Environmental Policy Act of 1969, which required federal agencies to consider the environmental impact in their administration of laws, Roberts said. The revision also will comply with the Water Quality Improvement Act of 1970, which requested applicants for federal permits to file a certificate from the appropriate state agency that the discharge "will not violate applicable water quality standards."

Roberts said he hoped that industries will accelerate their own antipollution efforts.

Hearing Scheduled In Marijuana Case

Preliminary hearing on marijuana possession charge against Daniel Martin Klopf, 18, of Tamalpais Valley, has been delayed while juvenile court decides whether to accept his case.

Klopf, arrested at Cascade reservoir July 22, was referred to the juvenile court for report back to Municipal Judge Peter Allen Smith next Wednesday.

Army Awards Petaluman For Heroism

Army Sgt. Richard J. Penry, 21, of Petaluma, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism in Vietnam.

The Army reported that Sgt. Penry defended his wounded companions against a 40-man ambush in Jan. 31. A 1966 graduate of St. Vincent's High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Penry Jr., 1436 Sierra Drive.

RADIO DAMAGED

The Army reported that all but three members of his battalion had been wounded in an attack by a full company of the enemy. When Sgt. Penry realized the radio had been damaged, he made three ventures through the enemy lines to gather replacement parts.

The Army said the enemy began a second assault and Sgt. Penry moved to the most vulnerable sector of the perimeter and defended the force. He stood up three times to toss hand grenades and fired his weapon effectively with enemy ammunition gathered from the trips across the line.

After the second attack, Penry continued to gather spare radio parts and was successful in making the radio operable to call for assistance.

AIDED WOUNDED

The Army said he also administered first aid and assisted in evacuating his wounded comrades.

The award — the nation's second highest — was presented in Vietnam by Gen. William B. Rosson. Penry also holds the Army Commendation Medal for Valor, Bronze Star, Air Medal and Combat Infantry Badge.

Before entering the Army in March, 1969, he was employed as a cook at the Green Mill Inn, Cotati. Sgt. Penry is currently home on leave and will be reassigned to Fort Lewis, Wash.

Auto Theft Case To Higher Court

Phillip David Harrison, 19, of Sleepy Hollow, will face arraignment in Marin Superior Court Monday on two counts of car theft, allegedly committed July 10 and 11.

The youth was bound over after preliminary hearing before Judge David Baty in municipal court. He was arrested July 17. Harrison also awaits sentencing on a guilty plea entered June 23, to the March 18 burglary of Shakey's Pizza Parlor in San Rafael, when he was slightly wounded by a police bullet while attempting to flee.

On this day in history:

In 1741 Danish navigator Vitus Berling discovered Alaska.

In 1914 Germany occupied the Belgian capital of Brussels in World War I.

In 1955 flying a super-sabre jet, Col. Horace Hanes reached an altitude of 40,000 feet and a speed of 822 miles an hour.

In 1966 a Turkish earthquake claimed 3,000 lives.

A thought for the day: O. Henry said, "Love and business and family and religion and art and patriotism are nothing but shadows of words when a man's starving."

Airline President Aids By Quitting

OAKLAND (UPI) — Joseph A. Young has resigned as president of San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines, Inc., in order to facilitate streamlining of the financially troubled firm.

Sam Kagel, court-appointed trustee who announced that Tuesday, said Richard C. Lovern had been appointed general manager. Lovern had been executive vice president of the shuttle airline that serves San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and Marin County.

Young said, "I left retirement to become SFO president and I now feel that in a spirit of cooperation and assistance, I should step aside."

Clear Reasoning Can Determine Whereabouts Of Missing Queen

How do you guess the correct way to take a two-way finesse for a missing queen? One way is to guess where you would go if you were a queen, but it's much better to play for the queen to be where it must be if the contract is to be made.

ACUTE START

Toronto expert Sammy Kehela had to locate the queen of spades to make his contract in today's hand, played diurng the recent world pair championship in Stockholm. The defenders had very acutely started off with the ace of diamonds, the king of diamonds and a low diamond to the jack.

Kehela began by leading the king of heart's. West covered with the ace, and declarer ruffed in dummy. Now, should he take the ace of spades and let the ten ride for a finesse through West, or should he take the top spades and then lead the jack of spades for a ruffing finesse through East?

If you know the answer but not the reason, slap yourself on the wrist and score minus 100 for peeking. Kehela made the right play for the right reason.

NEEDS CLUB FINESSE

Kehela could see that he would need a successful club finesse. Since West had already shown up with the king of diamonds and the ace of hearts and would have to hold the king of clubs also, he was very unlikely to have the qaueen of spades in view of his original pass and subsequent silence during the bidding.

FELL RIGHT

If West did have the queen of spades, he would not have the king of clubs, and the contract would be unmakable. The contract was makable only if West had the king of clubs, and East, therefore, the queen of spades.

Kehela took the top spades and led the jack of spades through East. When east stolidly played low, declarer discarded a heart. Then he ruffed a spade, cashed the queen of hearts to discard a club from dummy, and tried the club finesse. This succeeded, and the contract was home.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens in fourth position (after three passes) with one heart. The next player passes, and you hold:

♠ - 8 3
♥ - A 10 9 4
♦ - K 9 4
♣ - K J 10 8.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three hearts.

This jump raise is not forcing after your original pass, but it does justice to your hand. If partner decides not to go on, your side can probably not make a game.

Picnic Slated Sunday To Aid Robson Park

The Robson-Harrington Park Association has scheduled a picnic at the park on Sunday from 3 to 8 p.m. to raise money for renovating the 2-year-old park and its 64-year-old mansion.

Mrs. Robin Skewes-Cox, president of the Robson Girls, said the program would include children's games, refreshments and a concert from 6 to 8 p.m. by Bill Sache's twenty-piece jazz band.

The association, which now numbers 60 persons, was formed in 1968 when the city was left the 2.7 acre estate in a will. The group is trying to correct the rundown condition of the bequest, according to Mrs. Skewes-Cox.

In the top photo, Denise's father, Frank Young, checks the engine, while his flying daughter does a routine "walk" around the plane, a Cessna 150. At (left, below) Young gives his daughter a hug before takeoff. The mother-daughter team finished seventh overall in a field of 37 light planes and picked up three leg prizes as well.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Oil Firms Hold Transit Fund Key

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The author of a proposed constitutional amendment to end a 32-year ban on the use of highway construction funds for rapid transit predicted today a tough battle with oil companies for voter approval in November.

The measure by Sen. James R. Mills, D-San Diego, squeaked out of the Assembly Wednesday on a 56-19 vote. It goes directly on the Nov. 3 general election ballot and does not need to be signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Voting for the bill was Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Mills said the campaign for voter approval may be as tough as the legislative battle. The measure would allow revenue from the $1 billion highway construction fund to be used for rapid transit, smog control and freeway rerouting.

"The oil companies were very active in opposition to it," said Mills. "I believe they will spend a lot of money against it."

"The Governor was no help and the Reagan administration Department of Public Works was opposed," he said.

The proposed constitutional amendment would allow local government, with the approval of the voters, to use 25 per cent of its highway fund allotment for mass transit or smog control.

Mills said the funds also could be used to reroute freeways.

"For the first time the people at the state of California will have some recourse from the state Highway Commission which has been high-handed and dictatorial," he said.

He said if the voters agreed to the rerouting, counties could change the route of proposed freeways.

Legislative approval of the proposed construction amendment marked the first time since 1938 that voters will have a chance to determine how gasoline tax revenue is spent.

Supporters of the proposal said alternatives to the automobile must be developed for moving large masses of people. Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, said if alternatives are not created there is a danger in the future that people will "choke to death on smog."

"This is the only way to provide for transportation for the masses," said Lanterman.

Mills said adoption of the constitutional amendment would make about $80 million available statewide for local governmental agencies which decided to use the funds for other than highway construction purposes.

AUTO TAX

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to impose a 3 per cent state excise tax on new car sales, if Congress repeals the federal 7 per cent levy on the same transactions, failed to clear its final committee test Wednesday night.

The Senate Finance Committee defeated the measure by Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton, on a split voice vote despite the author's plea that it was a means for fighting environmental pollution and increasing the acres of beaches and parks.

The proposal would have raised $150 million a year that would buy new recreational property, finance smog research and help pay for other environmental protection programs.

FLAGS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate has approved a bill making it a crime to publicly defile, deface or cast contempt upon a U.S. or California state flag.

The measure by Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, R-San Diego, was returned to the lower house on a 35-0 vote Wednesday for concurrence in amendments. There was no debate.

BOMB PENALTY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill that could send a bomber to the gas chamber has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill, signed Wednesday, set the death penalty or life imprisonment—at the discretion of the jury—for conviction of willfully and maliciously exploding a "destructive device" causing great harm or injury to a person.

Reagan said, "As you know, a wave of bombings has hit the country in recent months, and California has not been spared.

"I know I share the hopes of all law-abiding citizens in the state that the new law will somehow help to curb this most tragic and senseless form of violence."

The measure by Assemblyman W. Craig Biddle, R-Riverside, included "Molotov cocktails" in the definition of "destructive devices."

CROSSING

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Toll Bridge Authority today was asked by the legislature to take another look at its decision to build the controversial Southern Crossing over San Francisco Bay.

The legislature Wednesday approved the resolution by Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, requesting the reassessment when the Senate passed it on a 34-0 vote.

Earlier legislation aimed at delaying construction of the $500 million span designed to stretch from Alameda to just south of San Francisco International Airport was defeated.

The Crown resolution—which does not carry the weight of a bill—simply calls on the agency to re-examine the need for such a bridge, which is scheduled for construction in 1972.

Pair Booked In Stolen Money Case

A 40-year-old Oakland man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on suspicion of receiving stolen property and assault with a deadly weapon after he was arrested in Sausalito at the Valhalla Inn.

His companion, a San Francisco man, was booked for investigation of receiving stolen property.

Police said Morris Dashutes of Oakland and 33-year-old Peter Joseph Desmond were arrested following the theft of a Little League contribution jar containing about $20 from the restaurant at 201 Bridgeway.

Valhalla owner Sally Stanford told officers she noticed the jar missing after the men left the restaurant about 1:45 p.m.

Miss Stanford and a companion, Evelyn Ross, went out to the parking lot, saw the pair in a car driven by Dashutes and asked the return of the money. According to police, Mrs. Ross attempted to block the lot exit and was struck and pushed out of the way by the auto as it sped away. She was not injured.

Both men were arrested minutes later when an officer observed the car northbound on Second Street and saw a jar being thrown from the passenger window, police said. Both were held in lieu of $5,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Car Embezzler Suspect Held

A Fairfax man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday and held in lieu of $2,500 bail on suspicion of embezzling a car from a Mill Valley firm last October.

Clarence Frank Spanos, 38, who gave his address as 270 Oak Manor Drive, was arrested Monday in Lake County on a warrant charging him with leasing a 1970 Ford station wagon from Small World Leasing, 25 East Blithedale Avenue, and failing to return it.

The car was found abandoned Monday at a drive-in theater in Clear Lake Highlands. Spanos was arrested when he called the California Highway Patrol to claim the car.

He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Forest Firemen Hope Wind Dies

LOVELL, Wyo. (UPI)—Firefighters hoped for a break in the weather today as they battled three wind-whipped forest fires which already have consumed more than 3,000 acres of prime timber country in northern Wyoming.

Forest Service personnel said they could gain an upper hand in the fight only if the winds, with gusts measuring up to 50 miles per hour, die down. "I don't believe there is any way to control this fire if the winds come up again," said Forest Service spokesman Tom Quinn, who has directed operations at a week-old blaze in the Shoshone National Forest west of Cody.

The other fires were burning uncontrolled on the Wind River Indian Reservation, scene of a fatal plane crash involving two firefighters Tuesday, and the Big Horn National Forest.

Manson Takes Stand To Protest Searches

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charles Manson took the witness stand at the Tate-LaBianca murder trial today to complain bitterly about the "humiliation" to which he said he was subjected in the County Jail.

Dressed in prison denims, his beard and hair stringy and uncombed, the 35-year-old ex-convict testified outside the presence of the jury on his motion to order the county sheriff to cease and desist the "harassment" of the defendant.

Manson described a "shakedown" which he said he undergoes a number of times every day in which he takes off all his clothes, opens his mouth, wiggles his tongue, turns his head to show each ear, raises his arms to show there is nothing in his armpits, shakes his hair, lifts one foot and then the other.

"It is symbolic of humiliation," he said. "It's like kicking a dead man."

Manson also testified that when he spoke with his attorney in jail an officer always was present and when he attempted to pass any written communication to the lawyer the officer read it first.

He said a guard also was present when he talked to prospective witnesses and within earshot of their conversation.

The state's star witness, Linda Kasabian, concluded her testimony Wednesday after 18 days on the witness stand and said she would continue her life as a hippie.

Bill To Govern Smog Devices

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday signed a bill requiring the smog control systems of new automobiles to be properly adjusted before the cars are sold.

"The sky looks bluer already," Reagan said as he signed the legislation in his office. Te author, Sen. Lewis F. Sherman, R-Berkeley, stood beside the governor.

Since 1966, auto manufacturers have been required to equip new cars with smog control systems meeting state standards. But, the governor said, they were not always properly adjusted. Under the new law, the manufacturer or the dealer will have to adjust the devices.

Poll Puts Gov. Reagan In Front

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Poll's latest survey, released today, showed Gov. Ronald Reagan with a slight gain in support for re-election.

His opponent, Democratic Assemblyman Jess Unruh, has held on to the same percentage he had in the previous poll three months ago.

The California Poll's latest survey, released today, showed a gain in support for Republican Governor Ronald Reagan.

The survey, based on a representative cross-section of 1,131 potential voters, showed Reagan with 50 per cent, compared to 49 per cent in May.

Unruh's total was identical to his May mark, 37 per cent.

If voting today 85 per cent of the Republicans and 25 per cent of Democrats said they favored Reagan. Unruh's figures were eight per cent of Republicans and 60 per cent of the Democrats.

Unruh had 66 per cent of the "liberal" votes to Reagan's 21 per cent, while Reagan had 70 per cent of the "conservative" and 46 per cent of the middle of the road votes.

Bike Rider Treated After Car Collision

Morgan Dewayne Evans, 15, of 627 Owen Drive, Novato, was treated at Hamilton Air Froce Base Hospital for a bruised knee received when his bicycle and a car collided yesterday.

One Is Freed In Marijuana Case

One of four persons arrested Aug. 14 in a San Rafael marijuana cultivation raid has been freed in Marin Municipal Court after no complaint was filed Judge Peter Allen Smith freed Andrea Jean Bernstein, 22.

A second person arrested in the case, Thomas Kenne Warner, 27, was ordered to appear Sept. 29 for preliminary hearing on the felony charge.

To Receive License

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Provided no written protests are filed, the Contractors State License Board will grant a license on Sept. 8 to Golden West Glass Co. for Reed W. Price at 915 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Marines Asked To Release Beach

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Rep. Alphonzo Bell, R-Calif., said Wednesday it was time for the Marine Corps to release 31-4 miles of beach at Camp Pendleton for public use.

Bell said the state originally had asked for 4.5 miles of beach but had trimmed its request. The state wants the land on a 25-year lease.

"I believe the time has come for aciton from the Marines," Bell said at a news conference.

"The thought that the prime beach frontage at Camp Pendleton should be fenced off to the public so that the Marines can use the land for maneuvers a few days each year, is preposterous," he said.

Partnership Sale Permit Is Issued

PALO ALTO (UPI) — The State Department of Corporations yesterday issued its first permit for sale of limited partnerships in order to trade in commodity futures contracts.

The recipient was Commodity Investors Associated of Palo Alto. The usual permit proviso of neither approving or disapproving was included.

The state permit limits sale of partnerships to California residents and states no partnership can be bought for less than $300, although additional $300 partnerships may be acquired by those properly qualified.

Novato Planners Approve Church

The Novato Plan Review Committee last night approved plans for construction of a building for St. Anthony of Padua Church at the south end of Cambridge Street on the south side of Novato Boulevard.

New landscape, irrigation and lighting plans will be prepared and minor changes in a retaining wall and handrails were required.

Action was postponed on requests for plan review of the Alameda Del Prado apartments and sign review for Frenchi's Drive-In Restaurant, and no action was taken in discussion of plans for a Shell service station at San Marin and San Andreas drives.

Use Of Drugs, Readiness Compared

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Pentagon report said today a study of drug usage among U.S. troops turned up no evidence of impairment of readiness of units in Vietnam.

The report by a special task force was made public by Defense Department witnesses as they appeared at a Senate hearing to testify on drug abuse in the military.

The task force concluded that "a serious and growing" national drug problem extended into the armed forces. But it said the extent of the problem was no greater in the military than outside.

Drug abuse by men in uniform "is not such that at this point military readiness is considered to be endangered," the report, dated June 24, said.

At another point it said that drug usage has had an adverse impact on unit readiness" in Vietnam.

Some witnesses earlier this week at the hearings testified that drug usage was quite high among men in Vietnam. Three former GIs appeared in Halloween type masks Wednesday to testify about their experiences.

One, who called himself Frankie, said of marijuana, "You smoke it and you get wrecked and you don't know what the hell you're doing."

The Pentagon report called for continuation of present policy of discharging drug offenders but recommended that they be eligible for treatment of their problems at veterans' hospitals. This is not now permitted in such cases.

The task force also suggested closer screening of those being taken into the armed services to weed out actual and potential drug users. It also put in a word for an all-volunteer Army, suggesting that this would cut the number of drug abusers being taken into the services.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., conducting the Senate hearings, described the three masked, nameless witnesses Wednesday as "brave men indeed" to appear.

Jail Sentences For A Sit-In

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Three San Diego State College students were sentenced to six months in county jail Tuesday for participating in a sit-in demonstration at the school May 13.

They were Rex D. Fulford, 26, Joyce G. Reading, 19, and Alphonso J. Powell, 22.

Fourteen other defendants were granted three years' probation but were fined from $180 to $360.

Municipal Court Judge William Graham said those who were sentenced to jail had taken more active roles in leadership during the demonstration. All 17 had pleaded guilty.

State Will Help In Span Safety Study

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Highway Engineer John A. Legarra has agreed to participate in a study of the Golden Gate Bridge approaches with a view toward making them safer for the motorist.

His decision came Wednesday at a California Highway Commission meeting during which Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge, Highway and Transportation District, called the approaches "old, inadequate and unsafe."

Luehring pointed to a July two-car collision that took 10 lives on a San Francisco approach.

The general manager said Legarra, representatives of the district and officials of San Francisco would conduct the study and make recommendations within 90 days.

"I seriously doubt that there is another section of state highway anywhere in this great State of California that carries the volume of traffic and is as antiquated and dangerous as these approaches," Luehring told the commission.

He said the roadways should be brought up to "modern standards in the interest of protecting the lives and safety of some 130,000 persons who cross the bridge every day."

State Public Works Director James A. Moe endorsed Leuhring's request for the study but pointed out that the stretch of approach where the accident occurred 'has a below-average statewide accident record."

Additional support came from Ben Farlatti, president of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce, who said there was even blocking from the "tennis shoe underground."

Vandalism Case To Juvenile Court

Mark David Blodgett, 18-year-old accused of the Aug. 9 burglary and vandalism of the San Marin Recreation Center, has been referred to juvenile court for possible certification as a minor.

Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith yesterday set Sept. 2 for receipt of a report on whether Blodgett would be accepted by the juvenile court.

Tiburon Completes Review Of Budget

The Tiburon City Council completed review of its 1970-71 budget last night after grappling with an assortment of fiscal snags.

The budget, which now stands at about $685,000, up $120,000 over 1969-70, is scheduled to be adopted at the council's next meeting Monday night. If the spending program is not altered further, the city tax rate will go from 65 cents to 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Meeting last night as a committee of the whole in a move designed to informalize procedure, the council passed with minimum discussion the police services, planning, retained services, streets and ways and parks and parkways accounts beofre clear differences arose.

When the council took up the program development account, Councilman M. Carlisle Becker noted with concern that no funds were provided for recreational programs aboard an ark renovated by Tiburon Peninsula teen-agers for youth activities.

Becker, a landscape architect who has assisted with the ark renovation, successfully recommended that $250 be placed into the budget, up from last year's $212 expenditure.

The sum was added, however, with the stipulation that the youths submit activity plans to the parks and recreation commission. This was intended to assuage concern of Councilman Branwell D. Fanning that the teen-agers might feel they were assured of an annual handout, no questions asked, from the city.

The night's major disagreements came when funding for drainage study and construction was considered.

First, Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood, questioning why no funds had been allocated for mapping of the city's drainage trouble spots, won a 4-1 council vote to take $1,500 from contingencies for the work, provided no federal funds are available. Albert H. Sennett dissented.

An attempt was then made by Becker to raise from $3,000 to $9,000 funds for temporary drainage construction to stem the flow of Tiburon waters into Belvedere, but that was defeated when Mayor Denis T. Rice abstained after his council colleagues had deadlocked 2-2.

Becker, chairman of a Belvedere-Tiburon committee that studied common drainage woes, joined Miss Ellinwood in calling the $3,000 "wholly inadequate."

But Becker, while saying a "demonstration of good faith to Belvedere is needed," served notice he opposed spending a separate $21,000 drainage fund held by the city.

This money was deposited with the city as the private share of future improvements at the time the Tiburon Lodge and Safeway store were constructed five years ago without permanent drainage facilities.

Although city staff has previously indicated the funds cannot legally be used for temporary drainage work, the council asked for a final opinion at its Monday night session.

Poisoning Blamed On Chlorine Gas

RICHMOND (UPI) — Chlorine gas was blamed yesterday for 17 cases of violent poisoning near a chemical company plant.

The victims, who were on a rifle range and motorcycle hill, inhaled the gas which had apparently leaked from tanks at the Tops Chemical Co.

Fire Chief Milton Hathaway said the incident occurred while workmen were cleaning steel tanks at the chemical plant and residual chlorine escaped.

The victims reported to three hospitals within a couple of hours after the incident. They complained of vomiting, headaches, sore eyes and burning throats.

They were released after treatment.

Gun Shots Fired At Judge's Home

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — Police reported yesterday that someone fired six gun shots at the home of Municipal Court Judge Walter Condley here.

Investigators said Condley reported the shots were fired about 3:30 a.m. Tuesday morning.

Police said five of the .45-caliber bullets struck the home and another hit the curb outside the house.

Two of the bullets passed through the walls of the home but there were no injuries.

Marin Soccer Ref Tells Of World Cup Pressures

By DAVID EINSTEIN

To Americans, football means touchdowns, first downs, running, passing and the Super Bowl.

To the rest of the world, football means soccer, the largest spectator sport on the face of the earth.

Soccer is to football as baseball is to cricket. The American fan may sit in front of his television every Sunday from September to January, and get drunk if his team loses. The soccer fan, be he British, Brazilian, German or Italian, may travel hundreds of miles to see a game, and kill himself if his team loses.

Or he may kill somebody else. although suicides are sometimes recorded as a result of losses in the World Cup, much more loss of life occurs when, as in Rio De Janeiro two months ago, a country celebrates victory in that greatest of all sports events. Forty-four people died in two days of festivities following Brazil's win over Italy in the final game at Aztec Stadium in Mexico City.

Henry Landauer of San Rafael was at the World Cup, this summer. In fact, he was one of 30 officials from around the world, and the only one from the United States.

Officiating a World Cup match is more prestigious than umpiring a World Series game. It also entails more responsibility After all, one rotten call and 100,000 fans could start a riot. Don't laugh. In Turkey a few years ago, a referee blew a call and more than 200 people died in the ensuing argument.

Every World Cup match has one referee, who is responsible for every aspect of the game, and two linesmen, who assist him. Landauer refereed one game in Mexico, the Sweden-Uruguay match at Puebla, and was a linesman in three others: Russia-Belgium and Mexico-Belgium at Aztec Stadium, and the Italy-Mexico semi-final at Toluca.

It was a great honor for Landauer, a partner in the Pier 15 bar in San Rafael and Patterson's in Sausalito, to work four games. "I had twice the assignments of some of the European greats," he said.

Landauer spent five weeks in Mexico, including one week of training prior to the start of the competition. The officials were based in Mexico City and traveled to other cities for games via minibuses.

The training consisted of conferences, movies and on-the-field exercises, all of which were conducted by the Federation International Football Association. This was the first time for such training, and it paid off. There were few cautions issued during the matches, and no ejections. It was the cleanest World Cup ever.

Landauer talked of the pressure of the event. "There was much at stake, both for the players and the referees," he said, emphasizing that there are 22 players on the field during the game but only one referee. Players make mistakes that go unnoticed, but the referee cannot afford to make mistakes because all eyes are on him.

There was tremendous pressure during the last eight games, one of which was the Italy-Mexico affair at Toluca. Landauer said of the Mexican fans, "There was the most fanatical outburst of emotion I've ever seen." He said that the celebrations in Mexico City following Mexican victories would last all night and keep the officials awake.

Pressure is only relative to how many people are watching. At Aztec Stadium there were 112,000 at the Belgium-Mexico game. "I thought my eardrums were going to bust," said Landauer. "That was the worst ever."

It takes a remarkable man to control a match before that many fans. "The minute you set foot in the stadium your responsibility starts," says Landauer. "The referee on the soccer field is like a policeman — you can't be soft, you've got to be tough. The first 10 minutes you have to establish your game control."

Landauer's control, according to worldwide newspaper critics, was exceptional. From Germany, his home until 1947, when he came to the U.S., at the age of 18, a paper called Sportberichte praised him for his work in the Sweden-Uruguay game. It was particularly impressed with the way he saw through the time-wasting tactics of the South Americans, and adjusted the time of the game accordingly (The referee controls the official clock).

In fact, he added three minutes to the first half, and five to the second in order to have 90 minutes actual playing time, taking into account timeouts, injuries and the stalling maneuvers.

Although he has played soccer since the age of 10, Landauer had not even seen a World Cup until 1966, when he went as a spectator to England. Now he is a veteran official and hopes to be chosen to work the next World Cup, in Germany in 1974. The event, like the Olympics, is held in a different country every four years.

If he is so honored, it will fall once again to his business partner Bill Patterson to take charge of things while Landauer takes his place at the top of the soccer world.

Just how special the top of the world is can be seen by the fact that each of the 150 member nations of FIFA nominated seven officials for the World Cup. That's a total of 1,050, out of which only 30 were chosen.

According to Landauer, only a handful of men repeat as World Cup officials. But he is not counting himself out.

Twenty-three years ago Henry Landauer left Germany as an 18-year-old tool and dye maker. It would be nice to go back as a World Cup referee.

Memorial Suggested For A Good Sport

San Rafael educator Alfred N. Thomson, who died this week at age 54, was quite well known in local sports circles. Al starred in football at San Francisco State and later coached football and swimming at San Rafael High, but his real love was soccer. In 1946 he was a member of the state champion S.F. Olympic Club and long after his active soccer days he would be advocating the kickball sport here in Marin. In 1968 he was quoted here: "I wish our league (Marin) would get a soccer program going. That's the greatest game going and it gave me the happiest days of my life."

Last winter the Marin County Athletic League finally added soccer to its interscholastic schedule due in part, I believe, to Thomson's urging.

Wouldn't it be nice if the MCAL were to institute an Alfred N. Thomson Memorial Trophy to be presented annually to the league's most inspirational soccer player.

I think Al would get a kick out of that.

Some Reel Big Piscatorial News

MY FAVORITE fishermen at the moment are John Duarte, a San Quentin correctional officer, and Earle F. Johnson of San Rafael. They really hit the piscatorial jackpots this week.

Duarte, fishing out of Bodega Bay Monday on a party boat chartered by patrons of the Sugar 'n' Spice Restaurant of Boyes Hot Springs, reeled in a 47-pound salmon, believed to be the largest at Bodega in several years.

"And to think I just went along for the halibut," I thought I heard him say.

And Johnson stirred all kinds of excitement this week at Yosemite National Park when he caught a 25½-inch German Brown in the Merced River between Merced and Washburn lakes at an elevation of about 7,250 feet.

According to the Yosemite News Department, Ranger Bart Reed of Merced reported Johnson approached him the other morning and said, "Well, here's your breakfast," to which Reed replied: "It would be a sacrilege to eat it."

The fish, weighing almost five pounds and believed to be a record for that area and altitude, is now in deep freeze awaiting a taxidermist's skills.

Stars' Wives Promote Charity

SURPRISE VISITORS to the S.F. Giants Boosters Club's awards banquet in Fairfax last night were Mesdames Juan Marichal, Matthew Emory Hazeltine Jr. Tito Fuentes and Len Rhode promoting ticket sales for the big Professional Athlete's Wives Association fashion show at the S.F. Hilton Sept. 10. They and their famous hubbies along with dozens of other hubby-wife teams will model the latest fashions in the annual charity affair, said ex-San Anselman Evie Hazeltine.

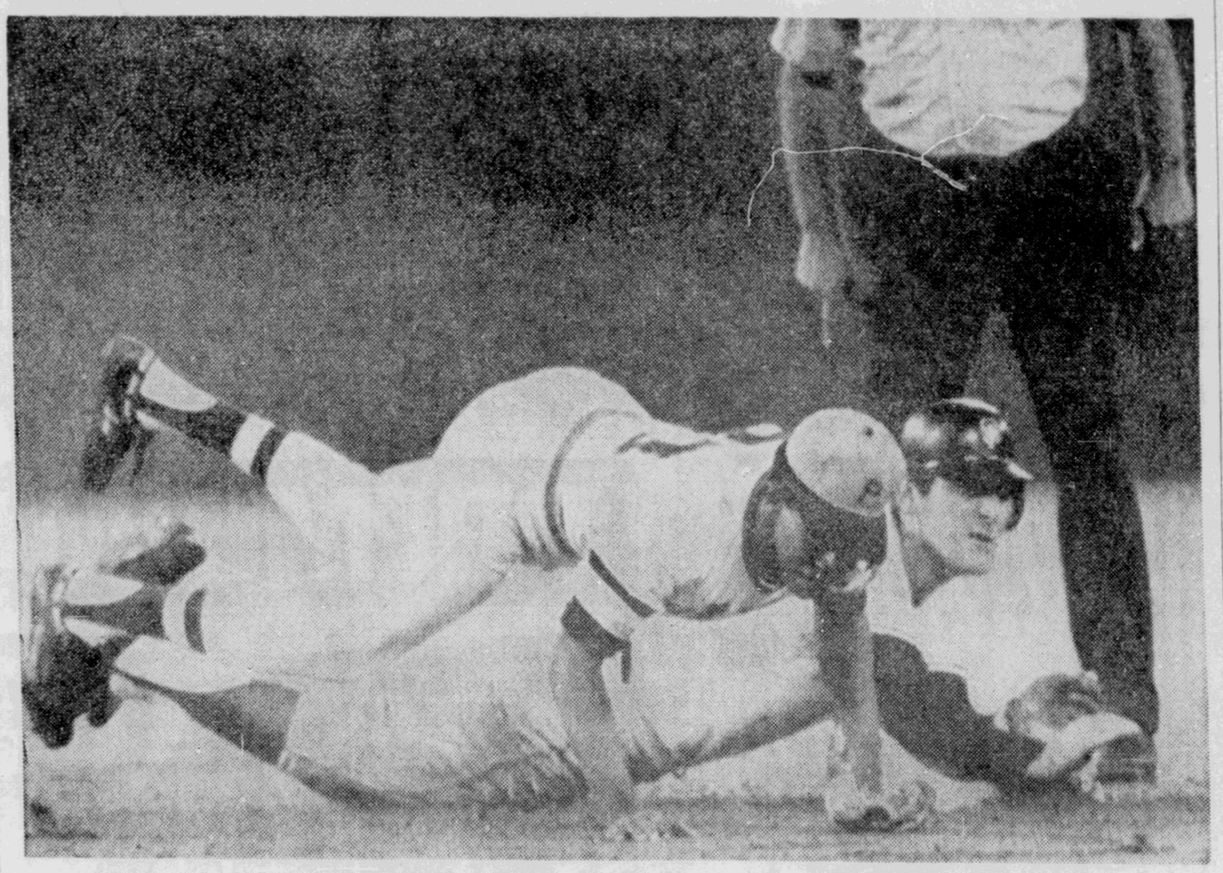
TWELVE-YEAR-OLD Craig DiGrazia of Novato leaves today for Columbus, Ohio where he will compete in the Grand National Quarter-Midget Auto Association Championships Aug. 29-30. Craig will vie in two classses — stock, in which he holds a world record, and modified. Last year he posted second fastest time and finished fifth in class at the Grand Nationals.

He Stuck In His Thumb . . . Ouch

CATCHER JESS MUNYON of the Sohner Tree Service softball team has the craziest thumb this side of Jack Horner. Says team leader Keith Fraser "With the thumb seperated in three places as a result of an injury in last weekend's state tournament games, Jess may be limited to pinchhitting duties tomorrow night."

That's what you call a joint effort.

EX-DRAKE STAR Don Alvarado of San Anselmo, scheduled to be one of All-American and Heisman Trophy candidate Jim Plunkett's targets this year at Stanford, is described thusly in the Farm's grid pressbook: "Sat out the '69 season due to abundance of receivers . . . Has excellent hands and can catch in heavy traffic . . . Not the fastest among receivers, but has the knack of getting open . . . Will become more effective with game experience . . . Figures prominently in offensive plans." Don, a soph, is 6-0, 187, plays split end, wears No. 85.



MISSION UNACCOMPLISHED

San Francisco catcher Dick Deitz set out to break up double play at second base but failed as he was forced out (above) and Jim Ray Hart doubled at first in third inning of game at Pittsburgh last night. Giants went on to win it, however, 7-4, to square their season record at 61-61, details of which appear on page 30. (UPI telephoto)

Raiders' Stabler Called Clever Southpaw In Pads

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI)—Bear Bryant once praised Kenny Stabler as the finest quarterback he ever has coached at Alabama.

That was 1968. Now, after a two-year absence from the gridiron, Stabler is proving that his passing touch is still as delicate as his quiet southern drawl.

"Damned if he doesn't remind me of one of those clever southpaw pitchers," said Stabler's teammate Ted Davis at the Oakland Raiders training camp Wednesday. "You know, the control guys. Like Preacher Roe and Whitey Ford."

Stabler and the Raiders are preparing at their Santa Rosa training camp for their third exhibition contest Saturday night versus the Los Angeles Rams.

Sharing quarterbacking duties with veteran first-stringer Daryle Lamonica, Stabler threw three touchdown passes in both the Raiders' opening exhibitions against Baltimore and Philadelphia.

"The two-year layoff hasn't hurt me," Stabler said. "You might think football would be strange to me now after being out of it for so long. Yet it really isn't."

Stabler's introduction to pro competition hasn't been without its kinks. "They intercepted me three times at Baltimore," he noted.

What Coach John Madden especially liked about Stabler against the Eagles was that he suffered adversity and came back. Stabler threw one touchdown pass immediately after having an earlier one nullified by a penalty.

"You can't worry," Stabler shrugged. "You dig down into your bag and find something else."

"That's what you look for," you welcome it in the exhibition season. You want to see if a man retains his poise when things go wrong.

"Stabler is not all that flawless yet," Madden continued, "but he's an exceptonal prospect."

The young southpaw slinger is realistic. He realizes that Laminica is No. 1.

DEMAND FOR SPURRIER

Unshakable Nolan Will Start Brodie

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Despite pressure from fans and newsmen, San Francisco 49ers Coach Dick Nolan is going to start his No. 1 quarterback in Saturday night's exhibition game against the Miami Dolphins.

Sound unlikely? It's not, if you consider that the 49ers No. 2 quarterback is probably the main reason for the near-sellout crowd of 60,000 Floridians who'll pack the Orange Bowl.

Steve Spurrier, who won the Heisman Trophy as a quarterback for the University of Florida Gators in 1966, is who they have paid to see.

Veteran signal-caller John Brodie is just an incidental performer in what Florida football fans hope will be a showdown battle between Spurrier and Miami quarterback Bob Griese.

Griese was Spurrier's closest rival for the Heisman Trophy in 1966, when he was calling signals at Purdue.

Coach Nolan, asked to compare the two quarterbacks, said, "They're different types."

Although Nolan would like to please the fans, he considers club development more important and has decided that Brodie should call signals the first half, with Spurrier coming in for the second.

A's Hit The Road On Crucial Trip

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland A's are off today on the start of a nine-game road trip which could make or break their chances to catch Minnesota in the American League West race.

The A's, held to 23 hits in four games, broke out for an even dozen against an assortment of Detroit pitchers Wednesday night for a 7-0 victory over the Tigers.

The victory, although welcomed by manager John McNamara, didn't change things for the A's as far as the A.L. West race goes. They remained in third place, six games behind the Twins.

"I'll take it," said McNamara, who was beginning to think the A's might never come out of their swoon after facing such outstanding lefthanders as Mike Cuellar, Dave McNally and Mickey Lolich.

SORE SHOULDER

The Tigers started another lefthander, Mike Kilkenny, Wednesday night but he left in the third with a sore shoulder and the A's ahead, 2-0, on Don Mincher's 21st homer in the second.

The A's picked up another run off Joe Niekro in the fourth and batted around for four more runs off Daryl Patterson and Fred Scherman in the eighth to ice the game,

Meanwhile, Diego Segui stopped the Tigers on four hits —three singles and a double—to notch his eighth victory against nine losses.

By going the distance, Segui gave the A's bullpen a day's rest. The team is off today but travels to Cleveland for the start of the road trip. Chances are the A's will face Sam McDowell, who beat them last week, in the opener of the weekend series.

McNamara will start Jim Hunter, who has failed in his last four starts to gain his 16th victory.

"If they (the Indians) follow their rotation, it'll be McDowell again," said McNamara. "Sure, he's a good pitcher, but if we are going to stay in the race we have to start beating pitchers like him. We are getting down to the final weeks and every game now seems twice as big as before."

Mincher drove in a third run Wednesday night with a bases loaded walk in the eighth and Felipe Alou helped out with two runs batted in. Bert Campaneris had two hits, scored and drove in one.

And Reggie Jackson, a late game defensive replacement, drove in a run with a solid single.

"Campy's single in the eighth was a big hit," said McNamara, "because it got us a run and it was encouraging to see Reggie hit when he did. We need help from every man now."

Cubs Sneak Back In Race

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Unnoticed and unheralded, the Chicago Cubs are slipping back into the National League's Eastern Division race.

The Cubs, who were written off as a contender in June when they lost 12 straight games, are quietly getting back into the chase as both the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Mets continue to play erratic ball.

Both the Pirates and Mets lost Wednesday while the Cubs routed San Diego 12-2 for their seventh victory in their last 12 games. The Cubs are now just four games behind Pittsburgh and 1 1-2 games behind the Mets.

1969 COLLAPSE

A year ago at this point, the Cubs were leading the division by 7 1-2 games but they collapsed and the Mets charged in to win it all. This season the Cubs were five games ahead of June 13th but they were knocked out of first place on June 24th and haven't been in the lead since.

Jim Hickman, the last of the original Mets, hit two homers and drove in five runs to pace the Chicago victory. Hickman now has 28 homers this year. Winning pitcher Ferguson Jenkins, Billy Williams, Joe Pepitone, Johnny Callison and Glenn Beckert also homered for the Cubs.

GOOD SHOT

Jenkins, now 15-14, has a good shot at winning 20 games for the fourth consecutive season.

In the other games, Houston topped New York 9-4, San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 7-4, Montreal beat Cincinnati 8-6, Atlanta nipped Philadelphia 3-2 and Los Angeles beat St. Louis 4-2.

In the American League, Baltimore beat Milwaukee 3-2, Minnesota blanked New York 3-0, Oakland beat Detroit 7-0, Chicago routed Boston 13-5, Kansas City nipped Washington 2-1, and Cleveland beat California 2-0.

The Mets played the way they used to when they were a baseball joke while losing to Houston. The Mets made four errors and Ken Singleton turned Denis Menke's fly into a three-run triple in the third inning. Tom Seaver gave up 10 hits in six innings and suffered the loss, his third in his last four starts.

.500 Plateau Consoles The Giants

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants have finally reached the elusive .500 plateau.

It took heavy batting help Wednesday night from Willie McCovey and Bobby Bonds, but the Giants handed the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-4 thumping and evened their own season won-lost record at a balanced 61-61.

It is a modest attainment, but with the Giants 20 1-2 games behind the National League West-leading Cincinnati Reds, it was about the only milestone within reach.

JUAN'S SEVENTH

Juan Marichal, who has never gotten back on his usual pace since coming off the sick list, gained his seventh victory against nine losses on the power of McCoveys' two-run homer and Bond's two-run double.

The win enabled the Giants to head homeward from Pittsburgh with two wins out of the three-game Pirate series and five wins out of their last six games.

After a day off today, the Giants swing back into action Friday night at Candlestick Park against the Chicago Cubs.

32ND JACKPOT

In Wednesday night's win over the Pirates, McCovey's 404-foot blast over the centerfield wall followed a walk by Willie Mays in the fifth inning. It was McCovey's 32nd jackpot shot of the season and staked Giants to a 4-0 lead.

San Francisco took a 7-2 lead in the eighth on Bonds' double, which followed a pair of walks. Bonds came home on Tito Fuentes' three-bagger.

The loss was charged to Luke Walker, now 10-4, and it spoiled a golden opportunity the Pirates had to gain ground on the New York Mets in the Eastern Division, as the Mets lost to Houston in an afternoon contest.

Raiders' Madden Seeks Adversity

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—Coach John Madden planned to run his Oakland Raiders through a pair of hurry-up workouts today in preparation for their Saturday night foray with the Los Angeles Rams.

After a light morning workout Friday Madden will take his rookies and veterans southward for what he hopes will be a game full of adversity.

"That s what you look for," he said. "Actually, you welcome it in the exhibition season. You want to see if a man retains his poise when things go wrong."

AMERICA'S CUP

Aussie Protest Strategy Fails

By CONNIE RYAN

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—An Australian protest having been denied, the way was cleared today for start of the Aussie-France America's Cup qualification series Friday as the U.S. final trials appeared to be settling into the expected Intrepid-Valiant duel.

Australia's Gretel II syndicate, in a letter to the International Race and Protest Committee Wednesday morning, said it feared there had been erroneous official measurements and asked that both Gretel II and France be remeasured, lest they be ineligible for the Cup races against the U.S. winner.

The committee, out on Rhode Island Sound watching the U.S. trials and practicing its race procedure, didn't get the protest until late afternoon, but then made quick work of it. They answered the Aussies by mid-evening with a letter advising them "conditions governing the France-Australia match have been complied with and we believe there is no reasonable ground for further action . . ."

The Aussies felt they had scored their point. Most yacht experts believe that the chief result of their protest, had it been allowed, would have been to force France to change trim tabs at its rudder, about a two hour operation. But the warning was clear to the U.S. too, and Valiant and Heritage would have faced major changes. There would be minimum effect on Intrepid.

FAVORITES WIN

Intrepid, skippered by Bill Ficker of Newport Beach, Calif., and Valiant, under Bill McCullough of Riverside, Conn., were emerging as expected as the contenders for U.S. selection. Valiant won its second straight Wednesday, beating Heritage by 3:47 and Intrepid, loser to Valiant in Tuesday's first race, trounced Weatherly by 7:31.

Valiant was to race against Weatherly and Intrepid against Heritage today.

Gretel II was out of the water today for final work on its hull, and France, in drydock for the past three days, was refloated today and taken on a short shakedown sail.

Brawley To Host Babe Ruth Series

BRAWLEY, Calif. (UPI) — Host Brawley will meet Ewing Township, N.J., and Pine Bluff, Ark., will face Centralia, Wash., in opening games of the Babe Ruth World Series Friday night, it was announced today.

The nine-team, double-elimination baseball tournament for 14 and 15-year-olds runs through Aug. 29. Games are set at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. each day.

On the second night, Jefferson City, Mo., will take on Darien, Conn., and Nashville, Ohio. Honolulu is scheduled to meet the loser of the Brawley-Ewing Township game Sunday night.

El Segundo, Calif., last year's champion, didn't make the field this season. In fact, only Nashville, Darien and Mt. Healthy have played in the Babe Ruth World Series before.

Met Shortstop Equals Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bud Harrelson of the New York Mets equalled a major league record for most consecutive games without an error, by a shortstop in one season Thursday in a 9-4 loss to the Houston Astros.

Harrelson ties the record of 54 set last year by Don Kessinger of the Chicago Cubs. The major league record for consecutive errorless games by a shortstop is 68, spanning two seasons, set by Buddy Kerr of the New York Giants in 1946-47.

Ontario Speedway Opens Saturday

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI)—Ontario Motor Speedway opens practice Saturday for its inaugural race, the California 500, on the $25.5 million track's 2 1-2-mile oval.

Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., is expected to be the first driver on the track at noon. Donohue was second at Indianapolis this year.

The California 500 will be run Sept. 6.

Sohner Team In Do-Or-Die Situation

It will be a battle for survival for Sohner Tree Service tomorrow night in the California State Softball Tournament when the San Anselmo team faces the winner of tonight's clash between Stornetta's Dairy of Napa and the Watsonville Merchants.

Game time tomorrow is 9 o'clock at Napa's Kennedy Park.

After beating Stornetta's (2-0) and losing to Wilson-Russell Ford of Vallejo (1-0) last weekend, the Treemen joined 12 other clubs in the losers' bracket of the 16-team double elimination tourney.

Only Redding and Vallejo with 3-0 marks remain in the unbeaten ranks. Los Banos was the only club eliminated during the first weekend of action.

To gain the finals Sunday night, Sohner would have to win Friday night, grab two more victories Saturday afternoon and then win another pair Sunday afternoon.

As difficult as it might seem, this is a similar task to the one performed by Sohner in the recent Tri-County District Finals when the Treemen, a forfeit loser in their second game on an eligibility claim, stormed back to win seven straight and capture the championship for Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties.

Ace righthander Morey Swarm will hurl tomorrow's contest while Walt Tyler is hopefully scheduled to pitch Saturday's first game at noon.

DAVIS CUP

U.S. To Retain Winning Combo

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The U. S. Davis Cup team picked to defend the title it has won the last two years consists of the same players as 1969.

Edward Turville, the nonplaying captain of the team, announced Wednesday Arthur Ashe, Stan Smith, Bob Lutz and Cliff Richey would be the defenders.

Which two of the four will play the four singles matches and which will play on the doubles team will not be known until the Davis Cup draw the day before the play starts here Aug. 29.

MEET GERMANS

The U. S. team will meet West Germany in the three-day matches.

In naming the four, Turville emphasized he could still make one change up to five days before the match. He suggested former Davis Cupper Clark Graebner still has a chance to play himself onto the team.

As he and Smith played singles and Smith and Lutz doubles in last year's 5-0 sweep over the challenging Romanian team. But this year the roles may be reversed.

Ashe has been inconsistent this year and Smith, troubled by a shoulder injury, also has been spotty.

Richey is a strong contender for a singles post by virtue of outstanding play this year, including three wins in four matches with Ashe.

Lutz and Smith are the most successful doubles team among the four Americans.

The West German team is the same as that of last year. Certain to play both singles and doubles are Wilhelm Bungert and Christian Kuhnke, the stars of the interzonal competion triumphs.

Substitutes named by the team are Ingo Bunding and Jurgen Fassbender.

Manson Is Hero To Hijackers Of Ship

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI)—Charles Manson is their hero. Violent revolution is their cause.

But Clyde McKay and Alvin Glatowski, the two Americans who hijacked a U.S. munitions ship to Cambodia five months ago, stand little chance of meeting Manson or joining the battle to "overthrow the pigs" they say control the United States.

They are prisoners of the Cambodian government. During the last three months McKay and Glatowski have been confined to a rusting World War II landing ship moored in the Mekong River beside the Chrui Changwar Naval Base two miles east of Phnom Penh.

American and Cambodian officials have not talked to them in an official capacity since they diverted the U.S. merchant ship Columbia Eagle, which was carrying war materials to U.S. bases in Thailand.

Silence has answered their requests for political asylum.

McKay, 26, of San Diego, Calif., and Glatowski, 20, of Long Beach, Calif., admitted in an interview that they picked the wrong time to hijack the ship. The day after they sailed the vessel into Kompong Som (Sihanoukville), the 15-year-old regime of Prince Norodom Sihanouk was overthrown and war broke out with the Vietnamese Communists.

But the two merchant marines, described by the ship's skipper as "pot-smoking, pill-popping hippies," said they have no regrets over their actions as part of a plan to set up a center here for American military deserters from Vietnam.

(Two of the crewmen on the Columbia Eagle were Marinites — first mate Herrick E. Morgan of Sausalito and chief engineer Walter Drabina of San Rafael. In an interview with the Independent-Journal in May, Morgan said that contrary to popular belief, he was convinced the ship's takeover was extensively planned.

Wearing Van Dyke style beards, the soft-spoken hijackers smoked cigarettes and drank coffee during an interview under the shade of a tree close by the ship, on which they said they were well-treated and well-fed.

McKay was dressed in fawn-colored Levis and an orange shirt in stark contrast to the blue salve that covered most of his arms and around his eyes as treatment for rashes and sores.

Glatowski, who said his wife has written to him telling that their divorce will be final next February, wore off-white jeans, a bright green T-shirt and rubber tire sole sandals.

They said they still had some of the $2,000 they brought with them, although their guards changed it for Cambodian riels at 50 riels to one U.S. dollar, 4.5 riels below the official rate and close to 50 riels under the black market rate.

Their guards, they said, bring them whatever they can pay for, including marijuana, which is in plentiful supply. "We get marijuana in our ducks' egg soup. Great flavor," Glatowski said.

They said U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom jets "go out of their way to buzz" the prison ship. "They love to harass us. We go out on deck and give them the peace sign."

On the prison ship with them, they said, are about 12 Cambodian political prisoners and a third American whom they identified as Cpl. Larry Humphrey. They said Humphrey had deserted from the U.S. Army in Thailand seven months ago. He now has yellow jaundice, but Cambodian officers refuse to allow newsmen aboard to see him, they said.

In reply to one question, McKay said: "I think we have reinforced our views since coming here. We came to a country that was neutral for a long time and it seems that through their meddling, the United States has extended the war to Cambodia.

"It seems that there is nowhwere in the world that is safe. We thought that the third world might be a refugee sooner or later. But it's not."

Glatowski said: "I am prepared to returned to the United States with a gun to participate in guerrilla warfare. Today there are many organizations in the United States having guerrilla warfare.

"The heads (drug addicts) are joining other suppressed minorities. Manson was starting that . . .

Station Wagon A Ruse?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Angela Davis' 1959 station wagon may have been placed in front of a Black Panther home here in an elaborate ruse to throw authorities off her trail, a police official said today.

The discovery of the dusty Rambler Tuesday night culminated in an intensive but unsuccessful search by 50 officers and FBI agents in the immediate area for the black militant.

The car, identified in a nationwide all-points bulletin when Miss Davis was first sought in connection with a San Rafael, Calif. courtroom shootout that left four dead, was found in front of the home of Franklin D. Alexander, 29. Alexander, a Black Panther, is president of the Communist Che-Lumumba Club of which Miss Davis is a member.

SPECULATION

The discovery of the car touched off speculation that Miss Davis might have returned to Los Angeles. She was reported in her home town of Birmingham, Ala., last weekend.

The car was initially considered a prime link to Miss Davis because Alabama authorities cited unconfirmed reports that she was seen driving a "blue Rambler station wagon." But officers in Alabama were unable to substantiate the tip from an informant.

The finding of the car and reports from witnesses the same day they had seen Miss Davis at Los Angeles International Airport intensified police investigations here into her whereabouts.

DIFFERENT CLOTHING

However, the police official said investigators discounted the reported sightings of the woman because all of the witnesses said the woman in question was wearing different clothing.

"The so-called sightings appear contrived, probably to take the heat off the search of the southern U.S. from where she may pull out of the country," the official said.

Alexander appeared at a news conference and scoffed at the police bulletin on Miss Davis' car, saying she "left it here...because the damn thing doesn't run.

Alexander also said he would talk with authorities who want to question him, but in the presence of his attorney.

Assistant State Attorney General Albert W. Harris Jr. said earlier he was looking for Alexander because he once possessed a gun purchased by Miss Davis that was used in the courtoom shootout.

Bruce Stays Away From Paris Talks; A Wait-See Game

Brief Statement Avoids Use Of Word 'Boycott' Of Discussions

PARIS (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce today stayed away from the 80th session of the deadlocked talks on the Vietnam War. A brief statement avoided the word boycott but said the United States was awaiting a change in the Communist attitude.

North Vietnam's chief negotiator, Xuan Thuy, has boycotted the talks for the past 10 months.

Philip C. Habib, Bruce's deputy, delivered the shortest U.S. statement to date in the negotiations, saying that the talks "should be conducted in a genuinely conciliatory atmosphere and without demands for obviously unacceptable preconditions."

Habib announced that Bruce would not attend shortly before the session started.

"Ambassador Bruce will be working in his office all day," Habib told newsmen. A U.S. spokesman said the American delegation was "not going to interpret" Bruce's absence but Habib made it clear Bruce was not staying away because of illness.

Asked if Bruce would attend the session next Thursday, Habib said: "No decision has yet been made as to whether he will attend next week's meeting."

Habib declined to say whether Bruce's action was connected with the continuing boycott by the chief negotiators for North Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

"I really don't want to comment about it," Habib replied when asked if there was a connection.

Xuan Thuy left the talks last November when Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge resigned and President Nixon did not immediately name a successor.

Bruce was appointed Lodge's successor earlier this summer and has made two appearances as the chief U.S. negotiator. At the end of last week's session, the North Vietnamese delegation announced that Xuan Thuy was returning to Paris, but no date was mentioned.

Habib's official statement, submitted at the session today, covered only half of a typewritten page and was the shortest since the talks began 19 months ago.

It called for genuine negotiations by the Communists and added:

"We are fully prepared to proceed on this basis. We continue to look to your side for a similar attitude toward these meetings."

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong reiterated previous statements at the meeting today. They demanded total, rapid and unconditional withdrawal of all American troops from Vietnam and the removal of the existing South Vietnamese government.

The meeting today lasted two hours and 58 minutes—shortest to date. The shortest previous session was the one last week

Israel Asks Jarring To Begin Peace Talks

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel indicated today its apparent satisfaction with the U. S. reply to its charges of Egyptian cease-fire violations by signaling it is ready to start peace talks with the Arab states.

Diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said Israel formally asked U. N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring to begin talks at the foreign minister level and at a site other than New York.

The Israeli ambassador to the U. N., Joseph Tekoah, submitted the requests from Foreign Minister Abba Eban to Jarring at a meeting in New York Wednesday night.

Israeli sources said the government was pleased by what it considered Washington's "partial corroboration" of its charges that Egypt had violated the cease-fire by moving missiles closer to the Suez Canal.

The cease-fire, now in its 13th day, held along the Suez Canal.

But an Israeli spokesman said two Israeli soldiers were killed and four wounded in a battle with Arab guerrillas in the Mt. Hermon area of the upper Galilee Wednesday night. He said the guerrillas attacked an Israeli position under cover of a mortar barrage laid down from the slopes of the mountain. The spokesman also reported two separate mortar attacks on Israeli border settlements from Jordan during the night.

The Tel Aviv spokesman said Israeli warplanes attacked Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan for 90 minutes in retaliation for the rocket and mortar attacks. It was the fourth air raid inside Jordan since the cease-fire.

The start of the negotiations toward a political settlement in the Middle East had been held up by the controversy over alleged cease-fire violations by Egypt.

The sources said Israel would appoint its representative to the talks as soon as Jarring replies to its views.

Egypt and Jordan, the other parties to the negotiations, favor beginning the talks in New York.

The diplomatic sources said Israel suggested the talks begin in a Mediterranean or European capital where both sides would have shorter lines of communication to their governments. They said Israel suggested that a more quiet atmosphere would be available if the talks were not in New York.

Tekoah told Jarring that Israel felt the talks should be held at foreign minister level to show serious intent and lend greater weight to the deliberations, the sources said.

They said Jarring had asked Eban Aug. 12 for his views on where and at what level the talks should be held, but Israel waited to get U. S. comment on the alleged cease-fire violations.

Israel was pleased with what it considered Washington's "partial corrobration" of the charges and is now ready to proceed, diplomatic sources in Tel Aviv said today.

Four Cited For Alleged Deer Hunting

The district director of the U.S. Immigration Service, a retired San Rafael physician and two others have been cited for allegedly hunting white deer on Point Reyes National Seashore lands.

Scheduled to appear in West Marin Justice Court Sept. 2 are Cecil W. Fullilove, 51, of 1 Las Cuesta Drive, Greenbrae, director of the San Francisco immigration office; Dr. Millard R. Ottinger, 77, of 1 Edward Court, San Rafael; Douglas G. Adams, 26, of 120 Wimbledon Way, San Rafael, Point Reyes Station realty broker, and James R. Aman, 31, of Point Reyes Station, a truck driver.

Dr. Ottinger recently sold 1,970 acres in seashore land holdings to the federal government for $1.6 million.

According to Stella Phillipscheck, clerk of the justice court, the four were cited Sunday by park ranger Olson E. Inman after three of the group were seen carrying rifles on Inverness Ridge and moving toward a group of white Fallow deer, a European species introduced to the seashore by a local rancher in the 1940s.

Dr. Ottinger remained in a jeep while Fullilove and the two others stalked the deer from two sides, according to the report. Onlookers, spotting the hunters, shouted, scaring the deer.

The four were cited under a state fish and game statute that prohibits carrying weapons on lands closed to hunting.

North Viets Capture Key Cambodian Village

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—A force of 1,000 North Vietnamese captured the village of Preak Tameak nine miles north of Phnom Penh today in the heaviest assault of the war on the capital's outer defenses. Field reports said Cambodian troops were battling the Communists "face to face."

An official Cambodian spokesman said casualties were heavy on both sides but gave no figures.

Preak Tameak is on the east bank of the Mekong River. The outskirts of Phnom Penh lie on the other side of the 400-yard-wide river within range of Communist mortars and rockets.

No U. S. ground forces were involved in the Preak Tameak campaign but Saigon communiques today reported that six Americans were killed in the crash of a helicopter in South Vietnam as well as continued combat between U. S. and North Vietnamese forces near Artillery Base Barnett near the Laotian border.

Spokesmen reported 25 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong slain in a fight just west of Barnett in South Vietnam's northwest corner.

Phnom Penh communiques said the North Vietnamese troops stormed into Preak Tameak before dawn today and were in control of the village by afternoon.

This gave the Communists control of the Mekong River in that area and traffic there stopped.

The 52nd Battalion of the Cambodian Army took up a blocking position to foil any further Communist advance but the Cambodians were backed up against the river by North Vietnamese units pushing in from three sides.

Cambodian Air Force pilots began attacking Communist positions in the Preak Tameak area this morning but all fire stopped about noon.

The Cambodians were being supplied by South Vietnamese gunboats moving up the flooded Mekong.

Although the fighting was only nine miles from Phnom Penh, here it was as if nothing were happening. Heavy monsoon rain and wind shut out the sound of battle from the capital and there was no change in the relaxed way of life here.

The fighting broke a 10 day lull in Cambodian ground action, a spokesman said.

Riles, Rafferty Set Public Debate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dr. Max Rafferty and Dr. Wilson Riles have agreed to publicly debate the issue in their race for the post of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, a Democratic group announced today.

The two, who will face each other on the November ballot, have signed a formal agreement to appear at Hillsdale High school in San Mateo on Sept. 8, according ti Dr. Urban Whitaker, the president of the Peninsula Democratic Forum, who said he will be moderator.

Each candidate will give a 20-minute opening statement and have ten minutes for rebuttal. The public is invited to the meeting, and the candidates will answer questions after the debate.

Nixon Off To Mexico For 28-Hour Resort Conference

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon left today for a 28-hour visit to the Mexican resort of Puerto Vallarta and talks with President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz on such problems as a wandering border and illegal drug traffic.

The trip afforded the President and Mrs. Nixon an opportunity to visit the country where they honeymooned 30 years ago. They will stay in a pastel villa overlooking the Pacific and picturesque Vallarta Bay which normally is occupied by a furniture dealer from Santa Barbara, Calif.

Several cabinet officers accompanied the President, including Attorney General John N. Mitchell, who coordinates the American part of the joint efforts to stem the flow of heroin and marijuana from Mexico.

The trip was the 19th visit of an American president to Mexico since William Howard Taft journeyed to Ciudad Juarez in 1909 for a meeting with Porfirio Diaz.

The White House said the talks would be a continuation of those begun when Nixon and Diaz Ordaz met Sept. 8 at the Amistad Dam on the border. Two working sessions between the American and Mexican delegations were expected to focus on the territorial differences caused by the shifting Rio Grande, and on Operation Cooperation, the joint effort to halt drug smuggling.

Trade and immigration and a new agreement on dividing the waters of the Colorado River also were expected to figure in the talks.

The shifting Rio Grande has been a continuing source of territorial disputes between the United States and Mexico and the two leaders were expected to seek a method for more permanently demarcating the border.

Mexico formerly was credited with being the source for approximately 80 per cent of all marijuana smoked in the United States and the route for about 20 per cent of the 2.5 to 3

TURMOIL FOLLOWS RALLY — A San Francisco Police Department Tactical Squad officer uses a demonstrator's long hair to advantage as he holds the dissident by the hair with one hand and uses the other hand to direct his club. The protester was one of 10 arrested following yesterday's rally outside the Hall of Justice where the Los Siete trail is being held. The group broke into small units for sporadic rioting.

Skirmishes Follow Los Siete Rally

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Attorney Charles Garry, addressing a rally backing a client charged with killing a policeman, declared Tuesday that fugitive Angela Davis is "one of the most beautiful people I know."

Garry was speaking at a Civic Center demonstration called in behalf of "Los Siete," six youths with Spanish surnames who are charged with killing a San Francisco patrolman, and the "Soledad Brothers," three Negroes charged with killing a white prison guard.

Garry, a defense lawyer in the "Los Siete" trial which is now in court, was commenting on Miss Davis, a black militant Communist who is charged with murder in the death of a judge during an unsuccessful attempt by three Negro convicts from San Quentin prison to escape from a courtroom at nearby San Rafael.

Watched closely by police, the 500 demonstrators left the rally and marched across Market Street to the Hall of Justice where the "Los Siete" trial is being heard.

From there demonstrators moved to the financial district before finally being split into small groups by police at Market and Stockton streets.

Two store windows were broken and 10 persons were arrested. Although clubs were swung by police and there were brief skirmishes, there was no serious injury.

Translation and interpretation figured in the "Los Siete" trial proceedings at the Hall of Justice. Prosecution witness Alejandro Garcia Diaz said he heard a defendant shout, "Vamonos de aqui. Yo creo que lo mataste" after patrolman Joseps Brodnik was shot and killed May 1, 1969, on a Noe Valley street.

Diaz, a longshoreman who lives nearby, translated that to mean: "Let's get out of here. I think you killed him" and prosecution lawyers made it clear to jurors Diaz believed the defendant was referring to Mario Martinez, another of the defendants.

However, in cross examination, Garry attempted to show that the defendant meant that Brodnik had been killed accidentally by his partner, Paul McGoran, who had been beaten and knocked down.

Draft Board Fire Draws FBI Probe

REISTERSTOWN, Md. (UPI) —A fire broke out early today at the draft board offices here bringing FBI and Selective Service agents to the scene to investigate the possibility of arson.

Isitial reports indicated that damage was done to some draft records at the offices located in the Masonic Temple building in this community just north of Baltimore.

The blaze was discovered about 3 a.m. and quickly brought under control by Baltimore county firemen.

Authorities said they were looking for a car with Washington, D.C., license plates seen leaving the area Police said the vehicle had either two or three young male occupants.

Teaching Firing Suits Rejected

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Superior Court judge rejected suits Wednesday by two San Francisco State College teachers who said they were fired because they supported a teachers' strike.

Judge Robert W. Merrill held that the pair had not exhausted the college's grievance procedures.

The two who filed the suit are Nathan Hare, former director of a black studies program, and William Stanton, a former economics professor.

Camper Bus Blast Kills Six Persons

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—An explosion and searing fire inside a family-type camping vehicle speeding along Interstate 10 Wednesday killed three teen-agers, a baby and two adults and critically injured four other persons.

The California Highway Patrol said fumes from a butane gas tank used to fuel a stove and refrigerator aboard the converted school bus may have ignited. The force of the explosion blew out all the windows of the vehicle.

A witness said the bus seemed to explode in a ball of flames. A highway patrol officer, one of the first on the scene, said it was a "blazing inferno that reduced the bus to a charred hulk."

The three teen-agers and the baby burned to death inside the bus where they apparently were trapped. A motorcycle strapped to the back of the vehicle blocked the emergency exit. The other two victims died in hospitals. The four survivors were reported in extremely cirtical condition with burns over 60 to 70 per cent of their bodies.

Myron Davis, 50, of El Paso, Tex. was identified as the driver of the bus. He was taken to Desert Hospital. His wife, Dorothy, 49, died at the hospital. Their children, Jusila, 14, and Edna, 13, were killed in the fire and Mike, 15 and Patricia, 14, were in extremely critical condition.

Mrs. Davis' cousin, Barbara Scott, 36, of Toledo, Ohio was also in critical condition. Her children, Jimmy, 15, and Jomo, 19-months, were killed. A man believed to be Mrs. Scott's father, Clifford Tandy, 61, of Toledo, died from burns.

Firemen Prevent Violent Reaction

FRESNO (UPI) — Firemen worked quickly Tuesday to avert a potential "violent reaction" between hydrochloric and sulphuric acid when a large storage tank ruptured at a plant here.

Wearing oxygen masks and wet handkerchief over their mouths, firemen built a dike with soda ash sacks around the leaking tank and kept the hydrochloric acid from mixing with the sulphuric acid.

During the 90 minute ordeal, firemen were driven from the scene three times when winds shifted and blew the corrosive acid in their direction.

Tropical Storm

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI) — Tropical storm Dorothy bore down on the French Caribbean island of Martinique today with winds up to 70 miles per hour.

Dorothy, fourth tropical storm of the year, was expected to pass over Martinique about noon, slamming the island and nearby Dominica, Desirade and Guadaloupe with full force.

Policeman Is Fatally Shot In Berkeley

BERKELEY (UPI) — A policeman was shot and killed by a bystander today while talking with a motorcycle driver who had made an illegal U-turn.

Police headquarters identified the victim as Ronald T. Tsukamoto, 28, who had been with the department since Oct. 1, 1969.

The cyclist was not identified but a police spokesman said he leaned into the policeman's patrol car and used the radio to call for help immediately after the shooting.

A police spokesman said the officer stopped the cyclist to explain that the U-turn was illegal but had said he did not intend to issue a citation.

While that conversation was in progress, a man walked up to the pair, pulled a pistol and fired. The victim, shot over the right eye, was taken to Herrick Hospital where he died.

The incident, shortly before 1 a.m., happened at University and Jefferson avenues.

Police described the gunman as a male Negro and said he fled in a 1959 automobile.

'Forgotten Man' Banquet Planned

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)— The choice is a tough one: Pay $100 to dine with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and hear his speech, or sit in a parking lot and eat a hamburger for 50 cents while listening to a replay.

The 50-cents-a-plate "Forgotten Man Banquet" will be held by several Republican legislative candidates Sept. 23 as a follow-up to the $100 affair the previous night.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Status Undecided

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal judge has reserved decision on a West Point cadet's request to be discharged from the service as a conscientious objector.

At the same time, U.S. District Court Judge Marvin E. Frankel ordered the Army Wednesday not to take any action against Cary Donham, 20, until he reaches his decision.

Donham, a senior from New Baden, Ill., has contended he objects to war for religious reasons. He is the first cadet in West Point history to request conscientious objector status.

The Army ruled July 22 Donham lacks the "depth of sincerity" for the status. Donham sued.

Student Backlash?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General John N. Mitchell says massive student support could hurt political candidates this fall because the public would associate the young campaign workers with protesters and dissidents.

Mitchell said the public dissatisfaction with demonstrating and picketing will be reflected in this fall's elections.

"If all these kids come off the campuses and campaign for candidate X, it might urge people to vote for the other candidate," Mitchell said during a luncheon for reporters in his office Wednesday.

Mitchell said the backlash against student workers would come into play even if they did not use protest tactics. He said "just an identification" with students who had participated in such activities would be enough.

Nerve Gas Checks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy may not have to wait until October to determine the exact location of the scuttled nerve gas ship as previously thought, it was learned today.

Although a triangulation process for locating the ship failed, the Navy may have determined the ship's position within a mile by using satellites.

A source aboard the USS Hartley, a destroyer that accompanied the nerve gas shipment to its Atlantic burial 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla., said the location would be learned as soon as data received from a satellite is studied. He said the satellite tracking is accurate to one-tenth of a mile.

More Rioting

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Rock-throwing and fire-bombing incidents broke out for the second consecutive night Wednesday, and Broward County sheriff's deputies blocked off one street and called in the Florida Highway Patrol's riot control vehicle.

Police said two young black men were admitted to Broward General Hospital with gunshot wounds. Their condition was listed as "not serious." There was no immediate report on how they were wounded.

Crowds of young blacks were reported throwing rocks and firebombs at cars early in the evening, but the trouble appeared to taper off after midnight. Police dispersed the crowds and arrested at least five persons.

Dove Scores Upset Win In Primary Bid

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)— The Rev. Joseph D. Duffey, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action and a vigorous opponent of President Nixon's Vietnam policy, won an upset victory Wednesday in the Democratic Senate primary.

Duffey, a minister in the Church of Christ, outpolled Stamford millionaire Alphonsus J. Donahue, the party's endorsed candidate and state Sen. Edward L. Marcus of New Haven, in the state's first Democratic primary.

The final vote in the state's 169 towns gave Duffey 79,355 votes; Donahue 67,259; and Marcus 36,955—reflecting a statewide turnout of between 33 and 34 per cent.

Duffey, 38, said the key to his victory was "a very direct appeal to the people." He was helped by a large voter turnout in Hartford and by the candidacy of Marcus, who Donahue said hurt him by siphoning off votes.

Both of the losers said they would support Duffey in the November general election when Duffey will face Republican Congressman Lowell P. Weicker Jr., and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, who did not seek the Democratic nomination but is running for re-election to his third term as an independent.

New Policy On Duration Of Residency

Cities can have residency requirements for public housing occupancy in their boundaries, but cannot legally specify any duration of residency, according to Phillip S. Ehrlich Jr., chairman of the Marin County Housing Authority.

Several cities in Marin have residency requirements, generally one-year, under the authority's leased housing program; a requirement that has been labeled discriminatory.

RECENT RULING

Ehrlich told authority directors under a recent court ruling in Rhode Island, it is illegal to attack any duration to the residency requirement.

Commissioners agreed to visit city councils and tell councilmen that the duration requirement by law must be eliminated.

"But it is lawful to have a residency requirement," Ehrlich emphasized.

As to what constituted residency, it was felt that living in a community with intention to remain would be sufficient. Just having mailing address in a city was ruled out.

James H. Kovacs, directing attorney of the Marin Legal Aid Society, conceded that the new ruling doesn't meet the goal of eliminating the residency requirement, but felt it was an improvement over existing residency requirements.

BETTER STANDARDS

Commissioners, concerned about keeping the authority's leased housing units up to the standards of adjacent neighborhoods, urged that landlords be encouraged to paint and fix up the units.

Ehrlich said the reputation of the authority, the continuation of leased housing "and the future of new housing" is determined by "the exterior condition of the units we lease."

A recent spot check tour revealed that most of the leased housing units are well maintained, but there were a few that were below the standards of the neighborhood, Ehrlich reported.

The leased housing program was under fire last April when residents of Santa Venetia complained that debris and garbage were left strewn in the backyard of a leased house.

Directors also agreed that Gerald Hook, part-time inspector of leased housing units, be switched to full-time to beef up the inspection program.

The Marin County Housing Authority also:

OFFICERS — Reelected Ehrlich as chairman and Arthur Miller as vice chairman until Jan. 5, 1971.

MEETINGS — Agreed to meet on the first Tuesday and third Wednesday of each month, with the next meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 1 at the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

TELEVISION — Heard complaints from residents about lack of progress toward improving the television system at the Marin City project, and received a report from Wallace K. Shepherd, interm executive director, that time was taken to insure that the system would be adequately designed.

Director Norman B. Campbell was absent.

Who Owns The Land For Fire Station?

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency is looking into the question of who owns the site specified for a new fire station in Marin City.

When the site was selected it was assumed it was owned by the Marin City Community Services District, but a checking of maps showed the 1.7 acre parcel to be owned by the agency.

Frank Phillips Sr., chairman of the services district board, said there had been an error in the redevelopment agency "not turning the land over to the district."

James O. Quiett, agency chairman, said he believed the site, between the Rosa Building and Drake Avenue, had been deeded to the services district.

Thelma McKinney of 30 Pacheco Street said it was embarrassing to have the funds appropriated for a new fire station "and then not have the land to put it on."

Fire Captain Gary Lee Booker said $94,300 had been appropriated for the station and there was a possibility of losing the funds if they weren't used in six months. Using part of the funds to buy land wouldn't leave enough available for an adequate station, he asserted.

Wallace K. Shepherd, interim executive director, said the agency passed a resolution in 1961 to convey the property to the community services district at cost but under a 1965 law, the agency is required to sell it at appraised value.

"I think it's the responsibility of the redevelopment agency to turn it over to the community without fee," said Mrs. McKinney.

Quiett said the matter will be researched by the Department of Housing and Development office in San Francisco.

Shepherd commented: "We had been operating on the assumption that the community services district owned the land."

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency also:

CONSULTANT — Authorized hiring a consultant firm, not yet chosen, at a cost of up to $1,200 a month through October, to develop a revised program for redevelopment in Marin City, required by HUD by Oct. 31.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR — Heard a report from Shepherd that five of a field of 64 applicants had been selected by a screening committee for interviews for the post of executive director of the agency and Marin County Housing Authority. Director Collie Gaines emphasized the need to have a "director who can relate to the people" in the community.

OFFICERS — Reelected Quiett chairman and elected Richard S. Harding as vice chairman until Jan. 5, 1971.

MEETINGS — Agreed to meet the second Tuesday of each month with the next meeting scheduled at 8 p.m. Sept. 8 at the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

PAY HIKES — Approved a 5 per cent cost-of-living pay raise for the administrative and clerical staff, retroactive to July 1, a pay hike also approved by the Marin County Housing Authority in July.

CONFERENCES — Authorized Quiett, a staff member and a resident to attend an urban renewal conference in New York City, Sept. 23-25, at a cost of $1,110, and authorized Shepherd to attend an Afro-American Educational Conference at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, at a cost of up to $200, tomorrow and Saturday.

Commissioners Harding and James Mines were absent.

Those interested in obtaining the booklet may send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the bureau, 414 Mason Street, San Francisco, 94102.

Explosives Sunk Off Delaware Bay

LEONARDO, N. J. (UPI)— Five thousand tons of obsolete explosives were being sunk off the Delaware Bay today, far from a proposed earlier scuttling site that was only a mile from where dead mustard gas was dumped three years ago.

The Navy put 88 miles between the outmoded ammunition and the gas canisters following criticism from public officials, including Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N. J. The new site is about 120 miles southeast of Sandy Hook, roughly due east of Delaware Bay between New Jersey and Delaware.

The Navy admitted that there was still a possibility that the explosives could go off once under water but they added it was their 19th ammo dumping off the Jersey coast since 1964, and that ammunition comes from all over the country to the depot here.

The United States exports about $497 million worth of fruits and vegetables each year.

Cockroach Invasion Charged; Claim Filed

Does a cockroach travel from one home to another?

Marin County Housing Authority directors pondered that problem last night when they received a claim for $27.50 for fumigation of a Santa Venetia home.

Mrs. Sidney Alexander of 860 Estancia Way filed the claim contending that cockroaches from a neighboring leased housing unit got into her kitchen and she had to have it fumigated.

Director Vera L. Schultz said that Mrs. Alexander had been a housekeeper for years and never had cockroaches before, and she felt the authority should pay the claim. "Our reputation as a housing authority needs to be redeemed," she said.

Neil B. Little, manager of the leased housing program, said he had opinions of two exterminators that cockroaches probably wouldn't move from one house to another.

A motion to pay the $27.50 ended in a 2-2 deadlock with Mrs. Schultz and James G. McDonald voting yes and Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. and Arthur Miller voting no.

Director Norman B. Campbell was absent.

Corn Blight May Raise Food Prices

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Its technical name is "helminthosporium maydis."

Most farmers can't pronounce it, but they know it when they see it—wilted leaves that give a brown tinge to green fields of corn.

Supermarket managers can't pronounce it either. They'll explain to angry housewives at some later date that some higher food prices were caused by the "southern corn leaf blight."

This blight has attacked the nation's corn crop from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border. Early estimates are that as much as 10 per cent of the current $5 billion corn crop has been ruined.

"My whole crop has been affected," said Pete Deas, who planted 150 acres of corn at Jasper, Fla.

Chesley Rehberg, 47, of Bradfordville, Fla., who rents a 125-acre farm, predicted the blight would be disastrous to many small farmers.

"They're going to quit, the small farmers that are renting land. They're going to be for hire next year," he said.

FIRE DESTROYS TWO CARS

Asst. Chief Lee T. Larson of Corte Madera Fire Department inspects the charred remains of what was once a 1968 Cadillac belonging to Jack Farrel of an apartment house at 61 Pixley Avenue, managed by Sandra M. Piro. Firemen said the garage fire, which did $5,000 damage to the garage and another $5,000 to two vehicles, started about 8 p.m. last night and although they arrived on the scene three minutes later the cars could not be saved. Arson was suspected according to the fire department, which reported a small boy had been seen running away a few minutes earlier.

Kennedy Fears Excess Spending In Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration has abandoned hope of keeping the current federal budget deficit down to the officially projected $1.3 billion, Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said today.

Treasury officials declined to speculate on how much federal spending would exceed revenue, but they emphasized that actions by Congress on appropriation bills on the administration's request for more than $3 billion in additional tax revenue would be crucial.

But Kennedy clearly acknowledged in a speech prepared for delivery in Salt Lake City that the deficit would exceed the $1.3 billion level originally estimated by the administration. The text of Kennedy's speech was made public by his Washington office.

The Washington Post, quoting high administration officials, said today President Nixon had been informed that the deficit for the fiscal year which ends next June 30 probably would hit $10 billion and the budget for the fiscal year after that might be in the red between $15 billion and $25 billion.

A different administration official told UPI earlier that a deficit of up to $10 billion this fiscal year would be acceptable in light of slumping economic conditions which have reduced federal revenue from corporate and individual income taxes.

The official also said a tax increase during a business slump would be foolish.

In a prepared speech for a joint meeting of Salt Lake City civic groups, Kennedy said the administration was determined to keep a tight rein on government spending.

He recalled the administration officially estimated last May 19 that the budget for this fiscal year would show a deficit and added:

"The evidence since that forecast was made in May indicates that the deficit will be larger than the $1.3 billion indicated at that time.

"But we cannot permit the budget again to become so unbalanced as to rekindle the inflationary pressures that only recently have died down."

The government ran a $25.1 billion deficit, largest since World War II, in the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1968. The deficit for the two previous fiscal years were $8.7 billion and $3.8 billion.

The fiscal year that ended June 30, 1969--almost equally divided between the Johnson and Nixon administrations—showed a surplus of $3.2 billion, the first black ink balance in nine years.

The fiscal year that ended last June 30 recorded a deficit of $2.9 billion.

Nixon has asked Congress for a $1.6 billion annual tax on the lead used in gasoline and for acceleration of gift and inheritance tax payments to yield a one-time windfall of $1.5 billion this fiscal year.

The House Ways and Means Committee has scheduled hearings on the bills beginning Sept. 9. The official deficit estimate assumes approval of the two revenue measures.

Court Shown How Rivas Loaded Gun

The click of a gun mechanism sounded loud in Marin Superior Court this morning, as Ronald Rivas demonstrated how he took his brother's gun out of a dresser drawer, loaded it, took off the safety and cocked it before confronting his father on the night of July 17, 1969.

Rivas, 21, is on trial on a charge of murdering his father, Fidel I. Rivas, in the family home at 59 Raposa Vista, Novato.

Rivas was under intense cross examination today by Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Michael Anthony.

Following young Rivas's testimony yesterday that he acted after seeing his father slap his mother, Anthony today led the youth through his thoughts at the time of the shooting.

"Did you ever consider that the gun (which belonged to a brother, Lonnie, and was left for safekeeping at the house) might be useful to you if your father might go wild in the house?" Anthony asked.

"I can't say I did," Rivas replied.

After Anthony asked Rivas to repeat his motions in loading the gun, Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating hadned him the unloaded weapon. With little hesitation, Rivas loaded it with an imaginary clip, snapped down the safety and pulled back the slide to load and cock the .22 caliber pistol.

He said he had never shot a gun before that night, but had watched his brother use it in deer hunts.

"Isn't it a fact that you were intending to use that gun?" Anthony bored in about the fatal night.

"I don't know — I knew I wanted to protect my mother," Rivas answered.

"I was afraid of what my father might do. He had a loaded pistol and that rifle," Rivas added.

Anthony is expected to finish cross-examining Rivas this morning or early this afternoon, and the defense is planning to present psychiatric testimony.

The case is being heard without a jury, by Judge Keating.

Police said the auto was owned by Peter W. Andersen of 78 Longwood Drive, San Anselmo.

Candy Sales Leader Held On Eight Counts

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Fritz Thus, whose roving young candy salesmen were reported in San Anselmo twice last month, has been arrested by Oakland police on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and three labor code violations.

Thus, head of Student Opportunity of Lafayette, turned himself in to Oakland police on Monday and was booked on suspicion of two counts of the misdemeanor and two counts each of employing a youth under 16 to peddle, failure to provide employees with statements of earnings and allowing minors to work more than eight hours a day.

He was freed on $2,000 bail to appear in Dept. 7 of the Oakland-Piedmont Judicial District Aug. 25 for plea.

Officer Robert Crawford of the juvenile division said two of Thus's juvenile salesmen were caught in February and Thus was told during a citation hearing to cease sales in Oakland or face criminal charges.

However, two more youths who carried Student Opportunity identification cards were caught Aug. 12 in the Claremont District so the district attorney issued citations for both violations, Crawford said.

He estimated Thus was clearing $8,000 to $12,000 a month from sales by ten crews employing about 50 juveniles, most under 16.

Thus told the Independent-Journal in July that he had only four crews of high school and college students.

One crew was run out of San Anselmo July 27 with a warning not to return after a similar group evaded police in the first week of July.

Thus's travelling teams were ranging from Santa Cruz to Bel-Marin Keys, according to Crawford.

Thus told the I-J he hired supervisors who dropped youngsters off to sell and picked them up afterwards.

He admitted the organization is profit-making, but refused to tell how the $1.35 per box was split.

The Nixons meandered down the Mexican-Pacific Coast to Mexico City on their honeymoon in 1940 and Nixon remarked earlier this year he would like to vacation there again.

Although this with has not been fulfilled, the Nixons will have an evening to do as they please in the seaport town that formerly was a sleepy fishing village and now is a bustling resort of some 10,000 persons, many of them Americans.

Puerto Vallarta was popularized when Hollywood decided to film "Night of the Iguana" there and its star, Richard Burton, and his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, bought a home and made it a regular vacation retreat.

The Nixons will fly to the Western White House at San Clemente, Calif., Friday afternoon for a 15-day working visit which will end Labor Day weekend.

which went three hours and 10 minutes.

Hanoi's delegate mentioned Bruce's absence as he left the session.

"Mr. Bruce did not participate in today's meeting, and Mr. Habib contented himself with repeating the same things we have heard from the Americans before," the Hanoi man said. He said a session was scheduled for next week.

Pham Dang Lam, South Vietnam's chief negotiator, said he urged the Communists to get down to serious talks.

Tracy Sees Vote Drive Demo Aid

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, said Wednesday a massive volunteer voter registration drive could help Democrats more than Republicans but expressed confidence the plan would not hurt GOP candidates.

The drive is being conducted by the 26,000 combined members of the League of Women Voters and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The goal is to increase the number of registered voters in California by one million from the present eight million by the Sept. 10 registration deadline.

Ecological Panel Discussion Slated

Participating in the discussion will be Dr. Sterling Bunnell, Mill Valley psychiatrist and naturalist, and Robert Rydjord, also of Mill Valley, a naturalist and wildlife photographer and cinematographer.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Only Garbage Man In Know

In a recent case, a neighbor tipped off the police that the Roches, the couple next door, were smoking "pot." At the Roches' home the police checked their garbage can, found some ashes and traces of vegetable matter. Soon afterward they saw the Roches come home. They knocked, got no answer, broke the door down, and arrested Mr. and Mrs. Roche. The police found more marijuana in their house.

The Roches were brought to trial for possessing the drug. Since the police had no warrant or legal "cause" for their search, their lawyer argued, the evidence could not be admitted in court.

The judge agreed. The Constitution's Fourth Amendment protects one's home, and now one's garbage can, from arbitrary search and seizures by the state. Or failing that, the courts may not hear evidence growing out of such an unlawful search.

Castoff clothing, letters, medicine bottles, or other telltale refuse are not open to examination — at least, not until it becomes part of the trash elsewhere.

Why were the Roches freed by this "constitutional technicality?"

Our Constitution's drafters well knew of such things as the Star Chamber, arbitrary arrests, an unreasonable searches, and wanted none of it in the new nation.

If there is "probable cause," police may make a search without a warrant. Here are examples of "probable cause:" If a policeman sees or hears illegal or unusual acts through a window that call for investigation; if he is in hot pursuit of a criminal; if he receives information from a reliable informant of illegal acts; or if he makes any search in connection with a lawful arrest. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

Dr. Chaker Will Lose His License

Former Novato physician Henry Chaker will lose his license to practice medicine Monday, the state attorney general's office said today.

Dr. Chaker had filed a petition for reconsideration by the California Board of Medical Examiners, who revoked his license, which was denied by the board in Los Angeles earlier this week.

Chaker, who practiced in Novato in the mid-1960s, was charged with filing false claims with insurance companies, making falme medical care statements and submitting false billings to the California Physicians Service.

A grand theft charge against Dr. Chaker stemming from his allegedly overcharging county welfare patients was dismissed in Marin Superior Court in 1968 after a jury deadlocked on whether he was guilty.

Chaker's attorney said at the trial that the doctor, a native of Lebanon, was a victim of persecution by the Marin County establishment and that other doctors had taunted him as an Arab.

Safeway Adopts Discount Policy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Safeway stores here announced today a discount-pricing policy starting Aug. 26.

Vice President Louis A. Bianco, manager of Northern California coastal areas, said the policy is being expanded to the entire division, from Crescent City to King City.

"We have just finished the job of reducing prices of thousands of items," Bianco said. "We are eliminating weekend specials, lowering our everyday prices and discontinuing trading stamps in the stores currently distributing stamps."

Chairmen Named

Richard Sloan of Lagunitas and Grace A. Hughes of Mill Valley have been elected chairmen of the Committee for the Peace Initiative, a group working for passage of the resolution on the county ballot in November calling for complete withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Southeast Asia by June 30, 1971.

Caller Seeks Age Of Children

A man claiming to be from the Marin County School District Index Department," has been calling homes in Marin asking for the names, ages and school grades of children for an alleged survey.

Frances Nikas, a Ross housewife, said she received a call from the man at 9:30 a.m. today, but he refused to give his name while badgering her for the information.

Lyle Wright, county schools' coordinator, said he knew of no survey to predict future school enrollment and added there is no index department.

He could give no explanation for the telephone call.

NEW SECURITY PLAN

Judge Realistic In Hostage Views

By MARY LEYDECKER

Although new security measures at the Marin Hall of Justice have made a repeat of the Aug. 7 shootout "pretty remote," a superior court judge said today that if he is ever taken as a hostage, "I would not expect to live through it."

Speaking as a member of a panel on KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," Judge Samuel W. Gardiner said that there "is no sense in giving a reward to persons who take hostages." He added that he is "personally prepared" to take the risk of knowing that as a hostage he would face death.

Other members of the panel discussing "better security in our courtrooms," Warden Louis S. Nelson of San Quentin and a former Marin district attorney, Albert E. Bagshaw, agreed with him.

Warden Nelson said that all San Quentin employees are instructed that if they are taken as hostages they are considered dead, and he feels this policy should be universal.

He added, however, that the first shots fired in the Aug. 7 tragedy in which Judge Harold J. Haley and three others died came from within the van in which convicts held hostages.

His men, he said, were not the first to shoot although they then fired on the van according to their usual instructions.

Judge Gardiner refused to be specific about new security measures at the Hall of Justice, explaining that if they were laid out in detail, they would lose many of the elements of security.

However, he said that a "dozen or 15" new security plans are in effect.

As to the matter of holding trials of San Quentin inmates at the prison, the judge said that he has recently changed his mind on the subject and is "willing to give it a try."

He suggested a trial case in which an appeal would be encouraged so that judges could find out whether appellate courts would rule a fair trial possible in the prison confines.

Warden Nelson said that a trial inside the prison gates but not within the compound would guarantee jurors and others more security because standard prison searches for weapons could be made.

Judge Gardiner strongly added, however, that he felt that the problem of trials of inmates was only a small part of the picture.

"What about Angela Davis, if she is brought to trial?" he asked. "She's not a San Quentin inmate."

Bagshaw agreed with him, mentioning also the Tate murder trial in Los Angeles and the Los Siete case in San Francisco as potentially hazardous.

The judge suggested that each case be dealt with individually, "to ascertain who is a security hazard."

As to the arming of courtroom bailiffs, the judge and Warden Nelson agreed that this probably does not add security to the courtroom.

"It probably makes jurors feel more comfortable, however," Warden Nelson said, "to see a man with a weapon."

Judge Gardiner said that he is leaving the decision up to the sheriff's department whether or not to arm bailiffs. In answer to a question from a listener, Gardiner said he thought it is "up to individual judges" whether they want to arm themselves.

As to reasons for the Aug. 7 tragedy, Bagshaw saw violence and a breakdown in law enforcement caused by appellate court decisions as the principal cause.

What he termed "an excessive regard for criminals' rights" is responsible for "lending encouragement to the criminal element," the former district attorney said.

Judge Gardiner said that "if there is an atmosphere of violence in the community, then we're going to be in trouble all around." He insisted, however, that a forum must be provided in which judicial and legislative matters can be discussed in a rational manner.

Warden Nelson said that he feared that the American people will "choose a police state rather than complete anarchy."

Judge Gardiner concluded the program by saying that prospective jurors called to his courtroom this week showed no fears of serving on a jury.

The panel discussion, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be re-broadcast at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Club Eyes Building A Minipark

The Almonte Improvement Club may build a minipark near its clubhouse at Almonte Boulevard and Wisteria Way if the county approves abandonment of a nearby street.

Secretary Marsha Silberstein reported that club directors were told last night that the county is in the process of abandoning a portion of Lavender Lane and Wisteria Way to adjacent property owner Joseph J. Brezina of 164 Lavender.

Brezina has agreed to grant a full use easement to the club for the property, about 2,000 square feet. The club in return proposes to build a small park and play area for children, Mrs. Silberstein said.

In other business, the board approved sketches for a new bus stop at Almonte Boulevard and Miller Avenue. The stop will replace one destroyed in a traffic accident last week.

Judge To Hold Court At Prison On Monday

Marin Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson will hold court in San Quentin Prison Monday afternoon, on several routine, nonjury matters involving prison inmates.

Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales' office said today the court session is not expected to include arraignment of inmate Ruchell Magee, 31, who is accused of murder in the Aug. 7 shoot-out that cost the lives of Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley and two convicts and an accomplice.

Magee is still in the prison hospital, recovering from serious bullet wounds.

The plan to move routine court matters to the prison is a result of the deadly kidnapping and shoot-out that shocked the Marin County Hall of Justice and raised fears that continued appearances of San Quentin felons in the county Civic Center would add peril to the courts and the public.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Jerry R. Herman said today the legality of actual jury trials in the prison still is being explored.

Unruh Brunch

Assemblyman Jess Unruh, Democratic nominee for governor, will attend a brunch from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Aug. 30 at the Sausalito home of William Stephen Allen, 168 Harrison Avenue. Reservations are being handled by the Marin Democratic Unified Committee, 188 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley.

$146,600 Grant For Headstart

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council has been granted $146,600 by the Office of Child Development for its Headstart program, Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, reported today.

Ninety-five children are to be enrolled in the program, which is to run for 12 months on a part-day basis.

POST OFFICE PROVES TO BE PARTY POOPER

Christmas and private parties have one thing in common: it is apparently necessary to mail very early for them.

Otto H. Schreier of 33 Amicita Avenue, Mill Valley, planned a small party July 17 for friends and business acquaintances and dropped the invitations in the slot at the main branch of the San Rafael Post Office July 12.

One of the invited never made the party and yesterday Schreier learned why. The San Francisco acquaintance called yesterday to say the correctly addressed invitation had just arrived.

Another quest is still awaiting his, Schreier said.

Almost 20 per cent of the animal feed grown in the United States is exported.

Two Sentenced On Misdemeanors

Two Marin residents have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court on misdemeanor offenses involving making false statements of earnings to qualify for unemployment checks.

Laura C Bergquist, 24, of Corte Madera, was placed on one year's probation and ordered to make $52 restitution to the department of human resources for money received in May and June of 1969.

John A. Loane, 37, of Fairfax, was fined $100 and placed on probation for 30 days, as well as ordered to make restitution of $349, on a similar offense.

Youth Rights Worker Resigns Marin Post

Horace White, a youth worker for the Marin County Human Rights Commission, is resigning from the post he has held for three years.

The 22-year-old White, who lives at 59 Cole Drive in Marin City, said he will leave August 31 because he has been drafted.

Sausalito Ferry Expected To Resume Service Tuesday

Ferryboat service between Sausalito and San Francisco should resume on Tuesday, Golden Gate Bridge District officials reported today.

Rebuilding the vessel's starboard diesel should be completed on Saturday, and about two days will be needed to install and check out the engine, according to Donald White, district transit manager.

The engine broke down Monday afternoon on the first day of regular commute runs, only two days after the service started. The engine threw a connecting rod, the flying part narrowly missing an engineer in the engine room.

The engine is being rebuilt in a new block at the Caterpillar Company's Hayward distributor. Only one year old, the engine still was covered by warranty, and the manufacturer is paying the cost of the repair, White said.

The district, however, is paying for the loss of revenue and continuing daily overhead costs. White said he had no estimate of these figures. "I've been too busy getting this engine fixed to even sit down," he said.

Diesel engines normally run four to five years before major overhaul, he said. "It was a fluke," White said.

An American dollar is worth about 118 piasters in South Vietnam.

MISCHIEVOUS SUMMER FUN

Boys will be boys, so Scott Vedder (left), 13, and Dennis Roe, 12, both of Terra Linda, couldn't resist an opportunity yesterday to douse a group of girls in a wading pond at a new neighborhood park on Montecillo Road in Terra Linda. The girls, naturally, enjoyed the attention.

Alto Refuse Service Is Called Unfair

Mill Valley Refuse Service Inc. is discriminating against Alto residents, directors of the Alto-Sutton Manor District Association were told last night.

Publicity chairman Sara S. Ruffner said that directors were told that Alto residents, who live outside Mill Valley city limits, pay 10 cents a month more for the same service afforded city residents. In addition, she said, city residents have had two free supplemental pickups of garden trimmings and other assorted rubbish this year, while Alto residents have had none.

The board directed that a letter be sent to the Alto Sanitary District, which contracts with the collection form for garbage disposal, asking an explanation for the discrimination, Mrs. Ruffner said.

The board also heard a report that the State Division of Highways has promised to crack down on hitchhikers obstructing traffic at East Blithedale Avenue and Tower Drive.

The association had asked for establishment of a no-stopping zone at the intersection after several residents complained of near collisions with cars stopping for hitchhikers. The highway division said it would ask the California Highway Patrol to patrol the area more frequently.

The association set its next meeting for Sept. 23 at 8 p.m. at the Ruth M. Jenkins residence, 41 Meadow Road.

Inexpensive Solution To Key Air Polluter

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — An inexpensive solution to one of the most dangerous air pollution problems has been developed by a University of California chemical engineer

Prof. Leroy A. Bromley of the Berkeley campus has shown that common sea water can be used to remove 99 per cent of toxic sulfur oxides from smokestack gases.

Sulfur oxides are released primarily through the burning of fuel oil and coal, and generally are blamed for the increase in deaths in the so-called "killer fogs" that have hit urban areas in recent years.

Sulfur oxides also are extremely damaging to plants and propert. Under certain weather conditions, sulphuric acid can be formed from sulfur dioxide.

There is a hitch in Bromley's work, however. The federal and state governments have cut back sharply on smog research funds — forcing a halt to further work by Bromley to test his discovery.

Electric power plants are responsible for more than half of the air polluting sulfur oxides, according to Bromley. He estimated his system would cost about 16 cents for each barrel of fuel burned. The cost could be reduced further, he reported, if the power plant were combined with a sea water conversion facility.

Bromley's system used a five-foot column packed with devices for increasing the amount of contract between the seawater and the smokestack gases, thus converting sulfur dioxide to harmless sulfate.

His 99 per cent removal compared with about 30 per cent removal by the more conventional injection of limestone to absorb sulfur oxides.

The limestone process, however, then produces solid wastes that create another pollution problem, Bromley said. His system apparently would not harm marine life, he reported.

The only change in the sea water was an increase of about 10 per cent in sulfate and a small increase in hydrogen ion. Both are already in sea water, he noted. He added that studies would be needed to verify whether these slight increases could harm marine life.

The current alternative to burning coal and fuel oil is to use natural gas as a source of energy, but gas is expensive and reserves are limited, Bromley noted.

Nuclear power offers a potential long-range solution to the problem of sulfur dioxide, but a special panel of the National Research Council Committee on Air Quality Management has said that unless "the necessary technology becomes available, the country may have to choose between clean air and electricity."

Long-Pending Battery Case Is Dismissed

A long-pending battery charge against psychiatrist Thomas P. Lowry, of 301 Fawn Drive, San Anselmo, has been dismissed in Marin Municipal Court.

Lowry was to have gone on trial Monday, but the principal witness and complainant, his wife Frances, declined to testify about the incident that took place June 11, 1969, in her Tiburon home.

Rights Post Applicants Are Sought

Marin is looking for applicants for the $1,000-per-month job as director of the human rights department.

Maren Rinne, county personnel director, announced that anyone interested should apply to the county personnel office in Room 342 of the Civic Center by Sept. 10.

Each applicant must submit a written statement not to exceed 1,000 words outlining his concept of human rights and its aims, program priorities and how they are established, the results expected from such a program and his concept on administering such a program.

Formal education and/or experience is desirable but not mandatory.

The most qualified applicants will appear before an oral review board for examination. Successful candidates will be put on an eligibility list. From that list, County Administrator Alan Bruce will consult with the human rights commission and recommend up to three candidates to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for final selection.

The previous director, Austin J. Thompson, resigned last June.

Bruce said he hopes a new director can be appointed on or about Oct. 1.

Investigator Thinks Insults Caused Shots

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—Insults shouted at frustrated lawmen led to fatal shootings of students at both Kent State University and Jackson State (Miss.) College, a member of the President's commission on campus unrest said Wednesday.

Revius Ortique Jr., a Negro and former president of the National Bar Association, made the statement during public hearings held by the commission into the Kent State disorders in which four students were fatally shot May 4.

Ortique said the common element which apparently resulted in authorities firing weapons was insults at close range by students at frustrated and tired law enforcement agents who had reached a breaking point.

"I am of the opinion that at Jackson State, some of the state police got within 30 feet of some black cats that were saying things (the police) had been told for years black cats weren't supposed to say," Ortique said.

"And their reaction was to shoot them," he said. "Here (Kent State) it looks like somebody in the National Guard reacted to a similar-type situation. I am beginning to feel it's the same thing all over again."

"Both were overreactions," he said. "The state troopers were not previously confronted, or rather affronted, by blacks at such close range. And it appears to me that the National Guard at Kent State was just tired of the abuse they were getting."

Ortique's theory was supported, in part, by testimony from Ohio Adjutant General Sylvester Del Corso.

"We can't control the mind of the individual," Del Corso said, explaining the chain of command applied only up to a certain point regarding the use of weapons in riot situations.

"It's conceivable they (the troops) might have been assaulted while in troop formation and fired back and I'm certain that is what happened here," the adjutant general said.

Del Corso's remarks followed his earlier testimony that according to National Guard regulations, troops may fire only under two conditions without a command—to return sniper fire and in self-defense while in formation.

Robert S. Pickett, a former student leader at Kent State and now a law student at the University of Michigan, drew the most favorable reaction of the day from the student-dominated audience of about 400 persons.

Pickett, a founder of the Black United Students at KSU in 1967, received two prolonged ovations, once when he warned social changes must occur or America, as it exists, will die.

"This country is headed for death," said Picket in response to a question from one of the commissioners. "This country is on its deathbed, man, and there ain't no doctors around. The doctors are getting killed at Kent State and Jackson State."

Bonn-Soviet Pact Wins Endorsement

MOSCOW (UPI)—A conference of seven East European leaders ended this afternoon after five hours of discussion and unanimous endorsement of the recently concluded Soviet West-German treaty, communist sources said.

The meeting of the Warsaw Pact powers was opened by Leonid I. Brezhnev, General Secretary of the Soviet Communist Party, in the Kremlin at 10 a.m. It met continuously with one break for lunch and adjourned at 5 p.m.

The Romanian delegation, led by President Nicolae Ceausescu, was the first to leave Moscow and was followed by several other delegations.

A brief communique is expected tonight.

The conference constituted a plenary session of the party and government leaders of the Soviet Union and its six allies: East Germany, Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania.

Special Attorney Hired—No Case

Larkspur City Council last night hired a special attorney to advise whether the city should sue to establish public assess to the banks of Corte Madera Creek — and then decided against giving him any suit to file.

The attorney, Albert Bianchi, was hired as the result of closed sessions Aug. 5 and last night. City Atty. Robert Elliot had advised the council he could not represent the city in any such action because his private service to creekside property owners would create a conflict of-interest problem.

In the hour-long closed session last night, the council reviewed the public access question, which resembles beach access controversies in Santa Cruz and Mendocino counties.

Two factors have raised the question in Larkspur: an application by John and Estelle Moran for city architectural supervision and variances so they can develop their creekside property, and the request of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tartaul and other pro-conservation spokesmen that the city remember its long-time commitment on the master and land use plans for preservation of open space along the creek banks.

The Morans had consented to delays in their hearing by the planning commission, City Mgr. Kent Bathurst explained, until the city could hire legal advice and set policy on the issue.

Although not formally hired until last night's council session, Bianchi on Aug. 4 gave the planners a five-page letter telling them the paths open to the city on the issue.

Last night, Mrs. Tartaul listed many of the creekside property owners, and asked if Bianchi had represented any of them. Bianchi and Mayor Benton A. Sifford Jr. said no conflict existed.

Sifford instructed Bathurst to prepare a letter for approval by all councilmen, stating in essence that "in the case of dispute the city will accept recorded title (to the land) as valid until the court decides otherwise." Sifford urged that in land use "amenities be preserved" Councilman William G. Fleckles said, "We should encourage private developers to consider public use" of the banks.

Bianchi's letter explained that the Kentfield and Larkspur general plans and the county's plan for Corte Madera Creek recreational use "are recognized as serving only as guides" but "do not have the effect and force of law."

He wrote that the city could authorize iling a lawsuit to determine whether title to a particular area "has passed to the public by means of implied dedication as the result of continued use or otherwise." The council decided not to take such action.

Banchi also wrote, "Likewise, it appears that a member of the public may file such a suit for the same purpose."

Larkspur Tax Rate Announced

Larkspur city councilmen last night set the 1970-71 property tax rate at $1.895 per $100 assessed valuation for landowners within the sanitary service area — 1 cent lower than this year's rate.

The action was taken despite the absence of Councilmen Neil Brixon and Earl J. O'Grady, because the rate must be set by Sept. 1. Councilman William G. Fleckles pointed out the Larkspur budgeting sessions had gone so smoothly that the city was one of the first in Marin County to complete the annual chore. He felt there would be no opposition by the absent councilmen.

The tax rate will be $1.25 for property owners outside the sanitary service area.

The levy will bring the city a total of $506,496 in revenue, assuming all delinquent payments for this year are received, City Mgr. Kent Bathurst explained.

Broken down, the rate remains 90 cents for general fund purposes, 6 cents for parks and recreation — off a cent from this year's, remains 7 cents for storm drainage, drops a cent to 8.5 cents for employees' retirement fund, and rises a cent to 13.5 cents for the library fund. The sanitary service area rate will be 64.5 cents.

East Coast Union Asks Chavez To Organize There

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) — Cesar Chavez, who organized California's migrant grape pickers after a long battle, has been asked to do the same for Puerto Rican laborers who work along the East coast of the United States, a labor union leader said Wednesday.

Peter Hug of Chicago, international representative of the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butchers Union, said he expected an answer from Chavez within the week.

Hugo said his union asked Chavez to lead its campaign to organize an estimated 25,000 Puerto Ricans who travel as migrants to the United States each year to harvest crops grown primarily on truck farms in New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware and other states along the eastern seaboard.

The meeting for freshmen and sophomores and their parents will be held Monday and for juniors and seniors and their parents Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Tomales High School.

Study Could Spread Fame Of Sourdough

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department has decided to spend $49,190 to see if researchers can find a way to bake San Francisco sourdough French bread anywhere in the country.

The povular bread has been baked in the Bay Area for more than a century, and some San Franciscans claim it can't be baked anywhere else because the climate makes it what it is. Others, largely tourists, say it's where the bread is eaten, not what it is, that makes the difference.

Whatever the reason, countless attempts to bake it elsewhere have failed because the starter bacteria, for some unknown cause, will not behave the same as it does in San Francisco.

Agriculture spokesmen said today they have awarded a 2 1-2 year, $49,190 contract to Oregon State University to study bacterial species isolated by department scientists from sourdough bread fermentation.

The new studies, officials said, might make it possible eventually to produce starter cultures which can be packaged and distributed like frozen concentrated dairy starters or bakers' yeast.

"This would simplify processing and also make it possible to produce sourdough French bread on a much wider geographic scale," officials said.

Mercury In Ducks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interior Department says it has found mercury in 26 wild ducks taken as samples in North Dakota and Michigan. Residues of the poisonous element ranged from 0.038 to 2.26 parts per million in breast muscles of the birds.

Larkspur Looks Into Meeting Protection

Larkspur police may be assigned to guard future council meetings.

"I'm not saying this in an alarmist tone," City Councilman William G. Fleckles stressed last night, "but I want to explore some very quiet protection" for the public and city officials at civic meetings.

"Maybe it only involves an officer sitting in back of the council room," Fleckles said. He won council approval that City Mgr. Kent Bathurst ask Police Chief Howard Clark to plan some protection for city meetings.

Fleckles cited the Aug. 7 bloodbath at the Marin County Civic Center which took the life of Superior Court Judge Harold F Haley, and his own experience as a city planning commissioner, when police had to be called to remove a woman after she loosed an emotional outburst at a hearing.

"I'm thinking of Big Brother and all that," Fleckles said, but "there are people walking the streets — they aren't necessarily felons, but they're sick minded."

Mayor Benton A. Sifford Jr. agreed, citing his own recent conversation with a county supervisor and a "former FBI agent" about the perils to the citizens and officials at public meetings nowadays.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

TAMALPAIS — Answered the Tamalpais retirement center's appeal from planning commission refusal to provide architectural supervision for a fence to halt trespassers, by declaring that the center needs only a building permit, and should later submit plans for landscaping the fence.

GASOLINE STATION — When CPD Corp. spokesmen failed to appear for a hearing on planning commission denial of a permit for a station between the Safeway store and the Bon Air bridge, voted 3-0 to deny the appeal.

COUNCIL PAY — Postponed until all councilmen are present, discussion of voting a salary for councilmen, who now receive no pay. Councilmen Earl J. O'Grady and Neil Brixon were absent.

PARKING — Unanimously approved a five-minute parking zone for buses and passenger loading in the Bon Aire shopping center parking lot.

Hearing In Pot Case Is Delayed

Stephen Darryl Coleman, 20, of Corte Madera, will face preliminary hearing Oct. 6 on charges of possession of marijuana and a charge of having brought hashish into jail on July 30.

He was serached in jail after a court appearance resulting from his arrest on pot possession, narcotic paraphernalia and resisting arrest charges by Ross police earlier the same day.

Interceptor Cosmos Tests Revealed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A leading American expert says the Soviet Union in 1968 tested a weapon designed to destroy satellites in orbit.

There have been no known tests since then, he said.

Dr. Charles S. Sheldon III, chief of the Science Policy Research Division of the Library of Congress, said the tipoff to tests of what he called "inspector and destructor satellites" were the flights of Cosmos 248, 249 and 252 in the fall of 1968.

He said Cosmo 248 went into a low earth orbit and later was maneuvered to a higher orbit.

Cosmos 249 was then sent into an eccentric orbit, made a near pass at Cosmos 248 and exploded "in a vast cloud of debris." Cosmos 252 made the same maneuver and exploded.

Sheldon said he doubted the Soviets intended now to try to knock down any American satellites. He said it was possible the flights were merely an experiment that later was dropped.

Sheldon said at a luncheon of the National Space Club that his long study of U.S. and Soviet space programs indicated the United States leads the Soviet Union in development of military uses of spacecraft.

Supervisors Learn A Hard Lesson On Holding Spending

The Board of Supervisors learned a hard, sad lesson last week about the increasing difficulty of achievng economies in county government.

Last June, amid much publicity fanfare, a group of organization representatives and individuals headed by Robert A. Roumiguierre appeared before the Marin County supervisors to demand economy in county government. It was a kind of non-violent confrontation between taxpaying interests on the one hand and tax spenders in the person of the supervisors.

The supervisors "got the message."

THEY "HUNG TOUGH." They fought valiantly to hold the line against pay raises for county employees and gave in only to the tune of 5 to 6 per cent raises for those employees represented by unions and other bargaining agents. Those receiving raises totalled 862 county workers.

So-called managerial employees not represented by bargaining agents got no raises at all. There are 138 of these.

IF ALL THE pay raises went to the lowest salaried employees and those in the upper brackets did without, the situation would have been defensible.

But it turned out that salaries in jobs for which pay was negotiated by unions or other bargaining agents range up to $1,600 per month. (That comes to $19,200 per year in case your mental arithmetic capacities are limited as an editorial writer's).

At the same time, so-called managerial employees are paid as little as $550 per month, which figures but at $6,000 per year.

So the supervisors awakened to find they had authorized pay raises for people with salaries up to $19,200 per year, while "holding the line" on salaries as low as $6,600 a year.

There were some unseen barbs involved, too.

WHEN THE LEGISLATURE authorized collective bargaining for local government employees, it did not exempt mangerial employees. If the management employees discriminated against in the county salary schedule wished to, they could join a union and presumably protect themselves against a recurrence of what happened on the first round this year.

Apparently, the supervisors got the message last week. As a special order of business they voted an across-the-board raise of 5 per cent for the 138 so-called managerial employees.

Robert Roumiguierre must have "got the word," too. He voiced his approval of the raise.

Not A Fad

We hear it said by seemingly intelligent people: all this fuss about ecology is just a fad.

To us this is ridiculous. With pure water becoming a rarity. With wild places where one can escape the litter of civilization rapidly disappearing. With ever-increasing decibells of noise invading the suburbs. With oil spills and fish kills almost daily news. With San Francisco Bay rotting and poisoned at our doorstep. With whole species of animals immediately threatened with extinction. With smog a growing problem even in green, lightly industrialized Marin. With more and more beautiful land being covered with super-highways, parking lots and ticky-tacky. With the quality of life steadily declining. Ecology is no fad.

Instead, the awakened interest in our environment is the natural result of a whole series of calamitous circumstances slowly building up to a point where even the complacent are aware that we are in big trouble. And present indications are that these circumstances are going to become still worse before they get better — if ever.

Bids On Perris Dam Signal End To Giant Dream Of Water

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — All eyes — well, some eyes — are fixed on the earth-shaking events taking place under this Capitol dome in what has become a pretty dull session.

But down the street in the Resources Building a quiet announcement was made that will mean more to California in the long run than anything else that's happened around here recently.

That was the advertising for bids on Perris Dam in Riverside County.

PERRIS DAM will impound water at the south end of the 444-mile California Aqueduct, which is part of the California Water Project, stretching 700 miles from Northern to Southern California.

That's the end of the line for a project that was talked of in the early '30s and led in the late '50s to some legislative battles that were real lulus.

Getting water and a share of highway funds may have been the only things that ever unified the Assembly's Southern California majority. Perhaps these battles had a quality that later ones have lacked because they were over something tangible.

ELEVEN YEARS have passed since the 1959 Legislature hitched up its pants, approved the water plan and put the necessary bond issue on the ballot. The voters did the rest.

Only 28 of the 120 members of the 1959 session are still in the Legislature, 15 in the Senate and 13 in the Assembly. Six of the Senators were Assemblymen then.

Northern counties with too little bonding capacity to build dams took flood damage every winter, dried up every summer, and watched millions of acre feet of excess water waste to the sea.

Southern California, with lots of bonding capacity and no water, could build all the dams it wanted, if it had anything to dam.

A slim majority of the largely Northern Senate finally decided that both ends of the state needed each other.

It wasn't easy, and in spite of the fact that the people ratified the program with their vote on the bond issue, some sections which opposed the whole thing in 1959 oppose it still.

CONTRA COSTA County, beneficiary of every dam ever built north of the Tehachapis, was against it then and still is. Sacramento, earlier relieved by the Shasta Dam of a dry river in summer and hip-deep water in winter, appreciated flood control but wasn't too keen on giving anything to Southern Califonia.

A lot of the pressure is off the far north counties now that some of their flood control is in effect. Getting Perris under contract must be a relief to tht South.

All this history is mostly forgotten. Five million have joined our population since then, and other millions were children when it all happened.

A newcomer from New York might understand the California scale of things if his city had gone to Indianapolis for water. Or Indianapolis to Tulsa, Chicago to Winnipeg, or Des Moines to Pittsburgh.

There is a theory of history which holds that old city civilizations fell because the people forget why their public works had been built. Having inherited and benefited from them without comprehending, they let them fall into disrepair beyond salvation and built no new ones.

THE PROCESS was sometimes hastened by enemies who understood, like Joshua whose troops circled the walls of Jericho until they found and cut the conduits, then waited seven days for the water to run out.

It's something to think about.

Prison A Burden For Marin Courts

For 20 years now, I have been observing the goings-on in Marin County. And there has barely been a month in that time when there was not at least one case "pending" in our County courts due to criminal acts originating within the confines of San Quentin prison.

San Quentin is the state's prison, so why should Marin (or any other certain county) be penalized due to the accidental fact that the grounds lie within its borders?

Being a state institution the adjudication and the penalties for infraction of its rules and more serious crimes of assault and murder within its walls are plainly laid out by existing lanws and if prison authorities in charge of this state institution are unable to cope with trouble within their own compound, it would seem a confession of their disability.

For cases beyond their ability to handle, there should be a special State Court at Sacramento to which all such cases would be referred instead of their being funneled into the courts of the county which happens to have the state's prison within its borders. This would relieve Marin County of an obviously unfair and continuing large burden and expense.

Ranch Unsuitable For Airport Site

This is regard to your recent editorial encouraging the development of Smith Ranch Airic Airlines, who wish to opercarriers, such as Golden Pacific Airlines, who wish to operate in Marin County.

While I am appriciative of your editorial activities in regard to aviation in Marin County, I am concerned that your enthusiam for the use of the Smith Ranch Airport for air carrier purposes is not consistent with the practical facts.

Any air carrier operating out of an urban area must be able to operate under Instrument Flight Rule conditions (IFR) to assure keeping schedules and a reasonable percentage of trip completions during inclement weather. This single criterion makes it economically mandatory that the airport providing service to this type of carrier either have, or be capable of having, an acceptable instrument approach procedure. Smith Ranch Airport does not meet this criterion. While there has been substantial talk about utilizing to some extent the instrument approach facilities to Hamilton Air Force Base for this purpose, it is a fact that no operation meeting reasonable airline standards would do so. Therefore, for this one reason, Smith Ranch Airport is unsatisfactory for the service for which you endorse it.

Store Owners Win Gratitude

I'm sure I speak for almost everyone who lives in the vicinity of the Lincoln Market in San Rafael when I say it is our opinion that the stores' owners, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Politz have earned, and deserve to receive, a very large bouquet in the I-j for the extraordinary contribution they have made to our neighborhood.

Many of your readers, I'm sure, will remember that the above mentioned store was once a crumbling, yet profitable, business simply because it was there. It might well have remained a lucrative blight in the neighborhood had it been purchased (approximately one year ago) by someone other than the Politzs. Instead, it is now, after a great deal of money and hard work, as attractive as any I have seen in Marin County.

For most merchants, this in itself would have been sufficient to demonstrate a sincere interest in the area they hoped to serve. In the Politzs' case, it was merely the first of many thoughtful gestures.

For instance, in the past six weeks they have taken some 50 boys, who frequent their store, to a Giants baseball game . . . and provided each with an enormous lunch . . . all entirely free.

On the infamous Friday at Civic Center, the Politzs also had plans to leave town in a rented yellow vehicle (a school bus). Their destination was the Ice Follies in San Francisco. This time their guests were 25 neighborhood girls . . . Again, everything from the most expensive box seats, even for the bus driver, to treats during the show . . .

The most important reason that they are so special is because every day they are truly good neighbors, good friends, and good people. Hopefully, through you. We can publicly say thank you, Fred and Lee.

Ross Story Praised, Ross Roads Assailed

From your most interesting article in Aug. 8 Independent-Journal on the history of Ross it seems that in the early days of this century the residents petitioned the Board of Supervisors to "have a town of their own so they can construct their own roads and make them the best in the land!"

Regrettably Ross technology has not kept pace with that of their neighbors, or anybody else's for that matter. As one proceeds from Kentfield through the Ross business district, past your Post Office to Lagunitas Road ... bump, crash, bang. That's your shock absorbers, suspension system and wheel alignment undergoing some accelerated destruction, friends.

One can only reflect that our worthy predeccessors must be spinning in their graves at the thought that Ross now possesses the worst road in the land.

Nixon's ABM Victory May Prove In Long Run Costlier Than Defeat

WASHINGTON, — The Nixon victory in putting over the new phase of the Safeguard Anti-Ballistic Missile may prove in the long run more costly than a defeat. A victory for more billions for arms is in dramatic contrasts with the president's veto of money bills for education and housing.

If wriinging out the federal budget could have any effect on the spiral of rising prices it would be another matter. But there is little reason to believe that the size of the federal deficit for the current fiscal year is in any sense a controlling factor in the fight on inflation. Too many other elements are involved and above all one critical decision of a thrust so far-reaching as can hardly be exaggerated.

THE PRESIDENT let it be known that he will ask for no new taxes in the foreseeable future. Taxes are a sure way to dry up excessive spending and thereby contribute to bringing down prices. In another context, however, the tax decision is of even greater import. Without a substantial increase in federal revenue no real attack on the ills that plague the nation — pollution of air and water, the fantastic rise in crimes of violence, the lag in education — is possible.

The reporter travelling in the Midwest and the West for two weeks returns convinced that only through massive federal help and stern leadership by the President, calling for sacrifice in meeting the bill for long-neglected needs, is their hope for salvation. Rhetoric serves only to paper over the cracks that gape even wider. Each time it wears thin the rhetoric must be renewed in more inflammatory language.

Crime and the invocation to law and order offer a striking example of the contrast between good intentions with whatever flourish of rhetoric and the grim realities. Chief Justice Warren Burger speaking to the American Bar Association in St. Louis made for the second time an earnest plea for new correctional institutions. With few exceptions today's dangerously overcrowded prisons are a school for every form of vice and crime. Harassed wardens have all they can do merely to hold down the insurrections that repeatedly break out when the pressure becomes intolerable.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE was appealing to states and municipalities to provide the funds for new prisons and reform schools. In locality after locality, however, bond issues to provide such institutions have been voted down with the hodgepodge of state and local taxes prevailing almost everywhere and with rising levies on property to pay school costs, the taxpayer is in no mood to add new burdens at the city and state level. And that is particularly true when he sees in the federal tax structure glaring inequities that enable many in the top brackets to pay far less than their share or escape federal taxation entirely.

Mayor John V. Lindsay told the ABA that the Nixon Administration has asked for less money for safe streets, juvenile delinquency and narcotic treatment than Congress had authorized. He appealed to the lawyers to fight for money to expand the courts and enlarge and train police forces everywhere. Only by recognizing the vast difference between anti-crime rhetoric and the tedious, systematic work essential to crime control will it be possible to check the anarchy of crime and violence.

CALIFORNIA NOT LONG ago rejected a $246 million bond issue for three new medical schools and the complex of hospitals and clinics that go with them. With retirement for age the numbers of doctors in the state is steadily declining, as the population rapidly increases and medical costs shoot skyward. Medical care for those who have been barely able to pay their own way and for the poor is steadily deteriorating.

The lesson in every field is plain. As critics have pointed out, what the Nixon Administration proposes for the fight on pollution is pitifully inadequate.

The most recent Gallup Poll showing the Nixon approval rating up six points was taken within the administration as a happy herald of the prospect for this November and far beyond. The biggest rise since the president took office, it created a kind of Euphoria in the inner circle.

Arms Deal Could Lead To Commonwealth Split

By PHIL NEWSOM, UPI Foreign News Analyst

Simonstown is a small port and former British naval base on South Africa's Atlantic side, 12 miles north of the Cape of Good Hope.

Historically, it has the oldest English church (1814) built in South Africa. It used to be frequented by American whalers.

Future historians may look upon it as the cause of the breakup of the 29-nation Commonwealth which grew out of the British empire.

Its importance lies in a decision apparently already reached by Britain's new Conservative government led by Prime Minister Edward Heath to sell arms to the Republic of South Africa for maritime defense in defiance of a United Nations embargo.

HEATH AND HIS foreign minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home argue that the decision is necessary because the closing of the Suez Canal has placed Simonstown on the lifeline between Asia and the West, and that British aid is necessary against possible Communist encroachment.

The British claim is that any arms sold to the South Africans will be banned for use in support of apartheid (separation of the races) or against liberation movements.

Black African members of the Commonwealth take exception on both counts.

They believe the decision has been reached and they accuse the British of attempting to reestablish the supremacy they enjoyed before the breakup of empire.

In their own defense, Heath and Sir Alec point to the known Soviet interest in the Indian Ocean and the Persion Gulf.

AN EXAMPLE is the Island of Mauritius, a former British possession in the Indian Ocean which has been independent since 1968. The Mauritius government recently announced a three-year agreement with the Soviet Union to provide harbor facilities for Soviet fishing vessels and aircraft landing rights in return for technical assistance.

Black African Commonwealth members don't buy this argument either and at least three of them, Tanzania, Uganda and Zambia, have indicated they will withdraw from the Commonwealth if an arms deal is made.

Altogether, at least a dozen could pull out.

Whether or not the British argument for bolstering South African naval power is valid in a nuclear age, there are those who see commercialism rather than pure idealism in back of British thinking.

IN THE LAST 10 years South Africa has been building its armed forces on a massive scale. Something like $300 million has been spent on aircraft. France, one of the chief beneficiaries, has sold the South Africans three submarines, aircraft and other war supplies. From around $60 million 10 years ago, the South African military budget now is about $380 million.

The cynics believe Britain would like to get in on at least a part of the action.

Some Taxes Can Be Raised, Some Cannot–Change May Be Needed

What has several ceilings, but no roof? The answer to the simplistic riddle is a municipal tax rate.

The upper limit on the overall municipal rate is the tolerance of the voters because at least three tax categories are open ended. However, other categories have limits and sometimes they pinch.

THE SAN ANSELMO City Council recently squirmed under such a squeeze in the general fund. Repairing 5.3 miles of street and still maintaining city services proved impossible within a general fund rate of $1.52 per $100 assessed valuation.

Over that limit by 18 cents, the council axed $23,000 that was to go towards a new fire engine and $35,300 that was planned for street work.

If the city is to have the vitally needed engine and the road work, citizens will have to vote 9-cent two-year special taxes for each at the Nov. 3 general election.

THE GENERAL TAX provides the core of city services. Police and fire protection, the operation of city hall, and the maintenance of the town are financed from the general fund.

In San Anselmo, the cost of these services is inflating beyond the funds available for them, but other projects clearly less necessary than a replacement for a 31-year-old fire engine cannot be deleted instead because they fit in different categories.

For example, according to City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel, there is no limit on the tax rate for parks and recreation. Thus, the city can buy as many tennis courts as it wants, but it can't buy as many fire engines as it needs.

CITY ATTY. John G. Buresh said at the council's Aug. 11 meeting that the limit on the general fund was set by the state many years ago on the theory that property owners should not be taxed more than a certain amount.

However, other taxes have been tacked on to the total rate and now there is no legal limit. In addition to the legally limitless parks and recreation tax rate, the city could tax all it wanted for employee retirement and pension and for parks and boulevards, according to Kaeppel.

While the general fund rate is at the legal limit of $1.52 per $100 assessed valuation, others are well below their legal limit.

THE LIMITLESS parks and recreation and retirement add up to 55 cents on the tax rate; the library rate of 18 cents is 12 cents under the maximum.

The dime each homeowner kicks in for each $100 assessed valuation could legally be 20 cents and the city could levy other taxes it doesn't use now.

The law allows 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation for civil defense, 20 cents for museums and 30 cents for memorial buildings.

LEVYING THE memorial building tax on about $30.2 million secured assessed valuation would raise $90,600 —more than enough to build a memorial outhouse in Memorial Park with a statue of the mayor adorning the roof.

However, the council can't raise the money to pave all the streets in disrepair.

The general fund rate limit of $1.52 has put San Anselmo property owners in the position of voting special taxes on themselves for essentials lik fire protection and adequate roads while recreation rates are left to the discretion of the council.

IF THE OBJECT of limiting the general fund rate is to limit the property owners tax burden, then it would seem that either the total —instead of the components — should be regulated as is the case of school districts or the rates should be regularly reviewed and given cost of living increases by the state.

That $1.52 won't cover the streets it could have covered five years ago because of inflation.

ART BUCHWALD

The Art Of Driving In Sicily Is One Of Shouting And Playing Chicken

(We hope the Italian American Anti-Defamation League doesn't take offense at our use of the word 'Mafia,' but in Sicily it did exist when this column was written.)

PALERMO — As a distinguished student of European driving habits and their effect on the human heart, I wish to make a statement. Of all the people I have studied so far, there are none to compare with the Sicilian driver. One only has to be on the winding roads of this beautiful country a few hours to understand why so many Sicilians left the island and came to America.

To comprehend the problems facing a driver in Sicily, one must first take note of what can be found on the Sicilian highway during the course of a day's drive. There are, and not necessarily in this order, four-cylinder Fiats, eight-cylinder Ferraris, 12-cylinder Alfa Romeos, hay trucks, gasoline trucks, motorcycles, motor scooters, bicycles, horse-drawn wagons, donkey carts, hand-drawn carts, dogs, goats, sheep, chickens, children, fishermen, members of the clergy, carabinieri and highway bandits.

IT HAS BEEN SAID that the dreaded members of the Mafia are Boy Scouts compared to the people who have drivers' licenses in Sicily.

For one thing, the traditional omerta, or conspiracy of silence that Sicilians are known for, does not apply to anything that happens on the road. When one Sicilian passes another, he will shout at him that he is a fool, an idiot and his mother was a goat, and if really angered, that his father was a policeman.

The man passed will retort with words of equal passion, and will, if the wind is right, spit at the other car. Since Sicilians must use their hands when making expressive statements, neither driver has his hands on the wheel when yelling at the other.

IF THERE ARE OTHER passengers in the cars, they, too, will join in the argument. Even after the man who is doing the passing has made the maneuver, he will look back, waving both hands at the driver he has passed, who in turn will retort by either waving his hands or pressing the horn for as long as the battery will allow.

The only place one Sicilian will pass another Sicilian is on a curve. Occasionally a car or truck will be coming the other way, and then the driver faces what is known in Sicily as "the moment of truth."

If he swerves to avoid the oncoming car, he will be considered a coward and his whole family will be in disgrace. He must force the other car to swerve. To see two brave men meeting face to face on a Sicilian highway is a sight one will never forget.

THE ONE THING that can slow up a Sicilian driver is a donkey cart. All the donkey carts in Sicily are beautifully painted with pictures of knights in armor and scenes of great battles. Drivers of donkey carts get most of their sleep on the roads of Sicily and the donkeys seem to also.

A donkey cart can be found on any side of a Sicilian road, going in any direction. Although the carts themselves only take up one lane, the hay the carts carry is purposely laid horizontally across them, taking up two or sometimes three lanes, thus making it impossible for anyone to see what is happening up ahead.

Donkey drivers are used to the sound of automobile horns, and can rarely be waked up by one. The best thing you can do when you're caught behind a donkey cart is to relax and enjoy the painted pictures.

IT IS AN ACCEPTED fact that when a Sicilian car is approaching a village, the driver speeds up and presses his hand on the horn as hard as he can. But instead of frightening the villagers, it has exactly the opposite effect. Children rush out of their houses at the sound of a horn and start playing in the streets, dogs out minding sheep rush into town to find out what is going on and chickens start crossing the road to get to the other side.

THE DRIVER who has his honor at stake refuses to slow down, and the village population refuses to get out of his way. I can't tell you how it is possible for a car to get through a village without hitting anything since I've always had my eyes closed when I've gone through one.

Portraits of George Washington and Ben Franklin were the first to be used on U.S. stamps.

The Novato Planning Commission and downtown study committee will hold the second in a series of joint sessions to evaluate the Sedway-Cooke Novato downtown plan today at 7:30 p.m. at the Community House.

The group will begin discussion of sub-area and special element plans in the study at the meeting, in the following priority order:

Completion of the sub-area and special element plan studies is expected to require several meetings, according to Planning Director Brian W. Mattson.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Retain ITT Shares For Further Growth

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought International Tel. & Tel. at about 42. Is this a good growth issue? Also, will the suit being filed against IT&T over the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. purchase drastically affect the stock? — M.R.

A. Operating income of this leading manufacturer and supplier of electronic and telecommunications equipment and services rose a hefty 28 per cent in the second quarter from the corresponding period in 1969, on the 13 per cent gain in revenue. Net income advanced to $89.8 million equal to 83 cents a share, up from 66 cents last year. In respect to the first half, net increased 34 per cent to $1.42 per share from $1.07 — an impressive growth performance especially in these inflationary times. All of these results reflect pooling-of-interest transactions, including operations of Hartford Fire Insurance Co. While the anti-trust suit by the Department of Justice against the merger is still a factor to be reckoned with, this should not be regarded as an unusual development in view of the size and nature of the proposed corporate marriage. Continued growth is expected with earnings of about $3.00 per share looked for in 1970. Based on this estimate, the stock is selling at only 12 times. Continued retention of ITT for growth is advised.

Q. I am very much interested in Walter Kidde and King Resources for growth in two to three years. — R.A.

A. Both issues were, in the past, "high flyers," a category which is not exactly popular with investors at this time. In addition, King has been under pressure from creditors to repay short-term loans. The company has announced a refinancing plan which would allow conversion of $35.4 million short-term debt to long-term debt. Kidde has improved its cash position through the sale of one division of 30 per cent of another. Sale of two additional divisions has been proposed. You should upgrade your investment sights and concentrate on issues with well-established growth records and more reasonable debt-to-equity ratios.

FORD'S NEW PINTO

The design of Ford's new sub-compact introduced this year is expected to remain unchanged from year to year. Standard are a four-cylinder, 75-horsepower, front-mounted overhead vale engine and a synchronized, floor-mounted, four-speed transmission. A 100-horsepower engine is optional. In Marin County, cars will be sold at L.J. Dervin Ford Co., Novato; Lyons-Ryan Ford, San Rafael; and J and B Ford Sales, Corte Madera next month.

To Increase Line

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pfizer, Inc., says it will increase its lime producing capacity at Gibsonburg, Ohio, by 130,000 tons yearly by installing a new rotary kiln.

Market Ends Higher After Late Rally

NEW YORK (UPI)—A rally in the last hour enabled the stock market to finish higher Thursday for the third day in a row. Turnover was moderate.

Shortly before the close, the Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips was up 5.95 at 729.94. Of the 1,529 issues crossing the tape, 656 advanced and 545 declined.

A turnover of around 9,750,000 shares was about in line with Wednesday's.

Initially, demand for stocks was restrained by profit taking. But analysts noted that once this dried up, buyers became more aggressive, although one analyst said "it was not a determined kind of buying, just a nibbling."

Closing prices included: Am T&T 45 up 1-4; Chrysler 19 1-2 up 7-8; Dupont 123 1-2 up 3; Ford 47 1-8 up 1-8; Gen Motors 68 1-2 up 1; IBM 244 3-4 up 5.

Much of the market's recent strength had been traced to encouraging economic news and more of the same type of news appeared Thursday.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said it is increasingly clear that the economy has already passed through the most difficult period of transition.

Kennedy said that while he was optimistic about the economy in the months ahead, "we can't afford to relax prematurely our basic economic policies."

In a speech prepared for delivery to the combined civic clubs of Salt Lake City, Utah, Kennedy said the administration hopes to control federal spending but has not adopted a policy "that we must avoid any deficit in the budget at all costs."

Kennedy said there is evidence the deficit will be larger than the $1.3 billion indicated in May. But he concluded that "we cannot permit the budget again to become so unbalanced as to rekindle the inflationary pressures that only recently have died down."

Prices were mixed in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover were the most enthusiastic fishermen of our Presidents.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Bank Of California Is Given Marin County Branch Permit

A permit has been issued to the Bank of California by the regional administrator of national banks to open a branch in Greenbrae, but apparently the bank is in no great hurry to establish this office.

It is more than likely that an opening will coincide roughly with the proposed expansion of the Bon Air Shopping Center into a regional shopping center — and that may be a year or two away.

This will be Bank of Californias' first branch in Marin County. According to present plans it will be located on Sir Francis Drake Highway just west of the California State Automobile Association offices.

RAYMOND C. NANN of Corte Madera has been elected vice president and manager of the buildings division of the Robert Dollar Co., San Francisco. He joined the company as an office boy in 1951 and has served in both the lumber and buildings division. He is sanitary commissioner fo the second district in Marin County.

STANLEY SOROKEN of Mill Valley has joined the sales staff of California Printing Co., San Francisco, specialist in color printing. He was previously with Reliable Lithograph Co.

HARRY R. LEGGETT of Mill Valley has been appointed assistant vice president and assistant treasurer of ARMCO Boothe Corp. and GATX Boothe Corp., San Francisco.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE district office in San Francisco has announced that persons who are not certified public accountants or attorneys but who want to qualify to represent clients in tax matters before the IRS, must submit an examination application by Sept. 1. If a sufficient number of applications are received, special enrollment examinations will be held in San Francisco and several other Northern California cities Sept. 28 — 29.

Applications accompanied by a fee of $25 should be mailed to the Director of the Audit Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D.C. 20224.

THREE HOME OFFICE executives of Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. have been elected vice presidents. All are Marin County residents and were previously assistant vice presidents.

F. W. Benedict of San Rafael joined the legal staff in 1965 after three years as assistant manager of the American Mutual Insurance Alliance legislative bureau. Previously he had been rate analyst and department counsel for the Nebraska Insurance Department. He is assistant secretary and assistant general counsel.

James J. Meenaghan of Greenbrae, actuary, joined Fireman's Fund in 1964 as associate actuary. He started with the actuarial staff of the Insurance Rating Board in 1959 and became assistant actuary in 1962. He has been an actuary since 1966 and assistant vice president since 1969.

Justin N. Hierney of Kent Woodlands, assistant to the president, will become director of corporate planning. He joined the company in 1941 and has been adjuster, underwriter, ocean marine hull manager, assistant manager of the Atlantic marine department and manager in Washington, D.C.

OTHER INSURANCE: Six local agents of New York Life Insurance Co. have qualified as members of the company's 1970 Top Club: Arthur P. and William V. Brody (father and son) of San Rafael, Jack R. De Bruin, Mitchell E. Spangler and J.R. Wages, also of San Rafael, and Rolf G. Froelich of San Anselmo. They will attend an educational conference at Scottsdale, Ariz.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Brigadoon' Is A Bouncy Evening

By KAY KSANDA

Forest Meadows echoed with the full sound of bagpipes Tuesday night as the musical "Brigadoon," a bonus production o the Marin Shakespeare Festival, got off to a slow start, but finally gathered momentum.

Shakespeae is a hard act to follow but, for those who prefer a gay musical with pipes to philosophy in blank verse, "Brigadoon" can be rich with charm and lightly metaphysical.

The play is a musical fantasy of life in the 18th Century Scottish Highlands, and how it appears out of the mist, and appeals to a 20th Century New Yorker. Will he commute to New Rochelle, or drop out and drop back to Scotland 200 years ago? This shifting about takes a bit of magic, lots of singing and dancing among the heather, and the love of a pure and sincere soprano.

However, the mood of miracles, and dearness of the magical, doesn't work into the production.

The mysticism that makes this believable is just never projected.

One also gets the feeling that the cast doesn't quite understand the plot any further than the "he loves her" involvement of their own Brigadoon residents: Bonnie Jean MacLaren and Charlie Dalrymple, played by Sue Praft of Tamalpais High School and Terry Cahalan presently in the festival's "Shrew" and "Henry V." Dalrymple hits center stage with his good looks and high spirits and the show is off at last as he sings "Go Home with Bonnie Jean," accompanied by the chorus in good voice but jerky blocking. Bonnie Jean is flower pretty, the younger sister of Fiona, (Denise Arrell) the soprano who must be beautiful on the inside, since she's been sabotaged by the costumer and hair dresser on the outside.

The chorus dancers and singers mostly seem to be in that quasi-position between amateur and professional where their talent and ability gain strength through the progression of the show. By Intermission time, you realize that they have plenty of both, they've made it, let go and everyone is having a marvelous time.

Fiona is still in her spaghetti and meat ball dress, but is now singing "Heather on the Hill" to the New Yorkers, Tommy Albright, well sung but stiffly played by J. D. Nichols, baritone musical director of the show and faculty member of Redwood High. His best friend and hiking companion, Jeff Douglass (Max Klein of Mill Valley) and Meg Brock (Lynn Phillips) are working into a third possible romance and providing very good robust comedy.

This is really a Marin County production, with the musical directed by Dan Caldwell who has coordinated all the dancers, singers, actors, musicians, carpenters and costumers. Charles Perrier has created the choreography, besides playing the role of the ill-fated Harry Beaton, providing almost as much drama in his dancing as he did in his dying.

Another outstanding dancer is Laurie Berryman of the Marin Civic Ballet, cast as lead dancer in the chorus.

Altogether, it's a good show. There is a lot of spirit and rousing good fun in the production, talent and personality in the dancers and singers, and excellent casting in the principals.

Grateful thanks to the Prince Charles Bagpipe Band for its rousing performance, and to Larry Snyder who must have magic to be able to weave his small band of musicians into comfortable musical support. Performances are Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 8 P.M. through Sept. 2.

Senate Vote Unlikely To Abolish Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate opponents of the draft are pressing for a vote on their proposal to lay the groundwork for an all-volunteer Army. Prospects for enactment were gloomy.

Calling the draft a feudal system of human bondage, Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., urged the Senate to raise military pay and allowances high enough to make conscription unnecessary. Senate leaders were trying to arrange a quick vote before week's end.

The Goldwater-Hatfield proposal is in the form of another amendment to the $19.2 billion military procurement bill. So far the track record on attempted changes in the measure has been poor.

Wednesday the Senate reaffirmed its decision to proceed with expansion of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system. Opponents of the ABM failed by eight votes, 53 to 45, to confine the ABM to sites authorized last year in Montana and North Dakota. This gave the Nixon administration a solid victory and handed U.S. negotiators what they consider a key bargaining lever in the Soviet-American arms limitation talks.

In addition, Hatfield and Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., facing certain defeat for their amendment to require complete withdrawal from Vietnam by next June 30, submitted a revised proposal Wednesday. It changed the deadline to Dec. 31, 1971, a move they hoped would pick up a few more votes.

Despite support from both ends of the political spectrum, head counts indicate the volunteer army measure did not have the votes. Many members were troubled by the cost of the proposal, an estimated $3.5 billion a year, and there were some lingering fears of an isolated army of professionals.

The proposal would raise basic pay for new recruits by 50 per cent, establish a system of merit pay for professional soldiers, raise retirement benefits and provide death benefits for survivors — all steps are designed to encourage men to make a career out of the military.

RALPH SUTTON
Jazz pianist

Jazz Pianist To Perform At Inverness

Jazz pianist Ralph Sutton will give a 3 p.m. recital Saturday at St. Columba's Church in Inverness as a special guest of the Inverness Music Festival.

Sutton, discovered by Jack Teagarden in 1941, has become the leading exponent of the two-handed style of melody, an invention developed by the late Fats Waller.

Some critics think his greatest contribution to modern day jazz is his revival of interest in the left hand. Sutton is now with the "World's Greatest Jazzband" of Yank Lawson and Bob Haggert.

Smetana's Opera "The Bartered Bride" will be presented in a repeat performance at 2 p.m. Sunday in the amphitheatre adjoining St. Columba's Church.

Ticket information may be obtained by writing Box 2, Inverness, Calif. 94937.

Dance-Concert Is Announced

Marin Music Switchboard will present a dance-concert for the benefit of the Fairfax Youth Commission from 8 p.m. to midnight Aug. 28 at the Fairfax Pavilion.

Featured groups will be Southern Comfort, Flying circus and Brownwalt Millarmunch with lights by Dry Paint.

The youth commission, which didn't receive any allocation in the Fairfax city budget, is financially strapped, according to Chairman Judi Cummings.

The commission has $175 for the year, $75 contributed by Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet and $100 contributed by the Patchwork Players, she said.

Patsy Mink Running Unopposed This Year

HONOLULU (UPI)—Democratic Representative Patsy Mink was assured of being automatically returned to Congress today when the Republicans failed to name a candidate to oppose her in this year's elections.

Mrs. Mink, running for the first time from Hawaii's new 2nd Congressional District, had no opposition within her own party.

Thursday Concert Series Round-Trip Plan Is Eyed

The San Francisco Symphony Association has announced a proposed inexpensive round-trip plan for Marin residents wishing to attend Thursday afternoon San Francisco Symphony concerts at the Opera House in San Francisco.

If a minimum of 20 persons participate, a chartered bus will be operated from Marin County for the entire series of 18 concerts. A maximum capacity per bus is 49 persons. Cost will be determined by the number subscribing.

There will be three pickup and return stops, one at Greenbrae, a second at Tiburon-Strawberry and a third in Sausalito. One of the two concert plans proposed includes an hour and a half stop in Union Square for luncheon and/or shopping before the concert.

Advantages of the plan include elimination of transportation and parking problems and reduction of traffic congestion.

Those wishing to participate may send their names and addresses to Doris Lowell, San Francisco Symphony Association Room 107, War Memorial Veterans Building, San Francisco, Ca. 94102. Further information may be obtained by calling the association at the above address.

Ford Company Recalls 85,000 Police Cars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Transportation Department says all the 85,000 police cars Ford Motor Co. built between 1965 and 1969 will be recalled for replacement of defective wheel control arms.

Ford cars sold to the general public during the same period are not included in the recall. The National Highways Safety Bureau said the wheel control arms on police cars tend to crack under rugged police work.

Assessments Increase In All Cities

Sausalito and Belvedere had the highest increase in assessed value this year, county Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell reported today.

The percentage increase in assessed value for all 11 Marin cities is:

Sausalito, 20.2 per cent increase over last year; Belvedere, 19.7 per cent; San Anselmo, 13.9 per cent; Ross, 12.8 per cent; Larkspur, 12.2 per cent; Novato, 11.7 per cent; Tiburon, 10.2 per cent; San Rafael, 8.9 per cent; Corte Madera, 5.2 per cent; Mill Valley, 3.5 per cent; and Fairfax, 2.9 per cent.

The county's total assessed value this year is $635,074,736, up 8.5 per cent from last year. The total represents a market value of about $2.7 billion in taxable property in the county.

The assessed value is computed at 23 per cent of market value. Beginning next year, state law requires all counties to assess at 25 per cent of market value.

The county, cities, school districts and other taxing agencies must adopt their official tax rates for this year on or before Sept. 1.

Hungary Fetes Anniversaries

BUDAPEST (UPI) — Church bells and the roar of army jets mingled over Budapest today as Hungary celebrated 1,000 years of Christianity and 21 years of Communism.

Several thousand citizens assembled in front of the city's huge cathedral for the mass in honor of St. Stephan, the 11th century king who founded Hungary and introduced Christianity 1,000 years ago.

The church was so full it had to be closed when Archbsishop Joszef Ijjas, chairman of the Hungarian episcopate, and 10 other Hungarian bishops celebrated the 9 a.m. mass.

Sausalito Hearing Set On City Plan

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night set a public hearing Sept. 3 on inclusion of central waterfront and Marinship plans into a revised city-wide general plan.

The revisions would provide guidelines for a new city hall, library and park in the recently purchased waterfront property and set building and utility standards for the Marinship area at the north end of Sausalito.

City Planning Director Eric H. Borgwardt said the prupose of the proposed revision of the 1967 general plan was "to bring that document up to date and make it a more meaningful plan that reflects such developments as the 432 units being constructed at the north end of town."

Planning Commissioner Violeta Autumn questioned whether any further residential development should be permitted along the Sausalito waterfront, particularly in the Marinship area. No action was taken.

"BCDC (Bay Conservation and Development Commission) has proposed public access to water," said Borgwardt, "and I think that should be our goal in Sausalito too."

Borgwardt went on to suggest that the answer to increased traffic through Sausalito may be to limit the number of commercial visitor-oriented businesses in the Marinship area. "Let us give serious thought to curtailing visitor sprawl," he said.

"I don't think I can entirely agree on leaving out restaurants," said commissioner Evert Heynneman.

"I approve of ancillary support facilities for other businesses that may locate there," replied Borgwardt, "but I think we should discourage primarily entertainment centers."

America's Leading Cheese Stores

CHILDREN'S ADVENTURE leader Mary Myers of Tiburon sings and plays her guitar for her group of six-year-old boys left. She takes a group of six children on an adventure to Marin and the East Bay four days of the week. "When I am seventh in my small group the children will let me know what is going on in their minds," she says. "But if the group were too big the emphasis would have to be on control and discipline." Baiting a tiny fishhook with cheese for David Rapoport, Mary lifeguards while her adventure club six-year-olds catch fish from the deck of her 22-foot sailboat berthed in Sausalito in center photo. Right, ankle deep in a creek Andrew McGuinness, top left, and Miles Smith help Mary build a dam while her samoyed dog Kef watches David Rapport collected rocks. "People get too far away from doing fun things. I can really get into making a sand castle," says Mary.

Tiburon Co-ed Creates Her Own Summer Jobs

By PAT BALMES

"I refuse to limit myself because I'm a girl. If you just go ahead and do these things well, people will accept you," says University of California co-ed Mary Myers, who is "odd-jobbing it" this summer by hauling weeds in her "functional" van, doing carpentry on a houseboat and scuba diving under yachts to clean their hulls.

The 21-year-old blonde from Tiburon also teaches swimming in private pools and on four weekdays leads a summer adventure club for children 6 to 10 years old.

"I'm surprised more girls don't organize adventures for children. It's practical and profitable," says the senior at Berkeley who is saving her earnings "first for school, and then for a sailing trip, maybe around the world."

EACH DAY Mary picks up six children in her homemade camper at 10 a.m. and brings them home at 4 p.m. "I think some of the mothers were surprised when they saw my van," says Mary about her "first car" which she insulated, paneled and built in bunks.

"A regular car would never have survived my scuba gear!"

"There are so many places to go and things to do, I'm surprised the children haven't been to these places already," says the avid backpacker, skier and scuba diver. On her agenda are fishing at Paradise Cove in Tiburon, Angel Island, little parks in Ross, Larkspur and San Rafael, Fairyland in Oakland, Montclair duck ponds and frontier town; Lake Temiscal near Piedmont with its rolling lawns and roped-off swimming area, a walk across Golden Gate Bridge, bike riding in Golden Gate Park and overnight camping at Samuel P. Taylor Park, "our all-time favorite", says Mary, who rigged a rope swing there.

To recruit her young club members, Mary sent fliers to mothers she knew from her water safety instructor days at Tiburon Peninsula Club.

"Probably my club is popular because this is an affluent area," surmises Mary. Because children leave on vacation and are replaced, Mary has actually lead 36 children on adventures this summer.

HER YOUNG adventurers on Monday are five-year-old girls; Tuesday, eight-year-old boys; Wednesday, seven-year-old girls; and Thursday, six-year-old boys. On Fridays Mary does odd-jobs.

Her Pied-Piper role taxes her purse for gas and maintenance of the car and snacks for the children, and it taxes her energy with phone calls for organizing. But a quick swim at the Tiburon Peninsula Club revives Mary for an evening of social life.

With her college friends, Mary has planned skiing, snow shoeing, back packing and scuba diving trips.

"I originally thought the van would be a great way to go skiing," says Mary, who reduces expenses by parking inconspicuously in a ski-lodge parking lot and sleeping there with "Kef" her two-year-old Samoyed dog. She can fit into her van scuba and sailing gear and her canoe sometimes goes on top. Six bikes went into the van for the bike riding in Golden Gate Park with the adventure club.

Speaking of her parents' reaction to the truck and diving trips, Mary says, "My parents have been awfully good." Mrs. Myers did say, however, "Now Mary, how many girls do you know who scuba dive?"

"I DID this children's summer program once before when I was 15 or 16, but with only three or four children. I had no driver's license, so my mother toted us around. Mary repeats gratefully, "My mother has been awfully good."

Mary's younger brother Greg, a sophomore at College of Marin interested in oceanography, has been water safety instructor at Tiburon Peninsula Club this summer. Mary refers many of her yacht cleaning jobs to him. Brother and sister plan a backpacking week before school starts and dream of crewing around the world on a yacht. Mary says its usual for a girl to be cook on such voyages, but she wants to be crew.

She owns a 22-foot Treasure class sailboat.

"The only way to sail is to be captain!" maintains the independent girl. Most sailing she did in the past was on friends' boats.

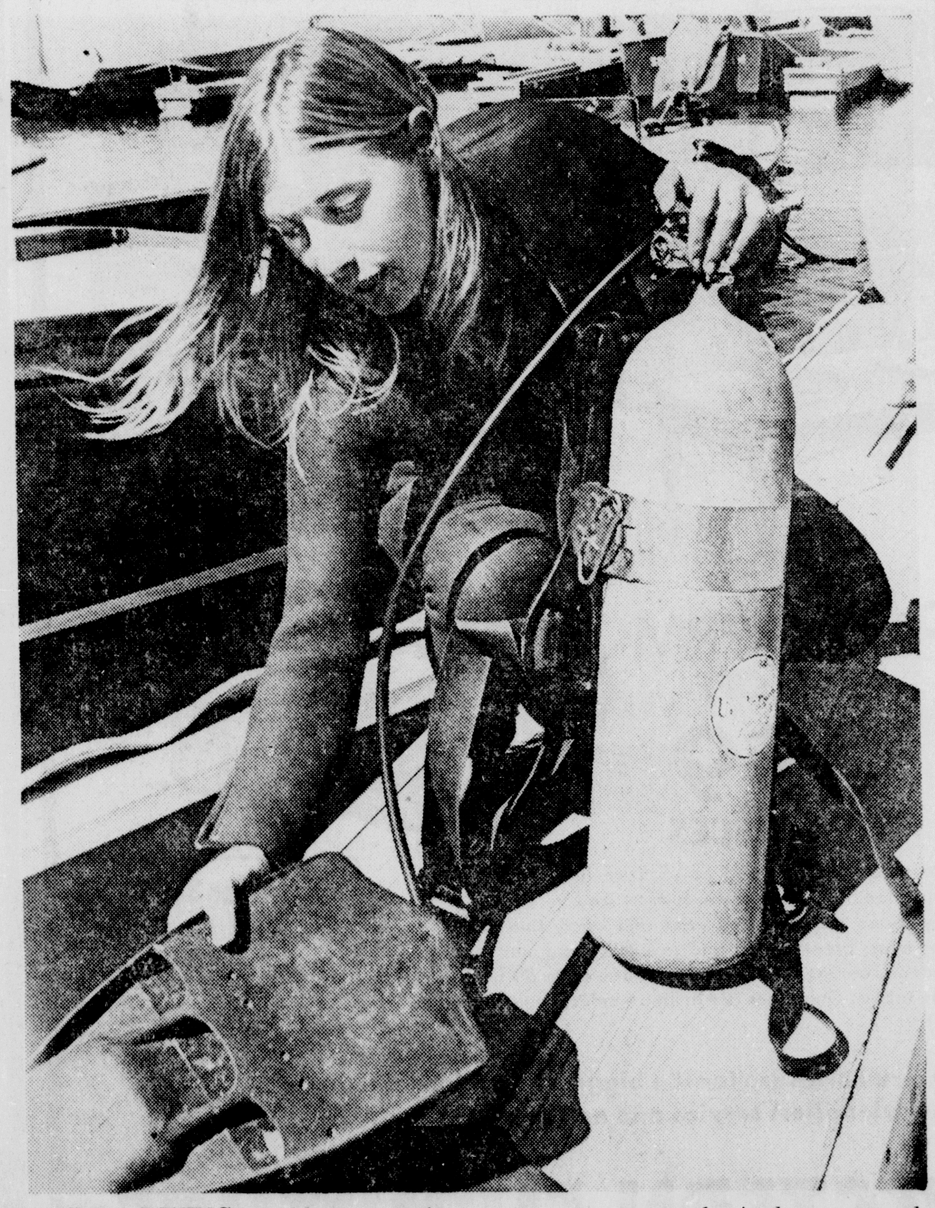
"You have to sit there and act like a date," Mary complains. "I have a canoe and can paddle from Tiburon across Richardson Bay to Sausalito when there is no wind."

Mary will complete her last two quarters at U.C. this winter. She relates a frightening brush with an enraged policeman who during campus rioting chased her down a side-street brandishing his club. Not involved in the riots, Mary was only trying to reach her car after classes.

Last spring, Mary went on pass-fail status at the university to devote her time, with 24 other Tiburon students, to a door-to-door campaign to persuade Tiburon residents to take a stand against the war in Vietnam. As spokesman for University of California Students For Peace, Mary addressed the Tiburon City Counsil and she felt well rewarded when the vote went against the war.

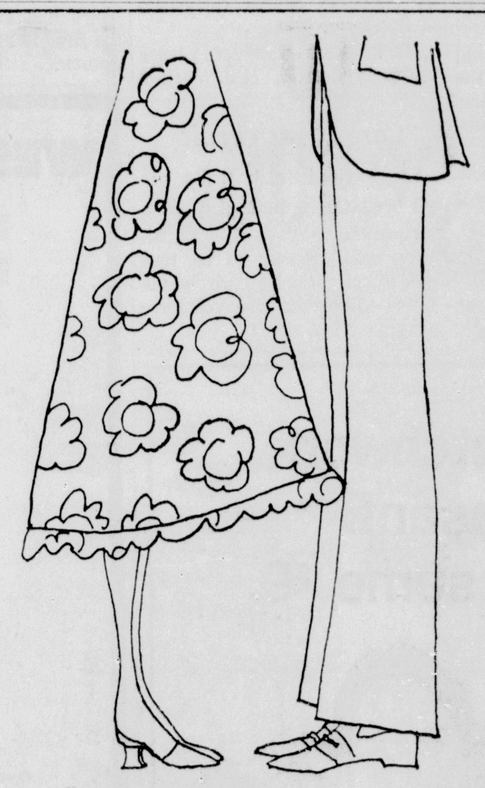
"Everybody asks me, What are you going to do with your anthropology major?" says the senior. "Anthropology gives you the best prospective on things," she says, although she may not make a career of teaching it because of the surplus of teachers.

"But education is where I should be, so perhaps I'll go into working with children in recreational or physical education areas."



MARY STARTS the crank turning on the ice-cream maker before giving Adam Baker his turn. "Do you know what other ingredients are in ice cream besides cream?" she asks the little boys on an outing in Old Mill Park in Mill Valley.

SCUBA-DIVING college senior Mary Myers cleans the hulls of racing yachts as an extra summer job and dives for her own pleasure in Monterey. Other odd-jobs are hauling away weeds in her van and doing carpentry work on a Sausalito houseboat. Mary is saving "first for school and then for a sailing trip, maybe around the world."



This is romance.

This is the new-fashioned, old-fashioned girl look. Some call it the midi. We call it pretty. Not a mini grown long or a maxi hemmed short, but a graceful flow to the middle of the calf. Flattering. Old-worldly. Real-girl stuff. Hearts and flowers and violins in the background. For dancing. For strolling. For the prettiest, most romantic you. This is the midi. The stuff dreams are made of. Come see us soon. We have lots of dreams for you to choose from.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

If Girdles, Minis, Bras Aren't For Your Figure, Don't Wear Them

DEAR HELEN:

I read a couple of times that "all the high school girls" were going bra-less. All? Not in our town, but maybe we're just slow.

Well, I showed up the last day of summer school without mine (mainly because they were both in the wash), and the boy I've got my eye on had a fit. He said guys make bets about which girls don't wear bras, and the shedders are either bragging or advertising, neither of which fit me.

I hit him with the old truth in packaging comeback, but I'll have to admit I sorta agree with him. While I haven't exactly got a hopeless chest, it looks better with a little build-up . . . and so do my clothes.

But he was so stuffy and bossy that I can't let him win. Must I go bra-less just to show him there's nothing wrong in trying out a new style? After all, I don't hassle his muscle shirts, even if he isn't made like Tom Jones. — NOT QUITE ABREAST OF THE TIMES

DEAR NQAOTT:

It isn't often a girl gets a chance to let a guy win an argument she'd rather lose anyway, so call his stuffiness "the male protective instinct," and be happy he is interested enough to care what other boys bet.

Then study your figure and wear (or don't wear) what suits it best — and that includes girdles, minis, hats, jewelry, as well as bras. — H.

P.S. My friend, the buyer for a large department store chain, tells me bras are holding up well, but girdles are slipping — saleswise, that is.

"All the girls are going braless" ranks with "midis have made it" as the fall's biggest fashion exaggeration. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

A girl I know is hung up on one of my best friends, but he doesn't like her and I do.

He tried to explain to her, but she is too pig-headed to get the message. I try to let her know I'm ready and waiting, but ditto.

Is there some way to make her stop liking him so it might work out for me? — LEO

DEAR LEO:

Propinquity and patience often win. Be there when she needs you and don't rush things. But just in case it doesn't work out, stay friendly with other girls. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I was wondering why people get so excited when they're called for jury duty. I mean they groan and moan as if it's the worst thing that could happen.

I really regret being only 15 so I can't serve. It would be a great way to help. You'd feel you really had a say-so in the law.

Of course I might get tired if I were on a hung jury that took weeks to persuade, or worried if I were on a terribly controversial case, but it makes me mad when people try their darndest to wiggle out of even local jury duty.

Maybe I feel this way because I love the study of government and law. — PROSPECTIVE JUROR

DEAR PROSPECTIVE:

Keep feeling this way, and maybe you'll be persuading jurors from the other side of the box — after you finish law school. — Good luck. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Dr. Spock Rewrites Chapter Of Book To Please Feminists

The outspoken baby doctor Benjamin Spock is rewriting a chapter of his latest book because the feminists didn't like it.

Dr. Spock said in an article in Redbook magazine that much of the feminist criticism resulted from "a widely circulated book review that stated — incorrectly, I claim —that I believe women's place is in the home."

Acknowledging that "many sensible, non-aggressive women" are listening to the feminists' demands for changes in sex roles and child-rearing patterns, Dr. Spock called it "a good sign that young people want to think realistically and idealistically about such matters."

Clarifying his position on careers for women, Dr. Spock, declared, "I've never said, as a generalization, that women should stay at home rather than go to work. I believe that women have a right equal to men's to get into any kind of work they can perform, and that, more important, they should receive equal pay and have an equal chance for promotion. I think it is good that the Women's Liberation Movement is going to recruit women for a militant fight for such rights, which are long overdue."

But Dr. Spock asserted, "Babies and young children have needs and rights too, and some adults have no idea what they are." Contending that the care a child receives in the first three years of life is most important, Dr. Spock said, "If a young couple love their child and care a lot about how he turns out, they can't talk casually about turning him over to a nursery or a commune or an individual for most of his waking hours during his first three years."

Not only is it essential that a "mother substitute" be very reliable, it is also advisable that she be able to stay on the job for the entire first three years, Dr. Spock said.

"If a child develops a real dependence on a substitute who takes over his care and if the substitute then leaves him, the deprivation will be as great as the average child would feel if his mother had died and will have long lasting effects. And if he is repeatedly left by a succession of caretakers, he may develop, as a defense against future desertion, a deep reluctance to love anyone else again."

Tevis Cup Race Finishers Include Five Marin Women

Of the five Marin women who attempted the grueling endurance horseback ride from Tahoe City to Auburn Saturday, all finished the 100 miles within the 24 hour time. Fifty per cent of the 186 starters were able to finish the race.

The Tevis Cup race was won by Nevadan Donna Fitzgerald of Reno.

Marin women riders were Vickie Anderson, 11th, Jeanne Whittington, 15th, Mary Tiscornia, 38th; Leslie Steere, 67th; and Nancy McCall, 70th.

Of nine Marin men entered, four finished the race: Bob Heffelfinger, 12th; Walt McLarren, 20th; Stan Swift, 50th; and Bud Arez, 81st.

The winner's time was 11 hours and 49 minutes. Four of the first 10 riders to finish were women.

Selection Of Fruits Greater Than Meats

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing service says food shoppers will find a greater selection of fruits and vegetables than meats at their nearby markets this weekend. The selection of meats however will include ground beef, beef roasts and steaks, and in poultry, broiler-fryers and turkeys.

VEGETABLES IN good supply include cabbage, celery, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, green peppers, potatoes and tomatoes.

Among the fruits will be bananas, cantaloupes, peaches and watermelons. Frozen concentrated orange juice is abundant, too.

The Interior Department reports best buys in fish are fillets, canned tuna, and fresh and frozen salmon.

Foods listed on USDAs' plentiful foods list for August include wheat products—the feature for August, which is sandwich month—summer vegetables, watermelons, fresh plums, peanuts and peanut products and, in some areas, canned grapefruit section.

THE FOOD SUPPLY outlook in the West:

Eggs are 1 to 4 cents a dozen higher in all West Coast markets.

Pork prices are mixed in all markets with loins 2 cents a pound higher and spareribs 4 cents lower in Portland. Boston butts are 2 cents higher in San Francisco and 3 to 4 cents lower in Los Angeles. Smoked and fully cooked hams are 2 cents lower in Los Angeles and as much as 9 cents lower in San Francisco. Bacon is 3 cents lower in Portland and 4 cents higher in Los Angeles.

BROILER-FRYERS are 2 to 2 cents a pound higher in California markets and light hens are 2 cents higher in Seattle. Fryer-roaster, young hen and tom turkeys are as much as 2 cents lower in Seattle.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include: Gravenstein apples, bananas, cantaloups, nectarines, oranges, peaches, plums, watermelons, cabbage, celery, lettuce, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Seafood buys to watch for in the west are fresh salmon, canned salmon, halibut, sole fillets, swordfish steaks, and red snapper.

Non-Fat Dry Milk

Nonfat dry milk will keep in good condition for several months on the cupboard shelf at temperatures of 75 degrees or lower. Close the container immediately after using because dry milk absorbs moisture and becomes lumpy if exposed to air for long. Lumps make reconstitution difficult.

Purse 'Dips' Normally Work In Twos

BOSTON (UPI) — A little common sense can save dollars and cents when it comes to purse "dips," says a veteran Boston Police investigator.

Mrs. Josephine Donelan of the Shopping Squad, who has been on the force for 27 years, says the "dips" normally work in pairs — "one opens the bag and the other dips the wallet."

One dip, she explained, will distract a woman by opening a door with one hand as he unfasten her pocketbook with the other, while the second dip reaches into the vurse for the woman's swallet.

Mrs. Donelan, who carries her wallet in a coat pocket, offers these tips:

— Choose a safe pocketbook, such as one with handles on each side or drawstrings, instead of ones with a single clasp.

— Try to avoid carrying large amounts of money.

— Be wary of standing in a crowd of shoppers. Dips frequently drape an item of merchandise over their arm to conceal the hand slipping into a pocketbook.

— Suspect women as well as men.

How Maple Syrup Was Discovered

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Just in case you've ever wondered how maple syrup was discovered, the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets tells an old tale about an Indian squaw and her husband.

The squaw, so the story goes, left her cooking pot under a tree where her brave was napping so that when he awoke he would take the hint and go to the spring and fetch water.

But the brave, angered because getting water was a chore for women, drove his tomahawk into the tree in a fit of temper and walked away. The tree happened to be a maple, so sap ran into the pot.

The next morning the squaw found the pot, thought it was filled with water, and boiled it over her fire. As evaporation took place, she found she had made a sweet syrup.

Anyway, that's how the story goes.

Odors Subside Due To Work On Plant

Engineer J. Warren Nute has told the Richardson Bay Sanitary District board that odor in Tiburon's Little Reed Heights is considerably reduced as a result of work on the treatment plant at Tiburon and Trestle Glen Boulevards.

The report was made Tuesday as directors reviewed the progress of measures to control odors from the plant, according to president Douglas de la Fontaine.

Directors decided to install a chlorinator at the plant to further reduce odors, de la Fontaine said. "We're still experimenting with the right amount of chemicals to feed into the new scrubber," he said. "The amount is important in cutting down on odors."

Directors also decided to have Nute survey sewer lines in the Town and Country Shopping Center area at Tiburon Boulevard and Blackfield Drive to seek the cause of line blockages. de la Fontaine said that the lines were installed across mudflats, which subsequently sunk about 18 inches.

"Sagging lines may have caused the blockage," he said. The engineer will report to the board at its next meeting, Sept. 15.

IN A GENERATION

Threlkeld Sees Loss Of Saigon

By GEORGE NEVIN

CBS correspondent Richard D. Threlkeld, newly returned from the Vietnam war zone, predicts that South Vietnam will be lost as an ally to the west in a generation.

"The U.S. will continue to support the government with millions of dollars and thousands of troops for 10 years," he said, "But eventually the country as a non-Communist nation must fall."

Threlkeld, who just moved to Mill Valley, knows his subject well. For almost two years, from September 1968 to May 1970, he covered the battles, both political and military, in that war-torn country.

"The elected leaders of South Vietnam don't represent the people, only themselves," he stated flatly. "Most of the officials are Catholics. Many, such as Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, once were northerners."

Buddhists comprise some 85 per cent of the nation's population, Threlkeld said, but the French-educated Catholic minority controls the government.

The only way that the country can avoid falling to the north is for a revolution to sweep it, he maistained. "Not a military revolution, but a social revolution that every emerging nation must go through. The people have to be taken out of the traditional way of thinking and start thinking of Vietnam," he said.

Only then will South Vietnam be one unified country, instead of a hodgepodge of factions — Buddhists, Catholics, southerners, northerners, central coastland peoples.

Threlkeld, 32, described life in Vietnam for journalists: "We would get word that something was happening — we wouldn't know what — around the demilitarized zone, so we'd bum a ride in a helicopter to a base there, and then start asking questions."

But the correspondents were not allowed to release any news until the company commander gave permission. "The embargo was to protect the troops. If the Viet Cong knew of their plans, they could take advantage of the information," he said.

Newsmen who leaked word of a battle or troop movements before the embargo was lifted faced loss of their credentials which would deny them access to the war zone.

Sometimes, Threlkeld said, he would go out with a platoon on a mission. "Since ours is a visual medium, a premium is placed on combat film footage," he said. "But those days are over. Americans aren't involved in any big battles any more."

Because of the nature of the military, Threlkeld said that public relations men spend much of their time trying to keep the truth from the pres.

The military is a big bureaucracy, and a lot of energy goes into defending itself," he said. "There's a certain built-in friction between the reporter and the military."

He said that a large corps of public relations officers existed "not to promulgate good news but to keep bad news from leaking out."

But, he added, they never stopped him from getting a stosry.

"The military is so big that you can walk around it. Once you get out into the field, it's easy to get the story."

Threlkeld noticed a marked change in the war during his stay there. "Back then half the country was controlled by the VC, and the ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) had been demolished. Now the ARVN is better able to take care of itself, and it has better rapport in the villages."

The Viet Cong don't control the large, heavily populated provinces anymore, he said. "The roads near Saigon and Da Nang still aren't safe at night, but no longer do the VC have effective control. They don't collect taxes any more."

Threlkeld thinks the U.S. made a mistake in going into Vietnam and trying to fight a mechanized war. "Fifteen years ago the South Vietnamese could have fought the Cong on their own terms. Now we've trained them to fight with tanks, half-tracks, helicopters and cannons," he said.

As for the Vietnamization program, Threlkeld thinks President Richard M. Nixon is doing the only thing he can. "Nixon knows his number one priority is to get us out of Vietnam quickly. He's a political realist. But we'll have troops and money tied up there for a long time."

Vietnamization is working, but "the Cambodian war is the most touchy spot in Indochina now. It's like Vietnam was like 15 years ago — a Keystone Cops army and a need for Americans to advise them."

The newsman's wife, Sharos, and two daughters, Susan, 9, and Julia, 5, lived with him during his stay in South Vietnam. The girls attended an American school a block from their villa. The school was called the Phoenix Study Group because it rose from the ashes of its destruction — it was shelled during the 1968 Tet offensive.

"Prices in Saigon are terribly high. That's what the war has done to the economy," Mrs. Threlkeld said. "Our villa cost $1,200 a month, although CBS paid for most of that. Our landlady was a very wealthy woman."

Although he's happy to be in Mill Valley, Threlkeld already is looking forward to next summer, when he plans to return to Vietnam for four months.

"It's one of the few stories that a newsman can become expert on," he said. "Here in the Bay Area I get so many different assignments that I can't concentrate on one but after two years in Vietnam, I feel that I know more about the political and military aspects of the war than the administration."

Man Tosses Parrot Into Hawk's Cage

A Daly City man has told Ross police he raided a private aviary and tossed a parrot into a hawk's cage to satisfy a desire for peace in Vietnam.

Patrolman Leavins Hinnenberg was called to the Danil Shillinger home at 433 Lagunitas Road about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday on a report a man was breaking into an aviary at the residence.

Hinnenberg found David George Russek, 22, next door. The patrolman said the man told him he entered the aviary and threw the parrot in with the hawk because he felt the parrot represented President Richard M. Nixon and the hawk represented Vietnam and he "wanted to get everything resolved."

The parrot was not hurt.

Russek told Hunnenberg he learned of the aviary while living at a "semi-hippie pad" nearby.

Russek — who appeared under the influence of narcotics, police said — was booked into Marin County jail on suspicion of possession of marijuana and auto theft, having allegedly stolen a car from a residence on Glenwood Avenue moments before entering the aviary.

He was held in lieu of $1,875 bail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Seven Are Injured In Marin Accidents

Four persons were treated at hospitals and three others said they would see their own doctors for injuries suffered in three traffic accidents in Marin County yesterday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

William Spangler, 28, of 608 C Street, San Rafael, was taken to Novato General Hospital with bruised ribs after the car in which he was riding was involved in a collision at Nave Drive and the Ignacio Boulevard exit of Highway 101 at 11:15 a.m.

Officers said the car driven by Allyn G. Clark, 37, same address, was struck by another driven by Raymond L. Ward, 41, of Sacramento, which failed to stop at a yield sign at the intersection.

Three passengers in the Ward car said they would see their own doctor for minor cuts. The patrol identified them as Linda Ward, Mark E. Ward, and Teresa A. Ward, all of Sacramento.

A 25-year-old Petaluma man was reported injured when his car, northbound on Highway 101 north of Novato at 7:25 a.m., left the road and plunged over a 15-foot embankment.

Treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts and bruises was Robert E. Vivenzi. The patrol said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Carol A. Walter and Peggy L. Parsley, both 17, of Windsor, Sonoma County, were treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and scrapes after their car struck the center divider and ran off the road on Highway 101.

Officers said Miss Walter, the driver, became startled and locked her brakes whenher wheels hit the lane divider buttons. The accident occurred north of the San Rafael overpass at 1:55 p.m.

Juvenile Court To Handle Pot Case

William A. Mecklin, 19, of Inverness and Washington, D.C., has been accepted by juvenile court for handling of his marijuana possession and pot-smoking device possession charges.

Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith received the report yesterday. Mecklin was arrested July 25 while parked on an Inverness road.

Stanford To Hold Campaign Talks

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Stanford University, in hopes of bringing campaign issues before students and the public in "grass root" terms, will conduct a series of seminars which will bring candidates and commentators to the campus prior to the November General Election.

Plans for the program, called "Stanford - Community Forum '70," were explained by students, faculty members and university officials Wednesday.

They said it was developed out of the belief that the proper role for the campus is not direct involvement in political affairs, but political education.

New Federal Requirements Tough On Waste Discharge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Tough new federal requirements for waste water discharges into navigable waters and their tributaries have been announced by the Army Corps of Engineers.

All applicants for corp permits to build outfall pipes now must list what is going to be contained in the discharges so that their environmental effects can be analyzed.

The corps, long under fire from conservationists for failing to account for such effects, previously considered only whether an outfall would interfere with navigation.

Col. Charles R. Roberts, San Francisco district engineer, said the new requirements were issued under the Refuse Act of 1899. They will be enforced by the corps, the Federal Water Quality Administration and the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board, he said.

The revised requirements were to comply with the federal Environmental Policy Act of 1969, which required federal agencies to consider the environmental impact in their administration of laws, Roberts said. The revision also will comply with the Water Quality Improvement Act of 1970, which requested applicants for federal permits to file a certificate from the appropriate state agency that the discharge "will not violate applicable water quality standards."

Roberts said he hoped that industries will accelerate their own antipollution efforts.

Hearing Scheduled In Marijuana Case

Preliminary hearing on marijuana possession charge against Daniel Martin Klopf, 18, of Tamalpais Valley, has been delayed while juvenile court decides whether to accept his case.

Klopf, arrested at Cascade reservoir July 22, was referred to the juvenile court for report back to Municupal Judge Peter Allen Smith next Wednesday.

Army Awards Petaluman For Heroism

Army Sgt. Richard J. Penry, 21, of Petaluma, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism in Vietnam.

The Army reported that Sgt. Penry defended his wounded companions against a 40-man ambush in Jan. 31. A 1966 graduate of St. Vincent's High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Penry Jr., 1436 Sierra Drive.

RADIO DAMAGED

The Army reported that all but three members of his battalion had been wounded in an attack by a full company of the enemy. When Sgt. Penry realized the radio had been damaged, he made three ventures through the enemy lines to gather replacement parts.

The Army said the enemy began a second assault and Sgt. Penry moved to the most vulnerable sector of the perimeter and defended the force. He stood up three times to toss hand grenades and fired his weapon effectively with enemy ammunition gathered from the trips across the line.

After the second attack, Penry continued to gather spare radio parts and was successful in making the radio operable to call for assistance.

AIDED WOUNDED

The Army said he also administered first aid and assisted in evacuating his wounded comrades.

The award — the nation's second highest — was presented in Vietnam by Gen. William B. Rosson. Penry also holds the Army Commendation Medal for Valor, Bronze Star, Air Medal and Combat Infantry Badge.

Before entering the Army in March, 1969, he was employed as a cook at the Green Mill Inn, Cotati. Sgt. Penry is currently home on leave and will be reassigned to Fort Lewis, Wash.

Auto Theft Case To Higher Court

Phillip David Harrison, 19, of Sleepy Hollow, will face arraignment in Marin Superior Court Monday on two counts of car theft, allegedly committed July 10 and 11.

The youth was bound over after preliminary hearing before Judge David Baty in municipal court. He was arrested July 17. Harrison also awaits sentencing on a guilty plea entered June 23, to the March 18 burglary of Shakey's Pizza Parlor in San Rafael, when he was slightly wounded by a police bullet while attempting to flee.

In 1955 flying a super-sabre jet, Col. Horace Hanes reached an altitude of 40,000 feet and a speed of 822 miles an hour.

In 1966 a Turkish earthquake claimed 3,000 lives.

A thought for the day: O. Henry said, "Love and business and family and religion and art and patriotism are nothing but shadows of words when a man's starving."

Airline President Aids By Quitting

OAKLAND (UPI) — Joseph A. Young has resigned as president of San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines, Inc., in order to facilitate streamlining of the financially troubled firm.

Sam Kagel, court-appointed trustee who announced that Tuesday, said Richard C. Lovern had been appointed general manager. Lovern had been executive vice president of the shuttle airline that serves San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and Marin County.

Young said, "I left retirement to become SFO president and I now feel that in a spirit of cooperation and assistance, I should step aside."

Clear Reasoning Can Determine Whereabouts Of Missing Queen

How do you guess the correct way to take a two-way finesse for a missing queen? One way is to guess where you would go if you were a queen, but it's much better to play for the queen to be where it must be if the contract is to be made.

ACUTE START

Toronto expert Sammy Kehela had to locate the queen of spades to make his contract in today's hand, played diurng the recent world pair championship in Stockholm. The defenders had very acutely started off with the ace of diamonds, the king of diamonds and a low diamond to the jack.

Kehela began by leading the king of heart's. West covered with the ace, and declarer ruffed in dummy. Now, should he take the ace of spades and let the ten ride for a finesse through West, or should he take the top spades and then lead the jack of spades for a ruffing finesse through East?

If you know the answer but not the reason, slap yourself on the wrist and score minus 100 for peeking. Kehela made the right play for the right reason.

NEEDS CLUB FINESSE

Kehela could see that he would need a successful club finesse. Since West had already shown up with the king of diamonds and the ace of hearts and would have to hold the king of clubs also, he was very unlikely to have the qaueen of spades in view of his original pass and subsequent silence during the bidding.

FELL RIGHT

If West did have the queen of spades, he would not have the king of clubs, and the contract would be unmakable. The contract was makable only if West had the king of clubs, and East, therefore, the queen of spades.

Kehela took the top spades and led the jack of spades through East. When east stolidly played low, declarer discarded a heart. Then he ruffed a spade, cashed the queen of hearts to discard a club from dummy, and tried the club finesse. This succeeded, and the contract was home.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens in fourth position (after three passes) with one heart. The next player passes, and you hold:

♠- 8 3
♥- A 10 9 4
♦- K 9 4
♣- K J 10 8.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three hearts.

This jump raise is not forcing after your original pass, but it does justice to your hand. If partner decides not to go on, your side can probably not make a game.

Picnic Slated Sunday To Aid Robson Park

The Robson-Harrington Park Association has scheduled a picnic at the park on Sunday from 3 to 8 p.m. to raise money for renovating the 2-year-old park and its 64-year-old mansion.

Mrs. Robin Skewes-Cox, president of the Robson Girls, said the program would include children's games, refreshments and a concert from 6 to 8 p.m. by Bill Sache's twenty-piece jazz band.

The association, which now numbers 60 persons, was formed in 1968 when the city was left the 2.7 acre estate in a will. The group is trying to correct the rundown condition of the bequest, according to Mrs. Skewes-Cox.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Oil Firms Hold Transit Fund Key

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The author of a proposed constitutional amendment to end a 32-year ban on the use of highway construction funds for rapid transit predicted today a tough battle with oil companies for voter approval in November.

The measure by Sen. James R. Mills, D-San Diego, squeaked out of the Assembly Wednesday on a 56-19 vote. It goes directly on the Nov. 3 general election ballot and does not need to be signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Voting for the bill was Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Mills said the campaign for voter approval may be as tough as the legislative battle. The measure would allow revenue from the $1 billion highway construction fund to be used for rapid transit, smog control and freeway rerouting.

"The oil companies were very active in opposition to it," said Mills. "I believe they will spend a lot of money against it."

"The Governor was no help and the Reagan administration Department of Public Works was opposed," he said.

The proposed constitutional amendment would allow local government, with the approval of the voters, to use 25 per cent of its highway fund allotment for mass transit or smog control.

Mills said the funds also could be used to reroute freeways.

"For the first time the people at the state of California will have some recourse from the state Highway Commission which has been high-handed and dictatorial," he said.

He said if the voters agreed to the rerouting, counties could change the route of proposed freeways.

Legislative approval of the proposed construction amendment marked the first time since 1938 that voters will have a chance to determine how gasoline tax revenue is spent.

Supporters of the proposal said alternatives to the automobile must be developed for moving large masses of people. Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, said if alternatives are not created there is a danger in the future that people will "choke to death on smog."

"This is the only way to provide for transportation for the masses," said Lanterman.

Mills said adoption of the constitutional amendment would make about $80 million available statewide for local governmental agencies which decided to use the funds for other than highway construction purposes.

AUTO TAX

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to impose a 3 per cent state excise tax on new car sales, if Congress repeals the federal 7 per cent levy on the same transactions, failed to clear its final committee test Wednesday night.

The Senate Finance Committee defeated the measure by Assemblyman John V. Briggs, R-Fullerton, on a split voice vote despite the author's plea that it was a means for fighting environmental pollution and increasing the acres of beaches and parks.

The proposal would have raised $150 million a year that would buy new recreational property, finance smog research and help pay for other environmental protection programs.

FLAGS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate has approved a bill making it a crime to publicly defile, deface or cast contempt upon a U.S. or California state flag.

The measure by Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, R-San Diego, was returned to the lower house on a 35-0 vote Wednesday for concurrence in amendments. There was no debate.

BOMB PENALTY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill that could send a bomber to the gas chamber has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill, signed Wednesday, set the death penalty or life imprisonment—at the discretion of the jury—for conviction of willfully and maliciously exploding a "destructive device" causing great harm or injury to a person.

Reagan said, "As you know, a wave of bombings has hit the country in recent months, and California has not been spared.

"I know I share the hopes of all law-abiding citizens in the state that the new law will somehow help to curb this most tragic and senseless form of violence."

The measure by Assemblyman W. Craig Biddle, R-Riverside, included "Molotov cocktails" in the definition of "destructive devices."

CROSSING

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Toll Bridge Authority today was asked by the legislature to take another look at its decision to build the controversial Southern Crossing over San Francisco Bay.

The legislature Wednesday approved the resolution by Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, requesting the reassessment when the Senate passed it on a 34-0 vote.

Earlier legislation aimed at delaying construction of the $500 million span designed to stretch from Alameda to just south of San Francisco International Airport was defeated.

The Crown resolution—which does not carry the weight of a bill—simply calls on the agency to re-examine the need for such a bridge, which is scheduled for construction in 1972.

Pair Booked In Stolen Money Case

A 40-year-old Oakland man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on suspicion of receiving stolen property and assault with a deadly weapon after he was arrested in Sausalito at the Valhalla Inn.

His companion, a San Francisco man, was booked for investigation of receiving stolen property.

Police said Morris Dashutes of Oakland and 33-year-old Peter Joseph Desmond were arrested following the theft of a Little League contribution jar containing about $20 from the restaurant at 201 Bridgeway.

Valhalla owner Sally Stanford told officers she noticed the jar missing after the men left the restaurant about 1:45 p.m.

Miss Stanford and a companion, Evelyn Ross, went out to the parking lot, saw the pair in a car driven by Dashutes and asked the return of the money. According to police, Mrs. Ross attempted to block the lot exit and was struck and pushed out of the way by the auto as it sped away. She was not injured.

Both men were arrested minutes later when an officer observed the car northbound on Second Street and saw a jar being thrown from the passenger window, police said. Both were held in lieu of $5,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Car Embezzler Suspect Held

A Fairfax man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday and held in lieu of $2,500 bail on suspicion of embezzling a car from a Mill Valley firm last October.

Clarence Frank Spanos, 38, who gave his address as 270 Oak Manor Drive, was arrested Monday in Lake County on a warrant charging him with leasing a 1970 Ford station wagon from Small World Leasing, 25 East Blithedale Avenue, and failing to return it.

The car was found abandoned Monday at a drive-in theater in Clear Lake Highlands. Spanos was arrested when he called the California Highway Patrol to claim the car.

He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Manson Takes Stand To Protest Searches

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charles Manson took the witness stand at the Tate-LaBianca murder trial today to complain bitterly about the "humiliation" to which he said he was subjected in the County Jail.

Dressed in prison denims, his beard and hair stringy and uncombed, the 35-year-old ex-convict testified outside the presence of the jury on his motion to order the county sheriff to cease and desist the "harassment" of the defendant.

Manson described a "shake-down" which he said he undergoes a number of times every day in which he takes off all his clothes, opens his mouth, wiggles his tongue, turns his head to show each ear, raises his arms to show there is nothing in his armpits, shakes his hair, lifts one foot and then the other.

"It is symbolic of humiliation," he said. "It's like kicking a dead man."

Manson also testified that when he spoke with his attorney in jail an officer always was present and when he attempted to pass any written communication to the lawyer the officer read it first.

He said a guard also was present when he talked to prospective witnesses and within earshot of their conversation.

The state's star witness, Linda Kasabian, concluded her testimony Wednesday after 18 days on the witness stand and said she would continue her life as a hippie.

Bill To Govern Smog Devices

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday signed a bill requiring the smog control systems of new automobiles to be properly adjusted before the cars are sold.

"The sky looks bluer already," Reagan said as he signed the legislation in his office. Te author, Sen. Lewis F. Sherman, R-Berkeley, stood beside the governor.

Since 1966, auto manufacturers have been required to equip new cars with smog control systems meeting state standards. But, the governor said, they were not always properly adjusted. Under the new law, the manufacturer or the dealer will have to adjust the devices.

Poll Puts Gov. Reagan In Front

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Poll's latest survey, released today, showed Gov. Ronald Reagan with a slight gain in support for re-election.

His opponent, Democratic Assemblyman Jess Unruh, has held on to the same percentage he had in the previous poll three months ago.

The California Poll's latest survey, released today, showed a gain in support for Republican Governor Ronald Reagan.

The survey, based on a representative cross-section of 1,131 potential voters, showed Reagan with 50 per cent, compared to 49 per cent in May.

Unruh's total was identical to his May mark, 37 per cent.

If voting today 85 per cent of the Republicans and 25 per cent of Democrats said they favored Reagan. Unruh's figures were eight per cent of Republicans and 60 per cent of the Democrats.

Unruh had 66 per cent of the "liberal" votes to Reagan's 21 per cent, while Reagan had 70 per cent of the "conservative" and 46 per cent of the middle of the road votes.

One Is Freed In Marijuana Case

One of four persons arrested Aug. 14 in a San Rafael marijuana cultivation raid has been freed in Marin Municipal Court after no complaint was filed Judge Peter Allen Smith freed Andrea Jean Bernstein, 22.

Marines Asked To Release Beach

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Rep. Alphonzo Bell, R-Calif., said Wednesday it was time for the Marine Corps to release 31-4 miles of beach at Camp Pendleton for public use.

Bell said the state originally had asked for 4.5 miles of beach but had trimmed its request. The state wants the land on a 25-year lease.

"I believe the time has come for aciton from the Marines," Bell said at a news conference.

"The thought that the prime beach frontage at Camp Pendleton should be fenced off to the public so that the Marines can use the land for maneuvers a few days each year, is preposterous," he said.

Partnership Sale Permit Is Issued

PALO ALTO (UPI) — The State Department of Corporations yesterday issued its first permit for sale of limited partnerships in order to trade in commodity futures contracts.

The recipient was Commodity Investors Associated of Palo Alto. The usual permit proviso of neither approving or disapproving was included.

The state permit limits sale of partnerships to California residents and states no partnership can be bought for less than $300, although additional $300 partnerships may be acquired by those properly qualified.

Forest Firemen Hope Wind Dies

LOVELL, Wyo. (UPI)—Firefighters hoped for a break in the weather today as they battled three wind-whipped forest fires which already have consumed more than 8,000 acres of prime timber country in northern Wyoming.

Forest Service personnel said they could gain an upper hand in the fight only if the winds, with gusts measuring up to 50 miles per hour, die down. "I don't believe there is any way to control this fire if the winds come up again," said Forest Service spokesman Tom Quinn, who has directed operations at a week-old blaze in the Shoshone National Forest west of Cody.

The other fires were burning uncontrolled on the Wind River Indian Reservation, scene of a fatal plane crash involving two firefighters Tuesday, and the Big Horn National Forest.

Novato Planners Approve Church

The Novato Plan Review Committee last night approved plans for construction of a building for St. Anthony of Padua Church at the south end of Cambridge Street on the south side of Novato Boulevard.

New landscape, irrigation and lighting plans will be prepared and minor changes in a retaining wall and handrails were required.

Action was postponed on requests for plan review of the Alameda Del Prado apartments and sign review for Frenchi's Drive-In Restaurant, and no action was taken in discussion of plans for a Shell service station at San Marin and San Andreas drives.

State Will Help In Span Safety Study

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Highway Engineer John A. Legarra has agreed to participate in a study of the Golden Gate Bridge approaches with a view toward making them safer for the motorist.

His decision came Wednesday at a California Highway Commission meeting during which Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge, Highway and Transportation District, called the approaches "old, inadequate and unsafe."

Luehring pointed to a July two-car collision that took 10 lives on a San Francisco approach.

The general manager said Legarra, representatives of the district and officials of San Francisco would conduct the study and make recommendations within 90 days.

"I seriously doubt that there is another section of state highway anywhere in this great State of California that carries the volume of traffic and is as antiquated and dangerous as these approaches," Luehring told the commission.

He said the roadways should be brought up to "modern standards in the interest of protecting the lives and safety of some 130,000 persons who cross the bridge every day."

State Public Works Director James A. Moe endorsed Leuhring's request for the study but pointed out that the stretch of approach where the accident occurred 'has a below-average statewide accident record."

Additional support came from Ben Farlatti, president of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce, who said there was even blocking from the "tennis shoe underground."

Vandalism Case To Juvenile Court

Mark David Blodgett, 18-year-old accused of the Aug. 9 burglary and vandalism of the San Marin Recreation Center, has been referred to juvenile court for possible certification as a minor.

Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith yesterday set Sept. 2 for receipt of a report on whether Blodgett would be accepted by the juvenile court.

Use Of Drugs, Readiness Compared

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Pentagon report said today a study of drug usage among U.S. troops turned up no evidence of impairment of readiness of units in Vietnam.

The report by a special task force was made public by Defense Department witnesses as they appeared at a Senate hearing to testify on drug abuse in the military.

The task force concluded that "a serious and growing" national drug problem extended into the armed forces. But it said the extent of the problem was no greater in the military than outside.

Drug abuse by men in uniform "is not such that at this point military readiness is considered to be endangered," the report, dated June 24, said.

At another point it said that drug usage has had an adverse impact on unit readiness" in Vietnam.

Some witnesses earlier this week at the hearings testified that drug usage was quite high among men in Vietnam. Three former GIs appeared in Halloween type masks Wednesday to testify about their experiences.

One, who called himself Frankie, said of marijuana, "You smoke it and you get wrecked and you don't know what the hell you're doing."

The Pentagon report called for continuation of present policy of discharging drug offenders but recommended that they be eligible for treatment of their problems at veterans' hospitals. This is not now permitted in such cases.

The task force also suggested closer screening of those being taken into the armed services to weed out actual and potential drug users. It also put in a word for an all-volunteer Army, suggesting that this would cut the number of drug abusers being taken into the services.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., conducting the Senate hearings, described the three masked, nameless witnesses Wednesday as "brave men indeed" to appear.

Jail Sentences For A Sit-In

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Three San Diego State College students were sentenced to six months in county jail Tuesday for participating in a sit-in demonstration at the school May 13.

They were Rex D. Fulford, 26, Joyce G. Reading, 19, and Alphonso J. Powell, 22.

Fourteen other defendants were granted three years' probation but were fined from $180 to $360.

Municipal Court Judge William Graham said those who were sentenced to jail had taken more active roles in leadership during the demonstration. All 17 had pleaded guilty.

Tiburon Completes Review Of Budget

The Tiburon City Council completed review of its 1970-71 budget last night after grappling with an assortment of fiscal snags.

The budget, which now stands at about $685,000, up $120,000 over 1969-70, is scheduled to be adopted at the council's next meeting Monday night. If the spending program is not altered further, the city tax rate will go from 65 cents to 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Meeting last night as a committee of the whole in a move designed to informalize procedure, the council passed with minimum discussion the police services, planning, retained services, streets and ways and parks and parkways accounts beofre clear differences arose.

When the council took up the program development account, Councilman M. Carlisle Becker noted with concern that no funds were provided for recreational programs aboard an ark renovated by Tiburon Peninsula teen-agers for youth activities.

Becker, a landscape architect who has assisted with the ark renovation, successfully recommended that $250 be placed into the budget, up from last year's $212 expenditure.

The sum was added, however, with the stipulation that the youths submit activity plans to the parks and recreation commission. This was intended to assuage concern of Councilman Branwell D. Fanning that the teen-agers might feel they were assured of an annual handout, no questions asked, from the city.

The night's major disagreements came when funding for drainage study and construction was considered.

First, Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood, questioning why no funds had been allocated for mapping of the city's drainage trouble spots, won a 4-1 council vote to take $1,500 from contingencies for the work, provided no federal funds are available. Albert H. Sennett dissented.

An attempt was then made by Becker to raise from $3,000 to $9,000 funds for temporary drainage construction to stem the flow of Tiburon waters into Belvedere, but that was defeated when Mayor Denis T. Rice abstained after his council colleagues had deadlocked 2-2.

Becker, chairman of a Belvedere-Tiburon committee that studied common drainage woes, joined Miss Ellinwood in calling the $3,000 "wholly inadequate."

But Becker, while saying a "demonstration of good faith to Belvedere is needed," served notice he opposed spending a separate $21,000 drainage fund held by the city.

This money was deposited with the city as the private share of future improvements at the time the Tiburon Lodge and Safeway store were constructed five years ago without permanent drainage facilities.

Although city staff has previously indicated the funds cannot legally be used for temporary drainage work, the council asked for a final opinion at its Monday night session.

Poisoning Blamed On Chlorine Gas

RICHMOND (UPI) — Chlorine gas was blamed yesterday for 17 cases of violent poisoning near a chemical company plant.

The victims, who were on a rifle range and motorcycle hill, inhaled the gas which had apparently leaked from tanks at the Tops Chemical Co.

Fire Chief Milton Hathaway said the incident occurred while workmen were cleaning steel tanks at the chemical plant and residual chlorine escaped.

The victims reported to three hospitals within a couple of hours after the incident. They complained of vomiting, headaches, sore eyes and burning throats.

They were released after treatment.

Gun Shots Fired At Judge's Home

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — Police reported yesterday that someone fired six gun shots at the home of Municipal Court Judge Walter Condley here.

Investigators said Condley reported the shots were fired about 3:30 a.m. Tuesday morning.

Police said five of the .45-caliber bullets struck the home and another hit the curb outside the house.

Two of the bullets passed through the walls of the home but there were no injuries.

Marin Soccer Ref Tells Of World Cup Pressures

By DAVID EINSTEIN

To Americans, football means touchdowns, first downs, running, passing and the Super Bowl.

To the rest of the world, football means soccer, the largest spectator sport on the face of the earth.

Soccer is to football as baseball is to cricket. The American fan may sit in front of his television every Sunday from September to January, and get drunk if his team loses. The soccer fan, be he British, Brazilian, German or Italian, may travel hundreds of miles to see a game, and kill himself if his team loses.

Or he may kill somebody else, although suicides are sometimes recorded as a result of losses in the World Cup, much more loss of life occurs when, as in Rio De Janeiro two months ago, a country celebrates victory in that greatest of all sports events. Forty-four people died in two days of festivities following Brazil's win over Italy in the final game at Aztec Stadium in Mexico City.

Henry Landauer of San Rafael was at the World Cup, this summer. In fact, he was one of 30 officials from around the world, and the only one from the United States.

Officiating a World Cup match is more prestigious than umpiring a World Series game. It also entails more responsibility After all, one rotten call and 100,000 fans could start a riot. Don't laugh. In Turkey a few years ago, a referee blew a call and more than 200 people died in the ensuing argument.

Every World Cup match has one referee, who is responsible for every aspect of the game, and two linesmen, who assist him. Landauer refereed one game in Mexico, the Sweden-Uruguay match at Puebla, and was a linesman in three others: Russia-Belgium and Mexico-Belgium at Aztec Stadium, and the Italy-Mexico semi-final at Toluca.

It was a great honor for Landauer, a partner in the Pier 15 bar in San Rafael and Patterson's in Sausalito, to work four games. "I had twice the assignments of some of the European greats," he said.

Landauer spent five weeks in Mexico, including one week of training prior to the start of the competition. The officials were based in Mexico City and traveled to other cities for games via minibuses.

The training consisted of conferences, movies and on-the-field exercises, all of which were conducted by the Federation International Football Association. This was the first time for such training, and it paid off. There were few cautions issued during the matches, and no ejections. It was the cleanest World Cup ever.

Landauer talked of the pressure of the event. "There was much at stake, both for the players and the referees," he said, emphasizing that there are 22 players on the field during the game but only one referee. Players make mistakes that go unnoticed, but the referee cannot afford to make mistakes because all eyes are on him.

There was tremendous pressure during the last eight games, one of which was the Italy-Mexico affair at Toluca. Landauer said of the Mexican fans, "There was the most fanatical outburst of emotion I've ever seen." He said that the celebrations in Mexico City following Mexican victories would last all night and keep the officials awake.

Pressure is only relative to how many people are watching. At Aztec Stadium there were 112,000 at the Belgium-Mexico game. "I thought my eardrums were going to bust," said Landauer. "That was the worst ever."

It takes a remarkable man to control a match before that many fans. "The minute you set foot in the stadium your responsibility starts," says Landauer. "The referee on the soccer field is like a policeman — you can't be soft, you've got to be tough. The first 10 minutes you have to establish your game control."

Landauer's control, according to worldwide newspaper critics, was exceptional. From Germany, his home until 1947, when he came to the U.S., at the age of 18, a paper called Sportbericht praised him for his work in the Sweden-Uruguay game. It was particularly impressed with the way he saw through the time-wasting tactics of the South Americans, and adjusted the time of the game accordingly (The referee controls the official clock).

In fact, he added three minutes to the first half, and five to the second in order to have 90 minutes actual playing time, taking into account timeouts, injuries and the stalling maneuvers.

Although he has played soccer since the age of 10, Landauer had not even seen a World Cup until 1966, when he went as a spectator to England. Now he is a veteran official and hopes to be chosen to work the next World Cup, in Germany in 1974. The event, like the Olympics, is held in a different country every four years.

If he is so honored, it will fall once again to his business partner Bill Patterson to take charge of things while Landauer takes his place at the top of the soccer world.

Just how special the top of the world is can be seen by the fact that each of the 150 member nations of FIFA nominated seven officials for the World Cup. That's a total of 1,050, out of which only 30 were chosen.

According to Landauer, only a handful of men repeat as World Cup officials. But he is not counting himself out.

Twenty-three years ago Henry Landauer left Germany as an 18-year-old tool and dye maker. It would be nice to go back as a World Cup referee.

Memorial Suggested For A Good Sport

San Rafael educator Alfred N. Thomson, who died this week at age 54, was quite well known in local sports circles. Al starred in football at San Francisco State and later coached football and swimming at San Rafael High, but his real love was soccer. In 1946 he was a member of the state champion S.F. Olympic Club and long after his active soccer days he would be advocating the kickball sport here in Marin. In 1968 he was quoted here: "I wish our league (Marin) would get a soccer program going. That's the greatest game going and it gave me the happiest days of my life."

Last winter the Marin County Athletic League finally added soccer to its interscholastic schedule due in part, I believe, to Thomson's urging.

Wouldn't it be nice if the MCAL were to institute an Alfred N. Thomson Memorial Trophy to be presented annually to the league's most inspirational soccer player.

I think Al would get a kick out of that.

Some Reel Big Piscatorial News

MY FAVORITE fishermen at the moment are John Duarte, a San Quentin correctional officer, and Earle F. Johnson of San Rafael. They really hit the piscatorial jackpots this week.

Duarte, fishing out of Bodega Bay Monday on a party boat chartered by patrons of the Sugar 'n' Spice Restaurant of Boyes Hot Springs, reeled in a 47-pound salmon, believed to be the largest at Bodega in several years.

"And to think I just went along for the halibut," I thought I heard him say.

And Johnson stirred all kinds of excitement this week at Yosemite National Park when he caught a 25½-inch German Brown in the Merced River between Merced and Washburn lakes at an elevation of about 7,250 feet.

According to the Yosemite News Department, Ranger Bart Reed of Merced reported Johnson approached him the other morning and said, "Well, here's your breakfast," to which Reed replied: "It would be a sacrilege to eat it."

The fish, weighing almost five pounds and believed to be a record for that area and altitude, is now in deep freeze awaiting a taxidermist's skills.

Stars' Wives Promote Charity

SURPRISE VISITORS to the S.F. Giants Boosters Club's awards banquet in Fairfax last night were Mesdames Juan Marichal, Matthew Emory Hazeltine Jr. Tito Fuentes and Len Rhode promoting ticket sales for the big Professional Athlete's Wives Association fashion show at the S.F. Hilton Sept. 10. They and their famous hubbies along with dozens of other hubby-wife teams will model the latest fashions in the annual charity affair, said ex-San Anselman Evie Hazeltine.

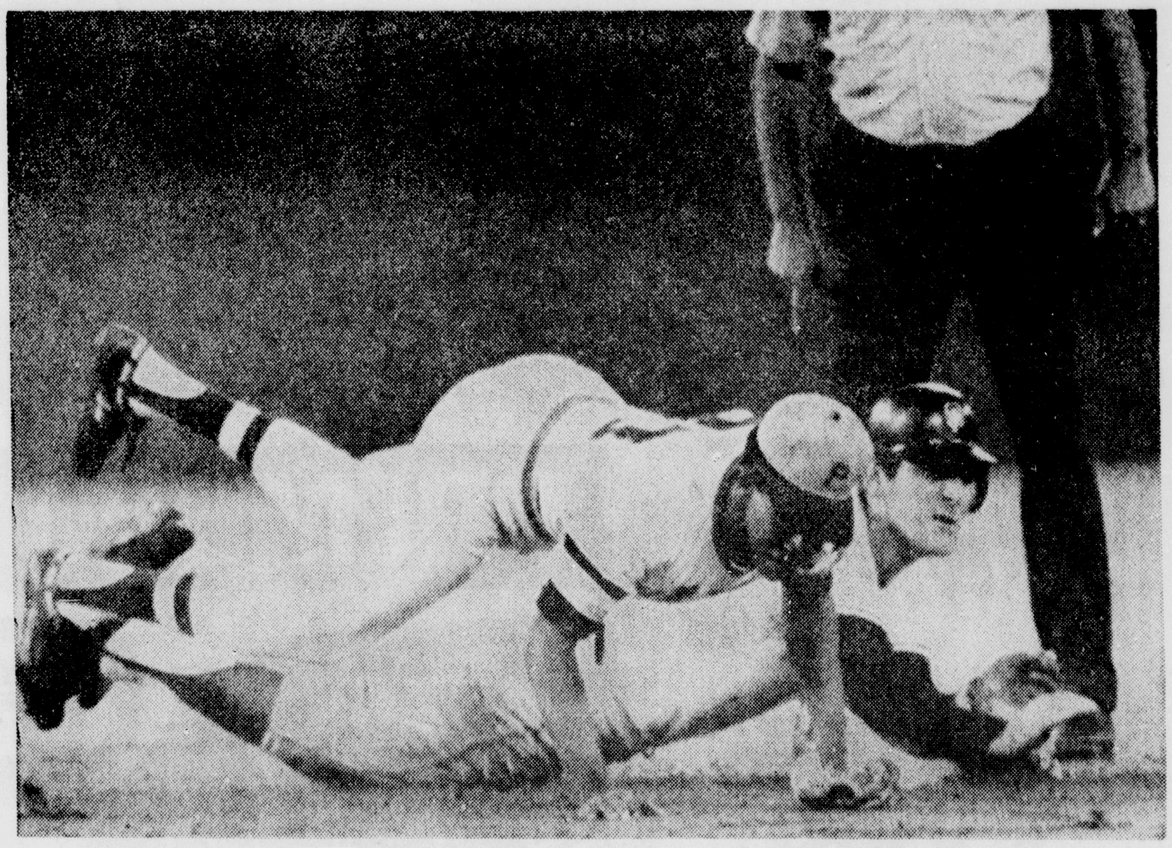
TWELVE-YEAR-OLD Craig DiGrazia of Novato leaves today for Columbus, Ohio where he will compete in the Grand National Quarter-Midget Auto Association Championships Aug. 29-30. Craig will vie in two classses — stock, in which he holds a world record, and modified. Last year he posted second fastest time and finished fifth in class at the Grand Nationals.

He Stuck In His Thumb . . . Ouch

CATCHER JESS MUNYON of the Sohner Tree Service softball team has the craziest thumb this side of Jack Horner. Says team leader Keith Fraser "With the thumb seperated in three places as a result of an injury in last weekend's state tournament games, Jess may be limited to pinchhitting duties tomorrow night."

That's what you call a joint effort.

EX-DRAKE STAR Don Alvarado of San Anselmo, scheduled to be one of All-American and Heisman Trophy candidate Jim Plunkett's targets this year at Stanford, is described thusly in the Farm's grid pressbook: "Sat out the '69 season due to abundance of receivers . . . Has excellent hands and can catch in heavy traffic . . . Not the fastest among receivers, but has the knack of getting open . . . Will become more effective with game experience . . . Figures prominently in offensive plans." Don, a soph, is 6-0, 187, plays split end, wears No. 8.



MISSION UNACCOMPLISHED

San Francisco catcher Dick Deitz set out to break up double play at second base but failed as he was forced out (above) and Jim Ray Hart doubled at first in third inning of game at Pittsburgh last night. Giants went on to win it, however, 7-4, to square their season record at 61-61, details of which appear on page 30. (UPI telephoto)

Raiders' Stabler Called Clever Southpaw In Pads

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI)—Bear Bryant once praised Kenny Stabler as the finest quarterback he ever has coached at Alabama.

That was 1968. Now, after a two-year absence from the gridiron, Stabler is proving that his passing touch is still as delicate as his quiet southern drawl.

"Damned if he doesn't remind me of one of those clever southpaw pitchers," said Stabler's teammate Ted Davis at the Oakland Raiders training camp Wednesday. "You know, the control guys. Like Preacher Roe and Whitey Ford."

Stabler and the Raiders are preparing at their Santa Rosa training camp for their third exhibition contest Saturday night versus the Los Angeles Rams.

Sharing quarterbacking duties with veteran first-stringer Daryle Lamonica, Stabler threw three touchdown passes in both the Raiders' opening exhibitions against Baltimore and Philadelphia.

"The two-year layoff hasn't hurt me," Stabler said. "You might think football would be strange to me now after being out of it for so long. Yet it really isn't."

Stabler's introduction to pro competition hasn't been without its kinks. "They intercepted me three times at Baltimore," he noted.

What Coach John Madden especially liked about Stabler against the Eagles was that he suffered adversity and came back. Stabler threw one touchdown pass immediately after having an earlier one nullified by a penalty.

"You can't worry," Stabler shrugged. "You dig down into your bag and find something else."

"That's what you look for," you welcome it in the exhibition season. You want to see if a man retains his poise when things go wrong.

"Stabler is not all that flawless yet," Madden continued, "but he's an exceptonal prospect."

The young southpaw slinger is realistic. He realizes that Laminica is No. 1.

Unshakable Nolan Will Start Brodie

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Despite pressure from fans and newsmen, San Francisco 49ers Coach Dick Nolan is going to start his No. 1 quarterback in Saturday night's exhibition game against the Miami Dolphins.

Sound unlikely? It's not, if you consider that the 49ers No. 2 quarterback is probably the main reason for the near-sellout crowd of 60,000 Floridians who'll pack the Orange Bowl.

Steve Spurrier, who won the Heisman Trophy as a quarterback for the University of Florida Gators in 1966, is who they have paid to see.

Veteran signal-caller John Brodie is just an incidental performer in what Florida football fans hope will be a showdown battle between Spurrier and Miami quarterback Bob Griese.

Griese was Spurrier's closest rival for the Heisman Trophy in 1966, when he was calling signals at Purdue.

Coach Nolan, asked to compare the two quarterbacks, said, "They're different types."

Although Nolan would like to please the fans, he considers club development more important and has decided that Brodie should call signals the first half, with Spurrier coming in for the second.

A's Hit The Road On Crucial Trip

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland A's are off today on the start of a nine-game road trip which could make or break their chances to catch Minnesota in the American League West race.

The A's, held to 23 hits in four games, broke out for an even dozen against an assortment of Detroit pitchers Wednesday night for a 7-0 victory over the Tigers.

The victory, although welcomed by manager John McNamara, didn't change things for the A's as far as the A.L. West race goes. They remained in third place, six games behind the Twins.

"I'll take it," said McNamara, who was beginning to think the A's might never come out of their swoon after facing such outstanding lefthanders as Mike Cuellar, Dave McNally and Mickey Lolich.

SORE SHOULDER

The Tigers started another lefthander, Mike Kilkenny, Wednesday night but he left in the third with a sore shoulder and the A's ahead, 2-0, on Don Mincher's 21st homer in the second.

The A's picked up another run off Joe Niekro in the fourth and batted around for four more runs off Daryl Patterson and Fred Scherman in the eighth to ice the game,

Meanwhile, Diego Segui stopped the Tigers on four hits —three singles and a double—to notch his eighth victory against nine losses.

By going the distance, Segui gave the A's bullpen a day's rest. The team is off today but travels to Cleveland for the start of the road trip. Chances are the A's will face Sam McDowell, who beat them last week, in the opener of the weekend series.

McNamara will start Jim Hunter, who has failed in his last four starts to gain his 16th victory.

"If they (the Indians) follow their rotation, it'll be McDowell again," said McNamara. "Sure, he's a good pitcher, but if we are going to stay in the race we have to start beating pitchers like him. We are getting down to the final weeks and every game now seems twice as big as before."

Mincher drove in a third run Wednesday night with a bases loaded walk in the eighth and Felipe Alou helped out with two runs batted in. Bert Campaneris had two hits, scored and drove in one.

And Reggie Jackson, a late game defensive replacement, drove in a run with a solid single.

"Campy's single in the eighth was a big hit," said McNamara, "because it got us a run and it was encouraging to see Reggie hit when he did. We need help from every man now."

Cubs Sneak Back In Race

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Unnoticed and unheralded, the Chicago Cubs are slipping back into the National League's Eastern Division race.

The Cubs, who were written off as a contender in June when they lost 12 straight games, are quietly getting back into the chase as both the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Mets continue to play erratic ball.

Both the Pirates and Mets lost Wednesday while the Cubs routed San Diego 12-2 for their seventh victory in their last 12 games. The Cubs are now just four games behind Pittsburgh and 1 1-2 games behind the Mets.

1969 COLLAPSE

A year ago at this point, the Cubs were leading the division by 7 1-2 games but they collapsed and the Mets charged in to win it all. This season the Cubs were five games ahead of June 13th but they were knocked out of first place on June 24th and haven't been in the lead since.

Jim Hickman, the last of the original Mets, hit two homers and drove in five runs to pace the Chicago victory. Hickman now has 28 homers this year. Winning pitcher Ferguson Jenkins, Billy Williams, Joe Pepitone, Johnny Callison and Glenn Beckert also homered for the Cubs.

GOOD SHOT

Jenkins, now 15-14, has a good shot at winning 20 games for the fourth consecutive season.

In the other games, Houston topped New York 9-4, San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 7-4, Montreal beat Cincinnati 8-6, Atlanta nipped Philadelphia 3-2 and Los Angeles beat St. Louis 4-2.

In the American League, Baltimore beat Milwaukee 3-2, Minnesota blanked New York 3-0, Oakland beat Detroit 7-0, Chicago routed Boston 13-5, Kansas City nipped Washington 2-1, and Cleveland beat California 2-0.

The Mets played the way they used to when they were a baseball joke while losing to Houston. The Mets made four errors and Ken Singleton turned Denis Menke's fly into a three-run triple in the third inning. Tom Seaver gave up 10 hits in six innings and suffered the loss, his third in his last four starts.

.500 Plateau Consoles The Giants

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants have finally reached the elusive .500 plateau.

It took heavy batting help Wednesday night from Willie McCovey and Bobby Bonds, but the Giants handed the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-4 thumping and evened their own season won-lost record at a balanced 61-61.

It is a modest attainment, but with the Giants 20 1-2 games behind the National League West-leading Cincinnati Reds, it was about the only milestone within reach.

JUAN'S SEVENTH

Juan Marichal, who has never gotten back on his usual pace since coming off the sick list, gained his seventh victory against nine losses on the power of McCoveys' two-run homer and Bond's two-run double.

The win enabled the Giants to head homeward from Pittsburgh with two wins out of the three-game Pirate series and five wins out of their last six games.

After a day off today, the Giants swing back into action Friday night at Candlestick Park against the Chicago Cubs.

32ND JACKPOT

In Wednesday night's win over the Pirates, McCovey's 404-foot blast over the centerfield wall followed a walk by Willie Mays in the fifth inning. It was McCovey's 32nd jackpot shot of the season and staked Giants to a 4-0 lead.

San Francisco took a 7-2 lead in the eighth on Bonds' double, which followed a pair of walks. Bonds came home on Tito Fuentes' three-bagger.

The loss was charged to Luke Walker, now 10-4, and it spoiled a golden opportunity the Pirates had to gain ground on the New York Mets in the Eastern Division, as the Mets lost to Houston in an afternoon contest.

Raiders' Madden Seeks Adversity

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—Coach John Madden planned to run his Oakland Raiders through a pair of hurry-up workouts today in preparation for their Saturday night foray with the Los Angeles Rams.

After a light morning workout Friday Madden will take his rookies and veterans southward for what he hopes will be a game full of adversity.

"That s what you look for," he said. "Actually, you welcome it in the exhibition season. You want to see if a man retains his poise when things go wrong."

Esposito's Record

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rookie goaltender Tony Esposito of the Chicago Black Hawks set a modern National Hockey League record for shutouts with 15 in the 1969-70 season.

Orr's Scoring

BOSTON (UPI) — Bobby Orr of the Boston Bruins became the first defenseman ever to win the National Hockey League scoring title when he registered 120 points in 1969-70.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

In an effort to increase the sidespin of the ball, today's bowler is about to turn her wrist violently counter-clockwise at release. Her fingers are on the right side of the ball. The best release finds the fingers more behind the ball at this point with the wrist-twist minimal.

AMERICA'S CUP

Aussie Protest Strategy Fails

By CONNIE RYAN

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—An Australian protest having been denied, the way was cleared today for start of the Aussie-France America's Cup qualification series Friday as the U.S. final trials appeared to be settling into the expected Intrepid-Valiant duel.

Australia's Gretel II syndicate, in a letter to the International Race and Protest Committee Wednesday morning, said it feared there had been erroneous official measurements and asked that both Gretel II and France be remeasured, lest they be ineligible for the Cup races against the U.S. winner.

The committee, out on Rhode Island Sound watching the U.S. trials and practicing its race procedure, didn't get the protest until late afternoon, but then made quick work of it. They answered the Aussies by mid-evening with a letter advising them "conditions governing the France-Australia match have been complied with and we believe there is no reasonable ground for further action . . ."

The Aussies felt they had scored their point. Most yacht experts believe that the chief result of their protest, had it been allowed, would have been to force France to change trim tabs at its rudder, about a two hour operation. But the warning was clear to the U.S. too, and Valiant and Heritage would have faced major changes. There would be minimum effect on Intrepid.

FAVORITES WIN

Intrepid, skippered by Bill Ficker of Newport Beach, Calif., and Valiant, under Bill McCullough of Riverside, Conn., were emerging as expected as the contenders for U.S. selection. Valiant won its second straight Wednesday, beating Heritage by 3:47 and Intrepid, loser to Valiant in Tuesday's first race, trounced Weatherly by 7:31.

Valiant was to race against Weatherly and Intrepid against Heritage today.

Gretel II was out of the water today for final work on its hull, and France, in drydock for the past three days, was refloated today and taken on a short shakedown sail.

Brawley To Host Babe Ruth Series

BRAWLEY, Calif. (UPI) — Host Brawley will meet Ewing Township, N.J., and Pine Bluff, Ark., will face Centralia, Wash., in opening games of the Babe Ruth World Series Friday night, it was announced today.

The nine-team, double-elimination baseball tournament for 14 and 15-year-olds runs through Aug. 29. Games are set at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. each day.

On the second night, Jefferson City, Mo., will take on Darien, Conn., and Nashville, Ohio. Honolulu is scheduled to meet the loser of the Brawley-Ewing Township game Sunday night.

El Segundo, Calif., last year's champion, didn't make the field this season. In fact, only Nashville, Darien and Mt. Healthy have played in the Babe Ruth World Series before.

Met Shortstop Equals Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bud Harrelson of the New York Mets equalled a major league record for most consecutive games without an error, by a shortstop in one season Thursday in a 9-4 loss to the Houston Astros.

Harrelson ties the record of 54 set last year by Don Kessinger of the Chicago Cubs. The major league record for consecutive errorless games by a shortstop is 68, spanning two seasons, set by Buddy Kerr of the New York Giants in 1946-47.

Ontario Speedway Opens Saturday

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI)—Ontario Motor Speedway opens practice Saturday for its inaugural race, the California 500, on the $25.5 million track's 2 1-2-mile oval.

Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., is expected to be the first driver on the track at noon. Donohue was second at Indianapolis this year.

The California 500 will be run Sept. 6.

Sohner Team In Do-Or-Die Situation

It will be a battle for survival for Sohner Tree Service tomorrow night in the California State Softball Tournament when the San Anselmo team faces the winner of tonight's clash between Stornetta's Dairy of Napa and the Watsonville Merchants.

Game time tomorrow is 9 o'clock at Napa's Kennedy Park.

After beating Stornetta's (2-0) and losing to Wilson-Russell Ford of Vallejo (1-0) last weekend, the Treemen joined 12 other clubs in the losers' bracket of the 16-team double elimination tourney.

Only Redding and Vallejo with 3-0 marks remain in the unbeaten ranks. Los Banos was the only club eliminated during the first weekend of action.

To gain the finals Sunday night, Sohner would have to win Friday night, grab two more victories Saturday afternoon and then win another pair Sunday afternoon.

As difficult as it might seem, this is a similar task to the one performed by Sohner in the recent Tri-County District Finals when the Treemen, a forfeit loser in their second game on an eligibility claim, stormed back to win seven straight and capture the championship for Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties.

Ace righthander Morey Swarm will hurl tomorrow's contest while Walt Tyler is hopefully scheduled to pitch Saturday's first game at noon.

DAVIS CUP

U.S. To Retain Winning Combo

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The U. S. Davis Cup team picked to defend the title it has won the last two years consists of the same players as 1969.

Edward Turville, the non-playing captain of the team, announced Wednesday Arthur Ashe, Stan Smith, Bob Lutz and Cliff Richey would be the defenders.

Which two of the four will play the four singles matches and which will play on the doubles team will not be known until the Davis Cup draw the day before the play starts here Aug. 29.

MEET GERMANS

The U. S. team will meet West Germany in the three-day matches.

In naming the four, Turville emphasized he could still make one change up to five days before the match. He suggested former Davis Cupper Clark Graebner still has a chance to play himself onto the team.

As he and Smith played singles and Smith and Lutz doubles in last year's 5-0 sweep over the challenging Romanian team. But this year the roles may be reversed.

Ashe has been inconsistent this year and Smith, troubled by a shoulder injury, also has been spotty.

Richey is a strong contender for a singles post by virtue of outstanding play this year, including three wins in four matches with Ashe.

Lutz and Smith are the most successful doubles team among the four Americans.

The West German team is the same as that of last year. Certain to play both singles and doubles are Wilhelm Bungert and Christian Kuhnke, the stars of the interzonal competion triumphs.

Substitutes named by the team are Ingo Bunding and Jurgen Fassbender.

Manson Is Hero To Hijackers Of Ship

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI)—Charles Manson is their hero. Violent revolution is their cause.

But Clyde McKay and Alvin Glatowski, the two Americans who hijacked a U.S. munitions ship to Cambodia five months ago, stand little chance of meeting Manson or joining the battle to "overthrow the pigs" they say control the United States.

They are prisoners of the Cambodian government. During the last three months McKay and Glatowski have been confined to a rusting World War II landing ship moored in the Mekong River beside the Chrui Changwar Naval Base two miles east of Phnom Penh.

American and Cambodian officials have not talked to them in an official capacity since they diverted the U.S. merchant ship Columbia Eagle, which was carrying war materials to U.S. bases in Thailand.

Silence has answered their requests for political asylum.

McKay, 26, of San Diego, Calif., and Glatowski, 20, of Long Beach, Calif., admitted in an interview that they picked the wrong time to hijack the ship. The day after they sailed the vessel into Kompong Som (Sihanoukville), the 15-year-old regime of Prince Norodom Sihanouk was overthrown and war broke out with the Vietnamese Communists.

But the two merchant marines, described by the ship's skipper as "pot-smoking, pill-popping hippies," said they have no regrets over their actions as part of a plan to set up a center here for American military deserters from Vietnam.

(Two of the crewmen on the Columbia Eagle were Marinites — first mate Herrick E. Morgan of Sausalito and chief engineer Walter Drabina of San Rafael. In an interview with the Independent-Journal in May, Morgan said that contrary to popular belief, he was convinced the ship's takeover was extensively planned.

Wearing Van Dyke style beards, the soft-spoken hijackers smoked cigarettes and drank coffee during an interview under the shade of a tree close by the ship, on which they said they were well-treated and well-fed.

McKay was dressed in fawn-colored Levis and an orange shirt in stark contrast to the blue salve that covered most of his arms and around his eyes as treatment for rashes and sores.

Glatowski, who said his wife has written to him telling that their divorce will be final next February, wore off-white jeans, a bright green T-shirt and rubber tire sole sandals.

They said they still had some of the $2,000 they brought with them, although their guards changed it for Cambodian riels at 50 riels to one U.S. dollar, 4.5 riels below the official rate and close to 50 riels under the black market rate.

Their guards, they said, bring them whatever they can pay for, including marijuana, which is in plentiful supply. "We get marijuana in our ducks' egg soup. Great flavor," Glatowski said.

They said U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom jets "go out of their way to buzz" the prison ship. "They love to harass us. We go out on deck and give them the peace sign."

On the prison ship with them, they said, are about 12 Cambodian political prisoners and a third American whom they identified as Cpl. Larry Humphrey. They said Humphrey had deserted from the U.S. Army in Thailand seven months ago. He now has yellow jaundice, but Cambodian officers refuse to allow newsmen aboard to see him, they said.

In reply to one question, McKay said: "I think we have reinforced our views since coming here. We came to a country that was neutral for a long time and it seems that through their meddling, the United States has extended the war to Cambodia.

"It seems that there is nowhwere in the world that is safe. We thought that the third world might be a refugee sooner or later. But it's not."

Glatowski said: "I am prepared to returned to the United States with a gun to participate in guerrilla warfare. Today there are many organizations in the United States having guerrilla warfare.

"The heads (drug addicts) are joining other suppressed minorities. Manson was starting that . . .
